Higher Phone Rates

An application has been made by the Erie Telephone company to the railway commission for an increase in rates.

The reason given is the necessity of repairing and renewing the lines of the company so that a more efficient service can be given.

No person will quarrel with plans for an improved service whether it be telephone or some other service. They will be willing to pay more if they are assured that the service will be improved, but they will object and object strongly if the rates are raised and the service made no better.

Of course, there are some people who are prone to object just because of habit, but they are not in the majority. People these days do not expect to get much for nothing. Their education along those lines during the last few years has by no means been neglected. They expect to pay and in most cases are willing to pay but they also demand the worth of their money and they are entitled to it.

If the telephone rates are increased and a better service given, there will be little objection, but if they are raised and then the company fails to fulfill its part of the bargain, the attitude of the people will be vastly different. The telephone company cannot afford to allow its lines and equipment to become obsolete and out of repair. In a few years it would be necessary to replace practically the whole of it at one time. It would be crippling and practically impossible to do so. The service would be nil and the return for the money paid by subscribers the same. It is better to pay more and get something for the amount paid than to pay a small amount and get nothing.

Be Careful Today

The question of personal safety is sometimes lost sight of in the rush and bustle of these times.

Nothing but good can come of a general exert to reduce the losses due to accidents in this country and the idea "be careful today" should be carried throughout the land.

There are too many accidents, some serious and many slight, but all costly in some form or other and nearly all preventable by the exercise of ordinary care and caution. Most of us are inclined to take chances of various kinds in an effort to save a few seconds which might better be spent in taking time to be careful.

An average of over two hundred accidents each day reported by industry for the past year to the Workmen's Compensation Board of this Province is ample evidence of the need for more care, for, contrary to general belief, most of these accidents do not involve contact with machinery. It is a fact that about one-third only of the accidents reported to the Compensation Board are mechanical accidents; the other two-thirds being non-mechanical, such as falls, burns, scratches, strains, etc., showing clearly the personal factor in accidents and demonstrating the need for more thought. The advice "Be careful today, for tomorrow may be too late" is well worth taking.

Facts and Fancies

An Easy Mark
"There's a lady up in front who wants to buy an oriental vase," said the curio dealer's assistant.

"Does she look as if she had the money?"

"Yes, but she doesn't look as if she'd had it long."

"Good. I'll wait on her myself."

Mosquitoes and Motors
He (as they sit in the dusk)—There's a mosquito buzzing around. Now he's snut on his engine.

She—Ouch! He's using my ankle as a tilting station.

Natural Surmise
Mrs. Hanton—My ancestors were among the Plymouth Rock Pilgrims.

Little Willie—Oh, now I know why ma says you're an old hen.

The Precise Reporter
Kansas paper—Ewing Herbert tried to stop a dog fight in the park Wednesday and one of the dogs bit a piece out of his new pants and his old leg.

A Snappy Comeback
Some of the English telephone girls have a pretty sharp wit—as for instance: "Have you lost your manners, miss?" asked a hectoring subscriber.

"Yes," replied the telephone girl; "if you find them, please use them."

A Suggestion
He—I have often wished I had a sister.

She—Why don't you propose to some nice girl?

Jumping to Conclusions
Bessie—Papa, are you still growing?

Father—No, my dear. Why?

Bessie (puzzled)—Because the top of your head is coming through your hair.

Safety First
"Hey, there! It is forbidden to walk on the railroad tracks."

"Have a heart! We have come here to escape the automobiles."

Don't Be a Piker
Don't worry over trifles. If you must worry, pick out something worth worrying about and then get busy.

Got a Start, Anyway
"How's that college chum of yours who wanted to be a public speaker getting on?"
"Slowly; he's addressing envelopes just at present."

BLACK CREPE FROCK HAS TUCKED SKIRT

Three deep tucks distinguish the skirt of this simple frock, which can be easily made by the home dressmaker. The pockets and cues are trimmed with points of contrasting materials, which may be brilliant patches of embroidery. Knots of narrow colored ribbons are fastened to the sides of the dress just behind the pockets.
