Progress in farm field work in the coming months depends largely on the condition of the work horses. Soft from the winter's rest, farm work horses require conditioning just as an athlete requires training for his test.

Every farmer knows that two or three weeks spent in a gradual toughening and conditioning of a horse for the heavy work is more than made up before the season of heavy field work is over. Not only does this conditioning include breaking them in to the long hours of hard pull that they must undergo, but applies as well to breaking them in to a working ration.

It is poor practice to allow a horse to pasture on much new lush grass if he is to go on a strenuous work schedule. A little grass is good for him, helps to condition him, but he must have oats, bran or old corn, or still better, a combination of the three and good sound hay. These are the best possible rations in the spring and early summer. The horse that is fed a major ration of grass soon gets soft, sweats profusely, lags and quickly plays out. Oats, bran, corn and hay will give him stamina and leave him in the best condition at the end of the day.

By treating old Dobbin fairly, getting him ready for spring work with daily exercise, keeping him thoroughly groomed, especially while shedding, and a work ration instead of his winter feed will pay big dividends in a short time.

If the horse takes a long time to shed his coat, this can be facilitated by thorough, frequent grooming and if this does not do the work, a clipping all over will help him through the shedding period.

After the horse has started to work in the field, it is advisable to bathe the shoulders and neck two or three times daily with cold, soft, salty water or with white oak bark tea which toughens and cleanses the chafed parts.

A prominent veterinarian states that excessive sweating is remedied by clipping the horse. Excessive sweating weakens the animal and it is doubtless quite advisable to clip him to relieve this condition. It is also true that this practice enables the horse to be thoroughly groomed in much less time than when it retains its long winter coat of shaggy hair.

YOUNG PARENTS LOSE ONLY SON

A very sad accident occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Reynolds on Wednesday morning, April 15th, when their only son, Jackie, aged 2 years and 2 months, was badly scalded.

The mother was taking a pail of hot water to the barn setting it down a few minutes to put her rubbers on Jackie, playing with his kitten, backed up, sitting down in the pail. His clothes were removed at once, but the woolen clothing had held the heat causing severe scalds. Medical aid, and a nurse was summoned at once, but due to the shock and convulsions the little fellow passed peacefully away at 5 a.m.

The funeral was held on Sunday, April 18th. A short service at the house, followed by a service in the United Church at Jarvis, where a large concord of sorrowing friends listened to a very appropriate sermon by the Rev. H. Brand, assisted by Rev. W. T. Brown, after which interment took place in the United Church cemetery.

The many and beautiful floral offerings were from the following: Anchor, Mother and Daddy; sprays: Grandma and Grandpa Reynolds; Grandpa Biggar, Mr. and Mrs. M. Biggar, Mr. and Mrs. T. CHURCH NOTES

KNOX PRESBYTERIAN

During the past years observers have noted the fact that the church appears to be losing its power to attract thinking men to its services of worship. One of the reasons given is that men who think, cannot give assent to some of the doctrines and dogmas that the church holds as essential. They hesitate to be branded as heretics and therefore they absent themselves from the services of worship. But such men often, though they are not conscious of the fact, are not heretics at all. The one Standard of Judgement that all heresy must be tried by is the Standard of Jesus. That standard might surprise many orthodox people by its broadness and its unlikeliness to theirs. If you are in doubt about the matter, come to the services on Sunday next, when the question of the real heretic will be discussed in the light of the Master's teaching—the result may surprise YOU. This is the first of a series of sermons on "Vital Questions in Religion."
