HEALTH EDUCATION

BY DR. J. J. MIDDLETON
Provincial Board of Health, Ontario

How do communicable or infectious diseases spread? That is a question that puzzles the lay mind, and rightly so, for the question is one of great importance. Next comes the problem of preventing the spread of communicable diseases, a matter of even greater importance. Most of the communicable diseases are spread by direct contact and by direct infection, that is by transference of the infection from one individual to another. Dr. Paul Gerhard says that in the prevention and control of outbreaks, the whole municipal machinery (health, police, city engineering and public traffic departments) should hold in readiness well-considered preventive measures. The extent and nature of these necessarily depend upon the character of the community. A rural district or a small town obviously demand a somewhat different treatment than a metropolis. In all important measures efforts are concentrated along the following lines: (a) The prevention of droplet infection by sneezing, coughing, spitting, hand-shaking, etc. Such droplets are scattered about to a distance of several feet, and every drop may carry the germ. (b) The control of sputum, the avoidance of hand contamination and the contamination of eating and drinking utensils (dishes, glasses, cups, spoons, etc.). (c) Efficient organization, providing for the gathering of facts regarding cases and mortality, and preparing "pin maps" of cases of illness and of deaths; studying the collected data, requiring notification by physicians, sending sanitary inspectors to follow up the cases reported, making a house-to-house inspection of the entire city. (d) Careful instruction of the general public, of teachers in schools, of foremen in factories, of superintendents of large department stores, of theatrical managers, etc., in house and mouth hygiene by means of bulletins, pamphlets and popularly written literature. (e) Prompt destruction of all infectious matter; warning against a careless disposal of nasal discharges. Equally important administrative control measures to be taken at the first outbreak of an epidemic are: the isolation of the sick, the provision of a sufficient number of hospital beds; the avoidance of crowded gatherings, and the efficient warming (in winter) and ventilation of homes, offices, stores, workshops and means of communication. These are general considerations which are necessary before the more specific measures which have to be taken when an outbreak does occur.

A SPLENDID LAXATIVE FOR THE BABY

Mothers should constantly be on guard to keep baby's bowels working freely and his stomach sweet, for nine-tenths of the ailments from which little ones suffer are caused by derangements of the stomach and bowels. Baby's Own Tablets are a splendid laxative for the baby. They are mild but thorough; contain neither opiates nor narcotics, and are absolutely guaranteed to be safe and efficient for either the newborn babe or the growing child. By their action on the bowels and stomach they drive out constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers and make the dreaded teething period easy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

I Am the Baby.

I am the BABY.
I am the youngest institution in the world—and the blindest.
The earth is my heritage when I come into being, and when I go I leave it to the next generation of Babies.
My mission is to leave the earth a better place than I found it.
With my million little brothers and sisters I can do this, if the World does not impose too many handicaps.
Now I need PURE MILK and FRESH AIR and PLAY.
When I am a little older I shall need good Schools in which to learn the lessons of Life.
I want to live, laugh, love, work, play.

I want to hear good music, read good books, see beautiful pictures.

I want to build Houses and Roads and Railroads and Cities.

I want to walk in the woods, bathe in the waters, and play in the snow.

I am Yesterday, To-day and To-morrow.

If you will make my way easy now, I will help you when I grow up.

I am your HOPE—I AM THE BABY.

BABY WILL BE WELL AND HAPPY IF HE—Has the right food, is kept dry and clean, Sleeps alone in a quiet, cool place, is given pure, cold water to drink, Has a bath every day, Has his meals served on time, Breathes fresh air, day and night, is dressed according to the weather, is protected from flies and mosquitoes, is kept away from sick folks and crowds, Does not have to be shown off for visitors, is NOT kissed on the mouth, even by his mother.

BABY WILL BE UNHAPPY AND CROSS IF HE—Is given a pacifier, Is taken up whenever he cries, is kept up late, is bounced up and down, is dosed with medicines, is bothered by flies and mosquitoes, is allowed to go thirsty, is fed at the family table, is not kept dry and clean, is taken to the movies, is teased and made to show off, is not a FRESH AIR baby.

It is easier to keep baby well than to cure him when he gets sick.

A Friend in Need.

Reserve a small box of corks, because a cork is one of the handiest things to have around and yet usually the hardest to find.

Better April showers than the breadth of the ocean in gold—Proverbs of Ireland.

You and To-day.
With every rising of the sun
Think of your life as just begun.
The past has shrived and buried deep
All yesterdays—there let them sleep;
Nor seek to summon back one ghost
Of that innumerable host.
Concern yourself with but to-day,
Woo it and teach it to obey.
Your wish and will. Since time began
To-day has been the friend of man.
But in his blindness and his sorrow
He looks to yesterday and to-morrow.
You and to-day! a soul sublime,
And the great pregnant hour of time.

A REAL NERVE TONIC

Is a Bountiful Supply of Rich Health-Giving Blood.

Sufferers from what medical men speak of as nervous debility find themselves tired, morose, low-spirited and unable to keep their minds on anything. Any sudden noise hurts like a blow. They are full of groundless fears and cannot sleep at night. Their hands tremble, the legs feel as if they will give away following a walk or any exertion, and the mind is greatly disturbed by the most trivial incidents.

Doctored the nerves with poisonous sedatives is a terrible mistake. The only real nerve tonic is a good supply of rich, red blood. To secure this new, rich blood use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which have a direct action on the blood and through it stimulate every nerve and organ in the body. Mrs. Alpheus Merritt, Fenwick, Ont., gives her experience with this medicine as follows: "I had a nervous breakdown and was in the Welland County Hospital for some time. As I was not improving my husband took me out and took me up to my mother's. I doctored there but it did not help me. Then I returned home, and was again under a doctor's care, but with no better results. I would tremble and get numb all over, and the least noise would affect me. I was quite unable to do my housework and was in a terrible condition. Finally I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and am thankful that I did so, as after taking about a dozen boxes I was again a healthy woman. I have used the pills since while nursing my baby, with equally good results, and I strongly advise other ailing women to try them."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Six Rules of Success.
From the Oldest Book in the World. "God has drawn plans and specifications by which men may build their lives into successes," says John Edger-ton, President of the National Association of Manufacturers. "If man lives and builds according to these plans he cannot fail."
I.—He that ruleth his spirit is greater than he that taketh a city. Proverbs 16:32.
II.—Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. (Galatians 6:7).
III.—As we have opportunity, let us do good to all men. (Galatians 6:10).
IV.—And let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap if we faint not. (Galatians 6:9).
V.—If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask God, that giveth liberally and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him. (James 1:5).
VI.—Let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath. (James 1:19).

Ogden's CUT PLUG

Only in Part.

"Well, Adelle, here it is Saturday night again," said the brisk little woman who kept the one millinery shop in the village. Adelle was her only assistant and while she assisted at a moderate weekly wage was learning to make and trim and sell hats. "Time to close up. You have made a good job of that turban for Mrs. Willes, my dear. Now take this part of your week's pay and run away home." And she put the small roll of bills into the girl's hand.

Adelle saw at a glance that the bill amounted to the whole of her weekly wage. She looked up, puzzled. "You have paid me all you owe for the week!" she protested.

The little milliner laughed. "Maybe so," she agreed, "but not all in that bit of money. If you weren't getting more pay than that, you would be poorly off, child. But every day, every week, you are acquiring more and more skill in your work here. You are getting a lot of real satisfaction out of it too. You are fond of your work; I can see that. I like to think that, although you are receiving only a small money wage, you are acquiring also the skill that will earn for you a good living later on and are having a daily share of the joy of work well done."

The worker, man or woman, who gets out of his job only the contents of the weekly pay envelope, is poorly paid indeed. Yet from another point of view he is overpaid in money, for the worker who isn't so much in love with his work that he does it better every day and gets a large measure of satisfaction out of it is a poor workman. He probably doesn't fully earn the money in the pay envelope.

GREEN TEA IMPORTS LARGER.

Statistics from Ottawa show that in 1923, 553,977 pounds more Green Tea were brought into Canada than in 1921, and 906,723 pounds more than in 1922. The reason given is that the fine quality Green Teas of India and Ceylon have displaced the inferior Japan and China Greens which, due to their low price, were imported heavily some years ago. Salada Tea Company is the largest importer of India and Ceylon Green Teas.

My Northern Lights.

The concert halls are crowded close,
The city streets are filled,
Their glow gleams out above, below,
Life's pulse is swift and thrilled
While from my farmhouse window
I watch the Northern Lights go by.
The singer's voice in marvelous trill
Warms every listening heart,
Or gazing wonderers gape and thrill
At the magician's art;
From my good place beneath God's sky,
I see the Northern Lights flame high.
Far to the west the wheatfields stand,
Eastward the throbbing mart,
Off to the south a golden land
Speaks calmness to the heart,
But more alluring far, to me,
The Northern Lights' deep mystery.

CORNS

Lift Off—No Pain!

Don't hurt, don't bleed, don't bleed a little. "Freezone" is the latest corn-remover. It stands that corn stops hurting, then, simply you lift it right off with fingers. Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or callus between the toes, and the foot calms, without soreness or irritation.

EASY TRICKS Odd Or Even?

Ask a spectator to hold her hands, fingers extended, behind her back. Ask her to close into the palm an even number of fingers in one hand and an odd number in the other.
Ask her to multiply the number of fingers closed in the right hand by any odd number. Ask her to multiply the number closed in the left hand by any even number. She is now to add and to tell you the right hand figure of the total. Immediately you will know in which hand the odd number of fingers is closed.
If the number given is even, the odd number of fingers closed will be in the right hand. If the number given is odd the odd number will be in the left hand.
(Give this out and paste it, with other of the series, in a scrapbook.)

Time.

Five dull houses, five trimmed lawns,
Nine clipped maples on our block,
One small space of sky that's shut
By dingy roof tops; and the clock.
Little, packed, divided hours
Tick unceasing—time to sew,
Time to dust and time to eat,
Time to dress and time to go.
Getting late, the hours are fast,
Time to run out to the store,
Can't we catch a stealing dream?
When it's neither three nor four?

Five dull houses, five trimmed lawns,
Nine clipped maples on our block,
One shut space of life, too small
And tight for living; and the clock.

Failed to Enlighten Him.

Leaning over Blackfriars Bridge as dusk was falling a Scotchman on his first visit to London was astounded to see all the lights on the embankment flare up with one accord as if by magic. He walked up to the nearest policeman and said in surprised tones, "Tell me, mannie, wha' lichter a' the lichter?" The policeman scratched his head and thought hard. "Beg pardon, sir?" he said at last. "I was just askin' ye wha' lichter a' the lichter," repeated the visitor. The policeman was dumfounded, and at last courtesy fled from his soul. "Garn, yer Forties guese blichter, he ordered sharply. "Oppitt!"

MOTHER OF TWIN BOYS

Tell How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Her of Inflammation and Great Weakness

West St. John, N. B.—"I was in a general run-down condition following the birth of my twin boys. I had a great deal of inflammation, with pains and weakness. Finally my doctor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. He said that your medicine would be the only thing to build me up. I am sure he is right, for I am feeling much better and am gaining in weight, having gone down to ninety-three pounds. I was in bed for over a month, but am up again now. I have recommended the Vegetable Compound to my friends and give you permission to use my letter."—Mrs. ELMER A. RITCHIE, 82 Rodney St., West St. John, N. B.

There are many women who suffer from household duties almost unbearable, owing to some weakness or derangement. The trouble may be slight, yet cause such annoying symptoms as dragging pains, weakness and a run-down feeling. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It had in many cases, relieved these symptoms by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Ritchie's experience is that of many.
