LOCAL GIRL WINS DOMINION HONORS

Residents of Jarvis and district, and all other friends near and far, will be pleased to learn of the success of Miss Myrtle E. Hare, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hare.

In the recent examinations in connection with the Toronto Conservatory of Music, Miss Hare was awarded the Toronto Conservatory's Gold Medal for the Licentiate (L. T. C.M.). This award is given to the singer who takes the highest place in the Dominion in this examination, and places the holder in the first rank of contralto soloists.

In addition, Miss Hare was awarded the Silver Medal in Senior High Singing, but on account of the Conservatory regulations, which prohibit the student gaining the Gold Medal from holding any other, this medal goes by reversion to the student next highest in standing.

The Record joins with her many friends in congratulating this talented young singer, who by her success has brought great credit not only to herself but to Jarvis and locality.

The latter was made up of a baggage and express car, a tourist car, dining car, four standard sleepers and a combined library and observation car. An electrician and a mechanic are carried on the train crew in the event of repairs having to be made. M. P. DOWNPOUR MARES THE BIG STREET CARNIVAL

Large Crowd disappointed When the Weatherman Puts a Dampner on the Frolic—To Hold Carnival on August 26th

Everything was in readiness for a big time on Friday night last. A large crowd had gathered by about 9 o'clock, when the skies seemed threatening. The Simcoe orchestra was on deck and began to play, but the bands engaged were delaying their journey to Jarvis pending the outcome of the weather. A short hour afterwards the clouds broke and the rain began to fall. A large number followed the orchestra to the arena, which Messrs. Hodges and McMillen kindly gave permission to use. The storm grew worse every moment and owing to the strong lightning, the hydro was turned off. This left everything in darkness and everybody was forced to proceed to their respective places.

At the regular meeting of the Brigade held on Tuesday evening, it was decided to hold another street carnival on August 26th. A band from Hamilton will be engaged, also a special orchestra, and it is proposed to make this carnival even bigger and better than had been arranged for on Friday last.

The Brigade hereby wish to thank Messrs. Hodges and McMillen for their kindness in giving them permission to use the arena.

W. I. COMMUNITY PICNIC

The Jarvis Women's Institute will hold a Community Picnic on the Arena grounds on Thursday, August 12th. Everybody welcome. Come and bring your basket.

THE EVANS-JACKSON PICNIC

Dawn broke at last and the long-looked-for day, Wednesday, August 4th, was ushered in along with the promise of a bright, sunny day. There arose a sigh of relief from many hearts as the different members of the two families—the Evans' and the Jacksons—hurried out to make ready their Henry or their Mac for the proposed trip. And do you ask what was the destination of each car as it rattled forth, well laden with picnickers and filled baskets? Why, Hickory Beach, Nanticoke, the usual grounds for this happy annual event.

Twelve o'clock sharp was the hour set for the chicken dinner; but for some unaccountable reason one proved to be the time. Probably it was because the game of quots, begun by Jim Jackson as soon as enough men had gathered to form the necessary quartet, lasted longer than they had expected. Or, it may have been that the waitresses were taking a long time to carve the chicken and unpack the baskets. When the call for dinner was finally heard, about one hundred people came flocking from all directions to do ample justice to the well-set tables.

After one and all had succeeded in satisfying the inner man, the crowd began to scatter once more. Some went to take part in or watch the ball game, staged by the men at the western side of the grounds; some returned to the quots; others remained around the tables to visit and talk over the events of the past year and to welcome the newcomers who were (Continued on Page 4)

WARREN STRINGER IS U. F. O. NOMINEE

Former M.L.A. To Be Candidate in Haldimand—W. C. Good Is the Speaker—Largely Attended

At a largely-attended and representative convention of the independent electors of Haldimand County, held in the Court House, Cayuga, on Thursday, August 5th, Mr. Warren Stringer was chosen to contest the constituency in the coming Federal Election.

Mr. W. C. Good, of Brant County, gave a very interesting address. The speaker cited many examples of our past parliamentary procedures to show that the present absolute form of party government is a very heavy handicap to our nation. Mr. Good appealed to all independent electors to vote for a strong and honorable person that could truly represent them in Parliament.

FIREMEN TALK RATES TO GET PROTECTION

Prohibitive Insurance Rate Would Compel Support of Brigades—Rapp Municipal Councils

Brampton, July 31.—Delegates to the provincial firemen's convention being held here discussed at length insurance problems at the first session of the convention yesterday afternoon in the Odd Fellows' Hall, and suggestions that a fund be created by the association whereby the premiums would be paid by municipal councils into this fund, and when a sufficient reserve was built up the premium could be reduced or municipalities could be relieved of further payments until necessary, met with general approval.

The present plan is for municipalities to insure their own firemen and in some respects certain municipalities neglected to do this. Legislation would have to be enacted by the government before this scheme could be adopted.

That insurance companies should compel villages to have fire brigades by striking a prohibitive rate, was the drastic measure suggested by one delegate. Discussion on insurance continued at this morning's session.

The slow growth of the membership of the association was a subject for much discussion, and it was emphasized by several delegates that an organizer should be appointed to cover the province. Samuel Wicks, Swansea, chairman of the membership committee, in reporting a tour of the province he had just completed, said that he found no two towns on the same organization plans. Villages were very lax in their attempts for fire prevention, and he cited two villages, Bradford and Sutton. Bradford's fire protection is covered by a grant of $117, and that of Sutton $40.

If some places wanted to take part in this convention, it was necessary for them to raise funds by a garden party or some other forms of entertainment. Towns and villages in many parts of the province provided no funds for their fire brigades, by no means a compliment to the business sagacity of the councils. He stressed the need of legislation, the adoption of a mill rate whereby the funds for fire-fighting would come out of the taxes.

DO YOU WANT SUCCESS?

We do not claim to have a monopoly on Success or the way to Success—but we do claim that, during the past thirteen years, we have made it possible for about eight hundred young men and young women to step out of school directly into the Business World, and many of these have won distinction.

Starting out as bookkeepers, stenographers, billing or filing clerks, they have become accountants, secretaries and managers, and they are all pleased to state that the Robinson Schools gave them the start.

The Robinson Business College, Limited is capitalized at $25,000; has six first-class schools—Waterford, Brantford, Simcoe, Dunnville, Tillsonburg and Norwich—and every school bears the Robinson stamp of thoroughness.

Have you received our new College Journal? It's free. Fall Term opens Monday, August 30. Attend the Robinson school most convenient for you. The Waterford and Simcoe Schools are under the principalship of O. U. Robinson (Secretary-Treasurer) and J. H. Bowden (President) as formerly, and both schools have competent staffs—the best we can procure. Telephone 98, Waterford, or 287 W. Simcoe, for full information.
