KEEP THE ROADS OPEN

It should be no great problem to keep the streets in Jarvis and vicinity open for wheeled traffic in winter. The snow does not have to be taken away, as in the cities.

The road graders will do the work, after a fashion. Several towns have this opened the main roads within their territory. The same could have been done to the highway and other roads in our vicinity.

A good investment for the county would be a caterpillar tractor which would push a snowplow. Paralysis of wheeled traffic in these days is very costly.

GIVE THEM A SHOW

Rural mail carriers do not by any means have any too easy a time. One of them sends us the following suggestion as to how boxholders may facilitate the handling of mail by conforming to departmental rules:

First, all letters and parcels must be properly stamped. In many cases box holders are ignoring the regulations and putting money in with the letter, expecting the courier to buy and stamp their mail. It is optional with the courier—he can either take the money and stamp the letter or parcel or leave the money and send the parcel or letter collect, which means double postage at the other end. In most all such cases the courier wishing to accommodate the party or parties, have stamped the mail and forwarded it. The habit has grown to a great extent and the courier asks all to co-operate with them by purchasing stamps and stamping their own mail.

Another regulation is, keep your boxes turned the proper way when you have no mail for the courier to collect.

Another most important matter is to keep approach to the box clear. Boxes must be on the roadside and no ditch or ploughed ground between the road and the box.

And last, but not least, any one putting up a box on a route must make out a form and hand it to the courier or to the postmaster showing whose box and all who can get their mail in said box. Only two families are allowed to get mail out of the small or old style box, or three families out of the new box.—Advocate.

NEED A RELATIVE WAGE

Some years ago when Benjamin Harrison was running for the presidency of the U. S., one of the campaign arguments advanced against him was the allegation that he had said that a dollar a day was sufficient wage for a working man.

At that time an appeal was made to him or who unhesitatingly said, "Well, a dollar is enough if the things is the same."

That was an unanswerable argument. The man was thoughtful beyond his time. He was touching upon the broad and deep subject of a relative wage. A fixed and standardized wage would be a curse to the working man no matter at what altitude it might be placed.

Organized labor in the U. S. reached a position where it was powerful enough to force the adoption of safety appliances in dangerous occupations, more sanitary surroundings and shorter hours.

The wage question, however, must be left flexible. We hear persons say that wages of skilled workers are high now. Wages are not high or low. They are, or should be, relative to living costs. At present living costs are high and men in certain lines of unorganized and unprotected work are not getting enough for decent living.

The real question is "What will the dollar buy?"

LAST YEAR'S ACCIDENTS

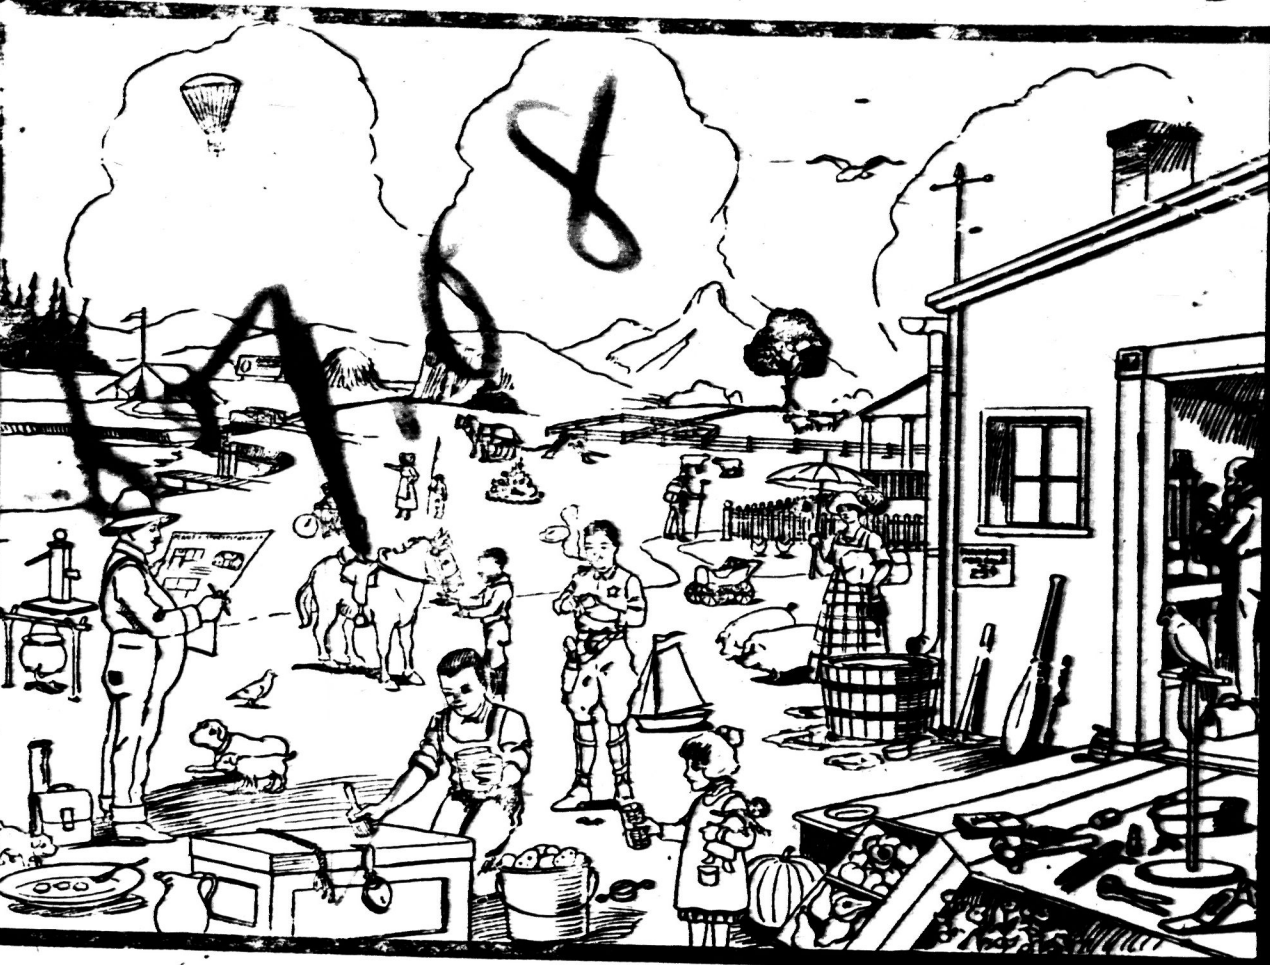

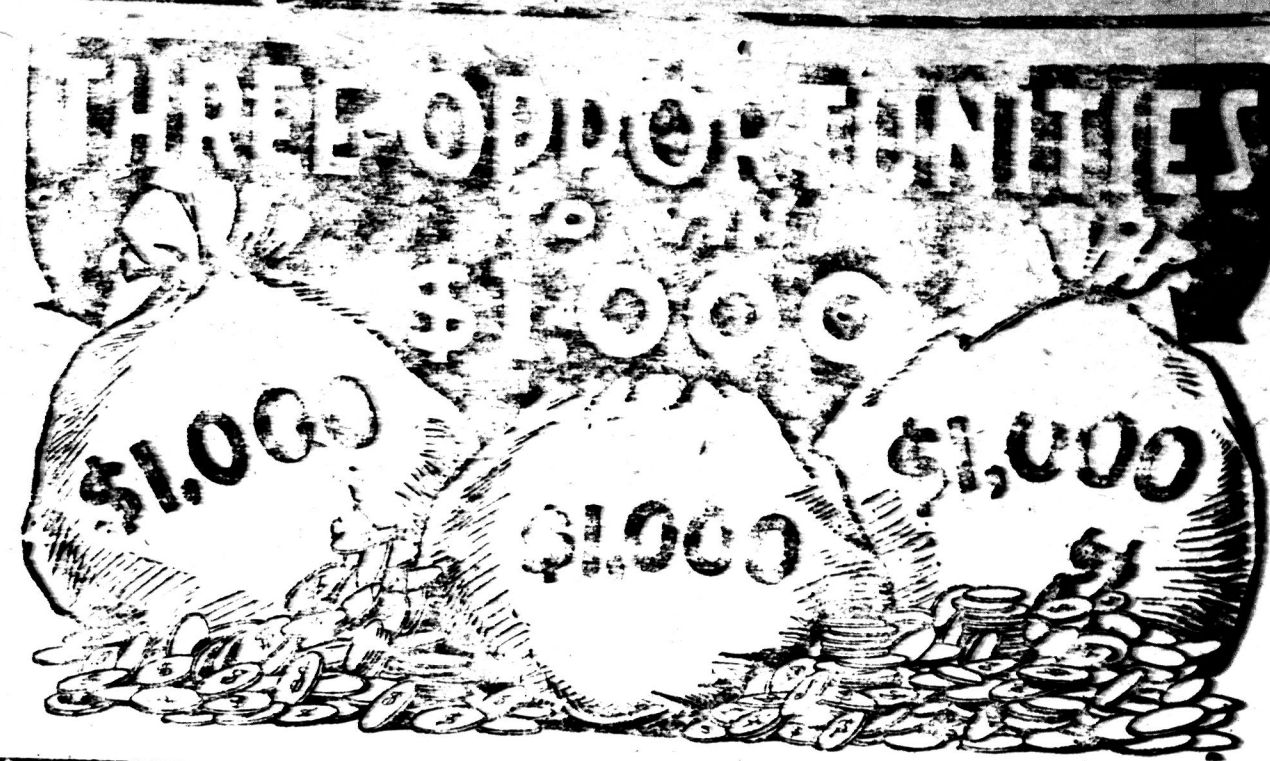

With the thirty-first of December, 1924, industry in the Province of Ontario saw the completion of the first ten years of operation of the Workmen's Compensation Act, in this province. During this ten year period 442,002 accidents to workmen in their employ were reported to the Board by employers, and of these 3,983 were fatal. In ten years over $45,937,221.06 was awarded in compensation to injured workmen and their widows and children, and in providing medical attendance, hospital and skilled nursing services and artificial limbs and appliances. This means that, roughly speaking, the average accident reported to the Workmen's Compensation Board has cost over $100.

In 1924 there was a decrease in the number of accidents from 1923. In 1924 there were 58,675 accidents, of which 402 were fatal, as compared with 61,109 of which 379 were fatal in 1923. The total benefits awarded during 1924 was $6,122,809.26, or about $50,000 less than awarded during 1923.

Industry in Ontario may feel that this toll of accidents is a heavy one, and yet on the other hand an enormous amount of good has resulted from the passing of the Compensation Act over ten years ago. The great advantages of the present system as compared with the old law are the speedy disposition of claims, the immense saving of expense to all parties concerned, the great widening of the workers protection and the immunity of the employer from individual liability. Although the Ontario Act is now the most liberal in the world, especially in cases of severe accidents, the rates of assessment paid by employers are very much less than under other systems in the adjoining States.

Accident prevention is a common problem for both employer and employee. The purchasing public is interested in the fact that over $45,000,000 had had to be provided by industry in the last ten years to pay for accidents, and it is a fact that nothing but good can come from a reduction in the accidents and consequent lowering of compensation costs.

How Many Objects in This Picture Start With the Letter "P"?

The above picture contains a number of objects beginning with the letter "P". Just take a good look at the picture—there are all sorts of things that begin with the letter "P"—"puppy", "pumpkin", "paddle", "pump", etc. Nothing is hidden; you don't have to turn the picture upside down. Make a list of all the objects in the picture the names of which begin with the letter "P". Have the whole family join in seeing who can find the most. Don't miss any. Fifty cash prizes will be awarded for the fifty best lists of words submitted. The answer having the largest and nearest correct list of best, second prize, etc.

Young and Old Join in the Fun

The Mail and Empire announces to-day another puzzle game in which all can participate—from the tiniest child to grand father and grandmother. No object is so small but that the poorest eyesight can see it. It is a test of skill. Your ability to find "P" words determines the prize you win. Right after supper this evening, gather all the members of your family together, give them a pencil and sheet of paper—and see who can find the most "P-words". You will be surprised to find how large a list of words you can get with a few minutes' study. Sit down NOW and do it. Then, send in your list and try for the big prize.

Observe These Rules

1. Any man, woman or child who lives in Canada, and is not a resident of Toronto, and who is not in the employ of The Mail and Empire, or a member of an employee's family, may submit an answer.
2. All answers must be mailed by February 7th, 1925, and addressed to: A. Montgomery, Puzzle Manager, Mail and Empire.
3. The name of the solver should be written on one side of the paper only, and numbered consecutively 1, 2, 3, etc. Write your full name and address in the upper right corner. If you desire to write anything else, use a separate sheet.
4. Only such words as appear in the English Dictionary will be accepted. Do not use obsolete words, or words of other languages. The singular cannot be counted as two words.
5. Words of the same spelling can be used only once, even though used to designate different objects or actions, or parts of objects or articles. An object or article may be named in more than one word.
6. Do not use hyphenated or compound words, or words formed by the combination of two or more complete words, where each word in itself is an object.

7. The answer having the largest and nearest correct list of names of visible objects and articles shown in the picture that begin with the letter "P" will be awarded FIRST PRIZE, and the solver will receive a $1,000 Bonus Reward, at least one new subscription and be sent in advance of $5.00 per year by mail in Canada.
8. Any number of people may co-operate in answering the puzzle, but only one prize will be awarded to more than one of any group where two or more have been working together.
9. In the event of a tie for any prize offered, the full amount of such prize will be awarded to each tied participant.
10. Subscriptions (both new and renewal), payable in advance at $5.00 per year by mail in Canada, or $6.00 per year delivered by carrier boy in Hamilton, will be accepted. However, in qualifying for the $1,000 Bonus Reward, at least one new subscription must be sent in advance of the prize.
11. A new subscriber is anyone who has not been receiving The Mail and Empire since January 1924. Answers will receive the same consideration regardless of whether or not a subscription to The Mail and Empire is sent in.
12. All new subscriptions will be carefully verified by the Puzzle Manager. Candidates marking old subscriptions as new will positively forfeit the credit of such subscriptions as qualifying for the Maximum Bonus Reward.
13. Three prominent Toronto citizens, having no connection with The Mail and Empire, will be selected to act as judges to decide the winners, and participate by sending in their lists agree to accept the decision of the judges as final and conclusive.
14. The judges will meet on February 19th, and announcement of the Prize Winners and correct list of words will be published in The Mail and Empire as quickly thereafter as possible.
