MIDNIGHT BLAZE CAUSES BIG LOSS

FEED BARN AND STABLES TOTALLY DESTROYED—LOSS ESTIMATED AT $8,000

On Saturday last, shortly before midnight, the residents of the village were roused out of their first slumbers by the call of fire and the peals of the fire bell, when fire was discovered in the feed barn of Bob Horn.

By the time the chemical engine arrived on the scene, the fire was already beyond the range of control and all efforts were put forth to keep the adjoining building, Carter's hardware store and residence, from taking fire. Had there been any wind of consequence, no doubt these buildings would also have been doomed to destruction.

At one time both these buildings were seriously threatened, the intense heat setting fire on several occasions to the cornice work of the hardware store, but with the aid of the chemical and bucket brigade was each time promptly extinguished.

Call for assistance was sent to Hagerville, but on the arrival of the pumper (which made record speed), the flames were already under control, and three rousing cheers were given in honor of Hagerville. All that was necessary now was to keep watch should a wind arise and start the burning embers.

Fortunately the barn was practically unoccupied. A horse belonging to Mr. Tanner and Honey's truck were removed from the barn in time, and the only vehicle consigned to the flames was Bob Horn's car, which could not be removed as one of the wheels were missing.

The origin of the fire will no doubt remain a mystery. The loss of the feed barn will be keenly felt in the village and doubts are entertained as to the construction of a new one, at least by the owner of the property.

The property which consisted of a large feed barn and 25 small stables was valued at $8,000, which was only partially covered by insurance.

POPULAR COUPLE SHOWERED

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Davidson, Walpole, was the scene of a happy event on Thursday evening last, when the numerous friends of the prospective bride and groom, Clara Effie Davidson and David John Dellar, met and presented them with a miscellaneous shower of generous and well-chosen gifts.

After a social time, the happy couple were presented with the gifts. Previous to the presentation, Rev. W. T. Brown paid a well deserved tribute to the worth and work of Miss Davidson, both as a choir member, and Sabbath School teacher, and wished her many happy years of married life.

The gifts, which were both varied and numerous, spoke well of the esteem in which Miss Davidson was held both in the church and in the community at large.

Following the unwrapping of the gifts, Miss Davidson and Mr. Dellar suitably acknowledged the kindness of the friends and then luncheon was served, after which the party dispersed.

These friends were of the Presbyterian Church, Jarvis, and of S. S. No. 21, Walpole, where the bride has given faithful and efficient service as a teacher for six years.

In the afternoon of the same day, her pupils presented her with a box of table linen and an address which she will preserve as one of her treasured possessions.

On Friday a very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Belback, when the members of the "Young Peoples' class" of Wesley Church and other friends, numbering over 80, met and showered Jack Dellar and Effie Davidson with many beautiful gifts.

The evening was spent in games and music, after which lunch was served. The evening closed by singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

BEEKEEPERS HOLD PICNIC

Beekeepers, some accompanied by their wives and others with their families, from the counties of Haldimand, Norfolk and Brant, gathered at the Hodgson Bros. Apiary, about a mile west of Jarvis, on July 1st, to enjoy a meeting which took the form of a basket picnic.

By noon a large number had assembled and lunch was indulged in, the hosts serving tea.

Among those entertained at a luncheon by the hosts and seated at a table laden with an excellent repast included the Hon. J. S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture; Mr. F. E. Miller, Provincial Apiarist; Mr. F. E. Krouse, President of the Ontario Honey Producers Co-operative; Mr. A. G. Halstead, Manager of the Ontario Honey Producers Co-operative; Mr. Wm. A. Weir, Sec.-Treas. of the Ontario Honey Producers Co-operative; Mr. Morley Pettit, Mr. Binaard, Mr. Dunn, Mr. Cryder, Mr. C. E. Bourne (the oldest beekeeper in the province), Mr. W. Hoebel and Mr. A. F. Hodgson.

After luncheon all assembled to listen to the various speakers on the program. Mr. Miller, who acted as chairman, after brief remarks introduced the first speaker, the Hon. J. S. Martin, who spoke on co-operative marketing. During his address he pointed out the importance of the stay had to be brief, the beekeepers felt highly honored by his presence. Mr. Halstead was called upon and acquainted those present with the ins and outs of the exportation of honey. He was followed by Mr. Pettit, who gave an interesting talk on the various phases of bee handling. Mr. Weir then called upon, who gave very pointed advice re grading and the shipping of honey. Mr. Hoebel also made brief remarks on the grading of honey for shipment to the factory at Dunnville.

The crowd was next treated to a demonstration by Hodgson Bros. of their new uncapping machine, an invention of Mr. A. F. Hodgson. Keen interest was displayed and all were very favorably impressed with the excellent working qualities of the uncapper. This machine automatically removes the capping from both sides of the comb simultaneously.

The extracting of honey was also demonstrated, during which 36 frames were extracted in one operation. This machine is also an invention of Mr. A. F. Hodgson. The present style of machines extract only one side at a time and the largest capacity is only 8 frames, while this machine extracts both sides of the comb simultaneously and holds 36 frames.

Messrs. Bart F. and Bart Lobee, of the Lobee Pump and Machinery Co., of Buffalo, N. Y., manufacturers of pumps and rotary machines, came to see these new type machines demonstrated, and were greatly impressed by the demonstration, and are seriously considering the manufacturing of same in Canada.

This was followed by an exhibition of an Italian and Carniolan colony of bees. Mr. Miller, assisted by Mr. Bibebe, explained the difference and merits of each, which concluded the program.

This was the largest field meet held by the association, over 350 bee enthusiasts being present. Taken all in all, a most profitable and enjoyable outing was spent by all. Many were the expressions of the kind hospitality shown the guests by the hosts.

DIVINE SERVICE FOR MASONS

King Solomon Lodge, A.F. & A.M., No. 329, Jarvis, Ont., observed its semi-centennial anniversary with a church parade on Sunday, June 28th, at 7 p.m.

The members of the lodge, along with visiting brethren from Port Dover and Hagerville, paraded to Knox Church, where Bro. Rev. W. T. Brown delivered an address on "Builders, or Lessons From the Building of the Temple."

Bro. Brown told the story of the Temple, making mention of the three great names connected with its building: Solomon, who built it; Hiram, King of Tyre, who helped by loaning men and sending material, and Hiram, the widow's son, who did the delicate work of decoration. Masonry, he said, had seized upon this event and spiritualized it. All men were builders, builders of the temple of life and character, and the function of Masonry was to make men true builders in the noblest and best sense of the word.

Taking the work of King Solomon then, he went on to say, that no life temple could be properly built unless the foundations were secure. Solomon went down to the rock and so must every man go down to the bedrock of truth and justice or else his building will fall.

Again, Solomon scorned anything but second-rate timber or stone to find its way into the building; and so in character building a man was foolish to build with anything but the very best materials. Truth, virtue, honesty; these were the materials to build with.

In the quiet, silent way in which the Temple was built, without shouting or sound or tool, the speaker also saw a significant fact. The best builders are not those who make most ado, or appear to be hardest at work. The silent, quiet, unostentatious builder is the one who builds best.

Solomon supported his temple with many pillars, three of which were famous. They were called Wisdom, Strength and Beauty. But what was wisdom, but a love for justice and truth; what was strength, but an all powerful spirit of brotherhood; what was beauty, but the life of service and sacrifice. Supported by these pillars any temple was bound to stand.

proportioned and noted for its symmetry. So life to be worth while must be evenly developed—without any one side higher than the other. Be temperate in all things—learn the happy medium, live the balanced life; that too, was a message from the Temple.

Lastly, and it was most important, in the centre of heart of the Temple was the Holy of Holies—the place where God was to be met; and so no life temple could ever be built that had not religion as its centre. A deep reverence for God and a love for our fellow men, that was what Masonry called for in the man who would be a master builder.

Concluding, the speaker said: "Yes, we are all builders of the Temple of life and character. Life and its experiences supplies us with the materials wherewith to build; and our task out of the imperfect stones of our desires, aspirations and characteristics, to hew and fashion and square the perfect stone, which, when brought together will make the Temple beautiful and which will earn for us a place in the Kingdom of the Master Builder the great commendation, 'Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord.'"

The choir gave two appropriate selections during the service, and Mr. Eugene Hoover sang very acceptably "My Pilot."

A very large congregation was present at the service.

Everybody welcome.

DELLAR-DAVIDSON

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Tuesday afternoon, June 30th, at 3 p.m., in the presence of a large congregation in Knox Church, Jarvis, when Miss Clara Effie Davidson, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Davidson of Walpole, was united in marriage to Mr. John Dellar, son of Mr. H. Church, of Detroit, Mich.

The nuptial ceremony was performed by the Rev. Howard L. Roberts, M.A. B.D., of Niagara Falls, cousin of the bride, assisted by the Rev. W. T. Brown.

The church was tastefully decorated with flowers, ferns and plants, and presented a very pleasing appearance when the bride entered to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Meta MacMurphy.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was dressed in an ensemble suit of sand and burnt orange, with hat to match, and wore a pearl sunburst, the gift of the groom. She was attended by her sister, Miss Alberta Davidson, who wore a dress of shrim, georgette, with a hat of black mohair.

The groom was supported by Mr. Roy Hendrick of Preston, while the ushers were Messrs. Charles and Harold Davidson and Russ and Lem Jones. During the signing of the register Mr. Franklin Moore sang, "O Promise Me."

After receiving the hearty congratulations of their friends, the happy couple left by motor for Toronto and Muskoka. On their return they will reside in Jarvis.

The following gifts were made by the groom: to the pianist, a bag pin; to the bridesmaid, an emerald and pearl ring; and to the groomsmen and soloist, cuff links.
