D.N.G. CO. HEARING POSTPONED

CASE SET BACK TILL NOV. 17—MUST OPEN THE BOOKS TO ACCOUNTANT

SIMCOE, Sept. 22.—Mayor Burt, H. P. Innes, K.C.; Warden William Roney, J. McDonald, Frank Reid and the crown attorney of Norfolk County, were up to Brantford today attending respondents' hearing before the referee, G. F. Henderson, K.C., of Ottawa, of an application of the Dominion Natural Gas Company for permission to increase the rates for natural gas over Norfolk and Haldimand counties and some adjacent municipalities which were also represented.

The respondents advised that they had engaged appraisers and accountants with a view to ascertaining what profits the company was making, and that they had not sufficient time to complete the work nor sufficient data from the company. The referee observed that this was the first instance in which the municipalities had come to his assistance and suggested that the investigation show what price of gas will insure the continuance of the industry at a fair dividend on the actual capital stock in the business or that the stock may be put on the market, if desired, with a reasonable chance of fair sale.

He ordered that, to this end, the company's books be laid open to the accountant for the municipalities and that he be given every assistance by the gas company in preparing his report. Heretofore the gas company has staked its claims on a scientific comparison of coal and gas as to calorific content and the price of coal, and the data submitted shows that in the past dividends have at times been abnormal, the municipal officials feel. The case was set back till Tuesday, November 17th, at 2 p.m.—The Free Press, London.

MRS. R. RICHARDSON WEBS IN ST. JOSEPH

The St. Joseph, Mich., Daily News publishes the following account of the marriage of a former Bad Axe girl, who is well-known in Nanticoke and district.

Miss Richardson graduated from Bad Axe high school six years ago. Her parents live in Bloomfield Township.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Richardson, St. Joseph city school nurse and welfare nurse, and Frank Meech of this city, junior member of the firm Meech, Arnold & Meech, contractors, was solemnized at high noon Wednesday, Sept. 2nd, in Detroit.

At Trinity Episcopal church before a company of guests from the Twin Cities, Bad Axe, Ann Arbor and Detroit, the marriage service was read by Rev. L. B. Wittermore.

The bride was lovely in an important wedding gown of Elizabeth crepe with satin petals, exquisitely embroidered with pearls. It was made with court train of satin and lace and the full bridal veil was fastened with a coronet of Duchess lace embroidered in pearls.

The costumes of the maid of honor, the bridesmaids and the flower girls were in delicate pastel shades, carrying out a charming color scheme of rainbow tints.

Miss Mae Richardson, of Bad Axe, sister of the bride, wore peach chiffon, and the Misses Nina and Anne Meech, sisters of the groom, were attired in pale blue and pink chiffon.

The flower girls, Ellen Marie and Anne Mae Murphy, of Detroit, were in yellow and orchid; while Billy Murphy, as ring bearer, wore white satin blouse and trousers.

Elbert Cummings, of Detroit, assisted the groom as best man. The ushers were Lloyd Carpenter and Helge Wargen of Ann Arbor.

The bride was given away by her father, Ernest Richardson, of Bad Axe.

A luncheon at the Tuller hotel for 28 guests followed the ceremony.

After a motor trip through the northern peninsula and Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. Meech will make their home in St. Joseph, where the bride has made a large circle of friends.

For more than a year she has been connected with the city schools and has taken an active part in the work of this department of service, assisting with the regularly weekly baby welfare clinics and addressing the various parent-teacher organizations of St. Joseph on welfare work in the schools.

Mr. Meech has for several years been a member of the firm Meech, Arnold & Meech. He is a member of the St. Joseph Kiwanis club, of which he has the distinction of being the youngest member.

SUNSHINE CLASS ENTERTAINED

The Sunshine class of the Baptist Sunday School, Cheap-side, with their teacher were entertained at the home of Mr. Frank Booth on Saturday afternoon last.

After a splendid program had been given by the class, Miss Luella Booth brought on a contest, which had taken a great deal of trouble and time in composing. It consisted of four things, and each thing comprised 11 different ones—something you tasted, smelt, seen and felt. Miss Viola Forsythe received the first prize and Isa Buckley the lowest, after which a dainty luncheon was served. The class then gave a hearty vote of thanks to the Booth family for the splendid way in which they were entertained, and all present enjoyed a good time.

ROBINSON BUSINESS COLLEGE OPENS NEW CLASSES
