PROGRESSIVES WAITING FOR EVIDENCE
Outside the Conservative ranks the objections taken to the plan are on the ground that it will involve the subsidizing of a fleet of vessels to compete with the ships of the North Atlantic Conference. Many in the House dislike the idea of a subsidy and some Progressives have openly stated that they would stoutly oppose the introduction of the principle of a subsidy. On the whole, the Progressives are withholding their views of the plan until there is opportunity of studying the evidence to be submitted to the special committee. If that committee's efforts result in firmly establishing the accuracy of the facts and figures contained in both the Preston report and the report of the Special Committee two sessions ago then they will support the Government in its stand. In fact, the Progressive members of the McMaster Committee were most active in efforts to get evidence from the steamship people when that committee was functioning, and are very anxious that the plan can be made to work so that the marketing of their wheat and cattle in the European centres may be made less costly.

CURBING THE HAND BOOK
MEN
Some clever skirmishing for position marked the debate on Monday following the motion of W. C. Good, Progressive member for Brant, that public gambling at racetracks be abolished. After he had presented his case in support of his resolution Fred Stork, Liberal member for Skeena, B. moving an amendment aiming at the prohibition of the hand book business which, as a matter of fact, thrives best when the races are farthest away from the scene of the betting. Contending that the subject matter of the Stork amendment was not revealing to the subject matter of his own resolution, Mr. Good appealed to the Chair against permitting that amendment. The Chair, occupied at the time by Deputy-Speaker G. N. Gordon, of Peterboro, ruled that the amendment was in order and, on the Chair's ruling being challenged, a vote of the House was taken which resulted in sustaining the Chair. Then later came an amendment to the amendment by A. M. Neill, member for Comox-Alberni, calling for the prohibition of pari-mutuels at Canadian racetracks.

Late in the evening the House voted in the Neill sub-amendment which was defeated by a poll of 97 to 86.
Then the Stork amendment was carried by a vote of 108 to 74. Following this vote, J. L. Brown, Progressive member for Lisgar, moved another amendment to the Stork motion and aimed to prohibit gambling not only at racetracks but also outside of racetracks. This was voted down by a poll of 92 to 77. The net result of the motions and amendments and the voting thereon was that the House approved of the legislation introduced two years ago by Sir Lomer Gouin, then Minister of Justice, to amend the Criminal Code with a view to curb it not eliminate the hand book business. That legislation was rejected by the Senate and a few days ago Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, announced his intention of reintroducing at an early date the same Criminal Code amendment.

RUM-RUNNING TREATY
RATIFIED
General approval of the Dominion Government's efforts to co-operate with the United States Government in checking the growing evil of smuggling across the border—especially liquor and narcotics—was evident on Tuesday when the Prime Minister submitted to the House his resolution providing for the ratification of the Canadian Parliament of the proposed treaty between the two countries which has already been ratified by the United States Congress. The treaty will be in force for one year, according to the Prime Minister, and thereafter subject to 30 days' notice. It will become effective ten days after it has been ratified by the Canadian Parliament and after the exchange of ratifications between the two governments. By providing for close cooperation between the officials of the two countries it will make much easier the suppression of the international liquor of narcotics and of merchandise across the international border and will be a long step toward putting a stop to the degradation of "ports" or towns along the Canadian shores of the Great Lakes that have been made the base of operations for rum-runners, and also toward removing the causes for irritation between the two countries in this matter.

NEWSPAPERS
Any person who takes a paper regularly from the post office, whether addressed in his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for payment. If a person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and then collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken or not. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the post office, or removing and leaving them unpaid, is prima facie evidence of intention of fraud.
