SELF SERVICE

Many good folk are lamenting the passing of the era when men and women consecrated their lives to unselfish service and prepared themselves to become ministers, missionaries, teachers or country doctors that they might administer to the spiritual, mental and physical needs of humanity without thought of large worldly gain. They are not in error when they charge that modern men and women are choosing vocations today in which they can do the greatest service to themselves.

People today are coming to the belief that the best way they can help others is to produce much that their profit shall be large and that they shall never become dependent upon society. The old idea of service was direct. The new service is indirect. Twenty years ago it was still thought that only the ministers, doctors and teachers served humanity. Today every workman who carries his whole day's wage home is known to have earned that wage in service to society.

Albert Hubbard's version of the Golden Rule was, "Do unto others as though you were the others," but an even more up-to-date version is "Do yourself much good and no bad to others." Getting something for yourself is reprehensible only when it is gotten at the expense of another.

SEEKING KNOWLEDGE

The chautauqua speaker gets his audience into a receptive mood with assurances (given in all seriousness) that he has never looked down into so many intelligent faces, whereupon everybody calls him a jollier and all straighten up in their chairs with care parked forward to prove they are intelligent by hearing and understanding everything the speaker has to say.

This brand of lecture platform sycophant is manifestly insincere, because he tells every audience the same thing, but through its reaction to the platform lecturer the public is exhibiting a greater seriousness of mind, which is an attribute of intelligence. The manner in which the public has reacted to the lecture platform is told graphically by the director of a large lecture bureau. He

BETTER HIRE AN AIRPANE

No doubt married men get love-sick. We notice that Pete keeps on whistling and humming that "Prisoner's Song"—"If I had the wings of an angel," etc. That's all right, but just imagine Pete with a pair of wings!

STRIVES TO PLEASE

A dejected man entered and said to the clerk:
"I want a quarter's worth of carbolic acid."
"Sorry," said Bob; "you got into the wrong store. We deal only in hardware, but we have a choice line of ropes, razors and revolvers."

announces that in the past five years his bureau has received only one request for a humorist and that the lecturers who bring with them the most information are the most in demand.

The Canadian people today will not listen to talkers who are just talkers, but they will go miles to hear a man with something to say. The small town also patronizes the lecturer on European conditions, world peace and even profound psychological and sociological questions. The growth of the nation and the advancement of education have awakened in the public mind a desire for information, facts, opinion and deep, serious thought. The public now goes to the lecture hall for mental improvement.

ADVERTISING AND PROGRESS

Advertising has proven itself to be the barometer of progress.

It has not been long since business advertising was as severely criticised and ridiculed as boasting of personal qualifications. At the same time there was as little faith in the claims of advertisements as in the claims of the braggart. Only the quack and the impostor, who had everything to gain and nothing to lose, then resorted to advertising.

Business is ever the standard bearer and apostle of progress, and so it was business which discovered that advertising was a vital factor in all growth. When advertising was admitted to the fireside of business it was not the big business of today. Big business traces its beginning with its employment of advertising.

In its conversion to advertising business was soon followed by industry, commerce and the professions. The benefits of advertising had made themselves manifest in each step forward.

That was the evolution of advertising, until today advertising plays a part in every phase of life and is the working instrument of all except the doctor and the lawyer, who still consider it "unethical" to advertise for business. He may place his "card" in the weekly newspaper in patronage of the publisher, but it is professionally forbidden for the doctor or the lawyer to inform the public of his capabilities.

Nothing in life has attained perfection and evolution as an eternal, ever-continuing advancement. The evolution of advertising will not stop with its adoption by medicine and jurisprudence, but that adoption will establish another milestone of progress.

The inevitable: A lazy man's alibi.

The greatest place on earth is usually some other place.

No matter which way you drive, if you don't drive the right way it may be the way to jail.

The nice thing about being a man is you don't have to stay home after you wash your head.

It may be that the mills of the gods grind slowly because they get paid for overtime.

An eye-specialist says green quiets the nerves. This is especially true of green backs.

And so the earth is losing speed. Well, that sounds hopeful. Perhaps it is on the up-grade.

or when partially raised, quiet-acting, Ternstedt Window Regulators and fine upholstery. Open models have deep cushions and full vision windshield.

Because of its compactness and easy steering, the New Chevrolet can be turned in the width of the average street and easily parked in a limited space.

Springs have been designed specially for balloon tires, so that the Chevrolet has a new degree of roadability.

Other improvements of major importance are an air cleaner which makes for longer engine life, a new oil pump which assures more positive lubrication, a dry-disc clutch which makes for smoothness in changing gears, and larger-surface brakes.

From the standpoint of the average motorist one of the most satisfactory features of the new Chevrolet is the high mileage per gallon of gasoline. Reports of 30 to 35 miles per gallon are not unusual.

coming for about three weeks. He intends to visit in the district for a few days before returning home.

Mr. Carter, of the Bank of Commerce, Hagersville, and Miss Grace Jennings, of Wellesley hospital, Toronto, were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. R. Rodgers.

The burial took place in the Presbyterian cemetery of Miss Wilson, who died recently in Hamilton on Wednesday. Deceased was a sister of the late Mrs. John Crawford.

The Jarvis W. I. held the community picnic on Thursday, August 12th, in the arena, owing to the wet condition of the park grounds. Everyone present reported a very enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Fed Newman and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Newman of Drumbo, returned last week-end from an extended motor trip to the U.S. and eastern Canadian points. The latter are visiting here and intend to leave for their home on Friday.

OXYGEN RESPONSIBLE FOR CORROSION IN CANNING

Fopd that had been canned for six years was opened recently and tested by a Dutch physician, Van Leersum. It was a meat hash, including onions and potatoes, and the doctor's conclusion was that the food was quite suitable for human consumption.

The essential thing in canning, Dr. Van Leersum decided, was that all the air should be exhausted from the can in sealing. Oxygen, he said, was responsible for any corrosion that occurred.
