Therefore, I Resolve!

This is 1925. The holiday season is over and we are settling down to work, a new year. What it holds for us, only time can tell. Our success in material things, however, depends upon ourselves.

We started out with new resolutions for the new year. Probably the first one we made is that this year's Christmas shopping will be done early; following that our next annual resolution was to get a little ahead with money and not let next Christmas find us financially embarrassed.

Then we awoke sometime on New Year's morning with a terrible headache and swore "never again" with a firm resolve.

There also were many other resolutions about bringing happiness and good cheer, about this, that and the other. Some of them are broken so soon, you, even forgotten. Nevertheless we all know we are going to do better this year than last.

More than 1900 years of struggling has passed and many of us find ourselves little better off in a worldly way. Each year brings its own bright promises and bright future and each one in passing leaves its certain amount of dismay, yet we go on with the same hope, that some day our ship will come in.

That is the logical hope of every living man. At least, all men are made equal in their hoping. Those who are handicapped in one way, are given extra blessings in another. Some men and women may be born with silver spoons in their mouth; others have nothing but their bread hooped. Yet as they go through life, they must eventually reach the same end, and return to the dust from which they came.

Some, however, on their journey through this world, will take advantage of every opportunity that is presented. Others will sit here and there, caring little whether they are successes or not. Some will be deterred with physical disabilities, others will be blessed with superior intellect, but there is a place made for every decent man to fit in. As long as he takes advantage of his opportunities he is recognized by society as a man better than the one who lets his opportunities slip by and then talks about kicking himself.

That is why there are new resolutions every year. With the beginning of a new year we want to think we are beginning life all over again; in a sense we are and those good resolutions usually put us on a better way to success.

That is why we are resolved to take a chance this year. We know that there is something to taking a chance. We know that there are pioneers in every field, in every walk of life, who some time had to take a chance, and his rewards were great.

The great rail splitter president said: "I will study and some time my chance will come." That is the great song today for every man who would be a success in life, who would have something other than that earned by daily toil.

We must put by so that when a chance offers itself, we can be ready to take it. During 1925 there will be many good opportunities for honest gambles. There will be chances for us to get in on things that, when they are developed, will be money-makers for us.

Think of the money made during last year and the year before, by those who dared to take a chance.

U.F.O. PLANS SERIES OF POOLS TO MARKET CROPS

With the success of the egg pool in Ontario and the wheat pool in the West, Ontario farmers have developed a sudden fondness for pools of all descriptions. This year will be a "pool year" with the United Farmers' Co-operative Company. Not only will the egg pool be conducted in a much larger way than in 1924, but, in addition, there will be operated butter, seed, potato and turnip pools.

The pool system of commodity marketing has long been advocated, but never before has its value so definitely been proved to the producers. J. J. Morrison, secretary of the Co-operative Company, recently stated. With the proper co-operation of producers and the organization, Mr. Morrison feels sure that this latest phase of endeavor will permanently assist, if not solve, the marketing problem. If the pool system expands to the proportions farmer officials believe it will, producers will at last be placed in the long-sought position of controlling in a measure the prices of their own products.

It is confidently believed that, through the egg pool, the United Farmer will this year control the egg production of the Province, and thus to some extent, will be in a position to regulate prices. The other pools are just starting, and very rapid growth, officials say, is neither expected nor desired. As far as seeds, potatoes and turnips are concerned, the company simply will continue its operations as it has been doing, with the exception that the profits will be handed back to the producers instead of going to the company, after a fixed charge has been deducted.

There is no intention at the present time of operating a butter pool in the same way in which the egg pool is operated. The Co-operative is confining its activities in this regard to the operation of its own creamery in Toronto, which, however, is reported to be the largest butter-making plant in the Dominion.

Mr. Morrison and other U. F. O. leaders, confidently expect that within a year or two all the company's activities will be placed on a pool basis. When that time comes, the U. F. O. Co-operative will be simply a service organization, charging a fixed rate for handling commodities and handing all profits over these charges directly back to the producers.

piece, editor of the Free Press, tells the story as follows:

A lady living not many miles from Forest called at this office a year ago and ordered her Forest Free Press to be discontinued, because "we are now taking a daily paper." Last week she called again and paid for the Free Press for next year, saying that after all the home paper was the best. One of her reasons for coming to this wise decision was due to the fact that during the year the stork visited her home, and when she sent the birth notice to her daily paper she was informed that she would have to pay one dollar to have it published, and it appeared in the Free Press without any charge. She is only one of hundreds of subscribers who are realizing more than ever before that the home paper is the best paper for the home.—Simcoe Reformer.

BENTON

D. Burch and family spent New Year's at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Blayney, Lynnville.

Mrs. Roy Bancroft (Muriel Blayney) passed away at the Hamilton Hospital. Deceased underwent an operation at home and was not doing well and it was decided that she could receive better care at a hospital and was rushed to Hamilton, but all efforts failed. Deceased will be greatly missed. Deceased leaves a husband, one sister, Mrs. Harry Hall of Lynnville, and a brother, Leonard and her mother, Mrs. Henry Blayney. Interment took place at Oakwood cemetery, Simcoe, on New Year's day. The heartfelt sympathy of the neighborhood is extended to the bereaved family.

No. 13 School meeting passed off very quietly. An excellent report was read from the inspector. The school, with one exception, ranked No. 1 throughout. Mr. B. A. Bowyer was the retiring trustee, but was unanimously re-elected.

W. Shaw is away on his holidays and T. Pawl is doing his chores until his return.

Rabbits are getting more scarce all the time. A Krouse reports having secured about 40 this season so far. It's a little hard on the rabbits.

OTHER LICENSES TO BE ISSUED IMMEDIATELY

The Ontario Government has announced that the 1925 automobile licenses will not be issued until February 1st. On or before that date the agents of the department appointed for each county will be supplied with permits and plates. The terms of all 1924 licenses has been extended to that date.

The department has also announced a departure from its usual practice of forwarding a form of application to every registered motor vehicle owner. Its experience has shown that a very large percentage of these forms are treated as advertising matter and not used by the motorists when applying for their licenses.

This year the Motor Vehicles Branch is forwarding a supply of forms of application to every garage and automobile salesroom in the Province, and motorists may procure the necessary forms from these sources.

In order to speed up the issuing and distributing of permits and licenses from the head office in Toronto, the Motor Vehicles Branch is being subdivided, so that the various classes of permits and licenses will be issued by separate and distinct staffs. To this end, the department is requesting motorists to forward separate cheques with each application, or each class of application—that is, not to include in one cheque or money order fees for passenger cars and trucks or chauffeur licenses.
