KNOX CHURCH ANNIVERSARY SERVICES

MOST SUCCESSFUL HELD FOR MANY YEARS—ENTERTAINMENT WELL RECEIVED

Knox Church held their Anniversary Services on Sunday last, the 24th inst. The congregations were large at both services, the evening congregation being exceptionally large.

Rev. W. T. Brown, minister of the congregation, conducted the services, explaining that late on Saturday morning he had received a telegram from Rev. J. Y. McKinnon, the anniversary preacher, stating that the feeling stirred up in Brantford over the case of Zion Church, which was before the Ontario Property Commission during the week end made it impossible for him to leave his pulpit. Under the circumstances it was deemed the best thing that could be done was for him to preach. He apologized for the disappointment of those who came to hear Mr. McKinnon.

At the morning service the subject of the sermon was "Shibboleths, and Their Danger." Taking the famous passage, Judges 12:6, he pointed out that men have refused to hold to the old shibboleths in mercantile, agricultural, social and political life—but they continued to hold to non-essentials in religious life. He made a plea for the putting aside of non-essentials, pointing out that to cling to them to the exclusion of everything else meant death, and that it was contrary to the spirit of Jesus, who broke with all shibboleths of His age.

At night, taking his text from Proverbs 22:28, "Remove not the ancient landmarks which thy fathers have set," he made a plea for the conservation of the old pioneer virtues, of reverence, modesty and self respect, hospitality, and home building. These were characteristic landmarks, and there was danger of their removal to-day. The loss of the landmark meant loss of a sacred thing. Loss of sacred things meant decay and death.

At both services the choir rendered special music in a very acceptable manner.

On Monday evening, an old time tea meeting was held under the auspices of the Ladies Aid. The clerk of the meeting was in a kindly mood, with result that the attendance was very large, the largest in fact for several years. After ample justice had been done to the splendid fowl supper, the balance of the entertainment was proceeded with.

The Galt Maple Leaf Quartette, who were present last year, were again the entertainers, and gave a splendid program of quartettes, duets, solos, and recitations. Except for two numbers, by special request, the whole program was entirely new. On account of the evening of the anniversary of the birth of Bobbie Burns, Scotch songs predominated, but others were given a place as well. Irish songs, negro songs, and "spirituals," rollicking choruses, French Canadian readings, all contributed to make the program a very enjoyable one. Miss Meta MacMurchy accompanied the singers in her inimitable way.

The audience showed their appreciation throughout by recalling every performer and by hearty outbursts of merriment.

Altogether this anniversary can be counted as amongst the most successful held for many years. The total proceeds amounted to $332.

A very sad occurrence took place on Friday, January 22nd, when the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. After the happy couple received the congratulations and best wishes of the guests they led the way to the dining-room, where breakfast was served, the table being centred with the wedding cake. Tall pink candles and pink roses furnished the decorations.

"A DEAL IN DUCKS" SUCCESSFUL PLAY

A large "turnout" greeted "A Deal in Ducks," a three-act comedy, presented for the first time in Cheapside by the Sandusky Dramatic Club, under the direction of H. W. Hoebel, and from all reports everyone thoroughly enjoyed the performance.

The play proved to be a side-splitting comedy, rich in humor from start to finish and the various roles were all well taken indeed. The program was one that held the attention of the audience throughout the evening, music being supplied by Martin's 5-piece orchestra and vocal selections by the well-known Nanticoke Male Quartet.

"A Deal in Ducks" is a play that will be long remembered, as it portrayed the various comic and humorous characters with which the world is filled. Jack Gilmore, the part ably taken by LeRoy Pond, was a character noted for business, loyalty to country and home, and strictly honest; while the part of Robert White, taken by Russell Walker, humorously portrayed a happy-go-lucky character, bound to fix things for his friend, was well taken and proved an unending source of laughter for the audience. Ruth Hardnock, a loyal sweetheart to Jack, was a role well played by Lillian Werner; while Betty Hart, taken by Blanche Pond, was indeed a match for the unworried Bob White, and at the conclusion claimed him as her "carpet-beater." John Hardnock, Ruth's father, was a part well handled by Hardy Mattice, whose thunderous voice added decided emphasis to his refusals of Ruth's hand, and his advice on what he called keen, shrewd business ingenuity. Last, but not least came Mike, the "printer's devil," a part well acted by Robert Hill, and thoroughly enjoyed by all present, especially when he proved himself a member of the gang by cutting the receiver cord of the telephone, thus stopping a message that was to stop payment on a hard earned cheque.

The parts were all well taken and the play was a credit to the Sandusky young people.
