FEBRUARY ROD AND GUN

Still further improvement in the appearance and contents of the magazine "Rod and Gun" is shown in the February number which has just been issued. There is a very good lineup of sporting reading material in this issue and good illustration of the number.

The series of descriptive articles, A. Bryan Williams' Breezes from the West and Raymond Thompson's In the Big Woods of Canada, continue with interesting instalments, while complete stories, fictitious, true and A short sketch of Outdoor Life, from the pen of F. B. Doud, entitled October Days, is a gem of its kind. A poem of great merit, Nocturne of the Prairies, by David Howarth is also one of the features of the issue.

James Frise's cartoon in this issue is another masterpiece of humorous art with a flavor of the outdoors.
Instructive, are of outstanding merit.
"Rod and Gun" is published monthly by W. J. Taylor Limited, Woodstock, Ontario.

HOCKEY PICTORIAL Second Edition

The second edition of the "Hockey Pictorial" is on the market, more complete and up-to-date than the original edition, which was received with such acclaim by followers of the great winter sport. Most favorable comments have been passed upon the publication by sports writers the continent over, and the general opinion as expressed by players and scribes is that no more comprehensive or handsome book in the sporting line was ever printed. A feature that should possess a marked appeal not only to puck-chasers of the present, but to old timers, are the many group pictures of champion teams, dating back to the early history of hockey. The new edition not only contains the history of hockey in Canada, but covers the history of the game in the United States as well, with handsome engravings of Canadian and American teams, and is right up to the minute in every respect. Any further information pertaining to the book can be obtained by writing George King,
