A very pleasant function took place in the schoolroom of Knox Church on Tuesday evening when the adult members of the Sunday School along with their friends gave a farewell banquet to all the members of the Sunday School who are leaving town this fall and taking up work or studies elsewhere. Over 70 young people gathered at the appointed time and did justice to the good things provided.

After the meal, the Rev. W. T. Brown acted as toastmaster and chairman of the program provided. The following toasts, with musical numbers in between, were drunk: "The King;" "The Sunday School," proposed by Rev. W. T. Brown and responded to by the Superintendent, Mr. Jas. Davidson; "Our Teachers," by Miss Ona Morrison and replied to by Mr. R. H. ## THE VARENCY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE GARDEN PARTY

Rain marred what would have been a very delightful garden party held under the auspices of the Varence Women's Institute on Monday night.

The garden party took place on the lawn of Mr. Wesley Hodges. A heavy downpour in the early evening rendered the side roads almost impassable, and continued rain added to the discomfort of those who braved the weather.

Owing to the weather, most of the talent advertised to appear were not present, but Mr. Cowan, of Toronto, was present, and gave an entertainment that well repaid those who ventured out. Mr. Cowan was most generous with his items and delighted everyone with his clean, splendid program of songs in costume, stories and melodious numbers.

Miss Walker furnished the readings and Rev. W. T. Brown gave an address on Irish wit and humor.

Miss Meta MacMurchy accompanied Mr. Cowan's songs and also furnished a number on the piano. The chair was occupied by Mr. Frank Walker, who made an excellent master of ceremonies.

INDEPENDENCE AT ELECTION TIME

No thoughtful person doubts that something is seriously wrong with public life today.

We are accustomed to think of the men in official position—the Members of Parliament and the Cabinet—as being responsible for the condition of the country.

They surely are—but only to a limited extent. The people of this Canada of ours must shoulder the main responsibility—if we are to continue—perhaps to really be, a Democracy.

And how are we accepting this responsibility? By what action can we carry out a plan which shows that we even give it serious thought?

Is it not a fact that there is an appalling apathy on the part of the people at election time. And who of us give any worth-while consideration to public affairs in the intervals between elections?

How many voters in your ward stayed home that day? Not voters whom Dame Rumor asserts were paid in one way or another to do so, but voters who have at least some conception of the dignity and responsibility which attaches to the franchise—and why?

Because they say—what's the use—things are as they have been and will be, and we wash our hands of the whole business.

Suppose sentiment grows, what will be the result. Simply that more and more public men will become careless of everything else but their own private interests and the interests of those whom they serve—and they will not consider themselves your servant and mine.

THE REMEDY?
The City of Toronto awoke to the fact that this apathy on the part of the people was detrimental to good civic government and at a recent election the city was placarded with this sentence—"Vote as you like, but vote."

We are not wholly in accord with this slogan unless the liking is based on a thoughtful study of the conditions which make voting imperative.

Remember that your ballot is the epitome of all the privileges of a free country and use it thoughtfully.

Nor from the standpoint of partyism—but from that of Canadianism.

When an influential national organization like the Social Service Council of Canada—composed of leading men and women of all "shades" of politics, publicly express themselves as convinced that the very development of Canada as a world force—economically as well as morally depends to a great extent on the election of candidates to Parliament, who shall be independent of party control, independent of all else than the welfare of the country.

Surely we would be wise to follow their lead. Haldimand has such a representative seeking your support. Have you a good reason to oppose the principles for which he stands?

—Margery Mills.
