CHURCH NOTES

KNOX CHURCH

What is the supreme test of Christianity? In "An Outline of Christianity," the first three volumes of which have been recently published, three demands were made upon Christianity. (1) That as a religion it shall provide us with a tolerable explanation of the riddle of existence; (2) That as a way of life it shall guide us toward social happiness and justice; (3) That as a basis for civilization it shall draw together in unity the nations and races of mankind.

The second of those demands forms the theme of the sermon on Sunday morning next, when the minister will discuss "The Needs of An Adventurous Faith," which is the second of a series of sermons on "The Outstanding Needs of the World Today."

The local lodge of the I.O.O.F. will hold their annual church parade on Sunday next and will worship with Knox Church congregation. As is customary a special order of service has been prepared, and will be observed at this service. The subject for the evening will be "Brotherhood, a Challenge to the World."

11 a.m.—"The Need of An Adventurous Faith."

7 p.m.—"Brotherhood, a Challenge to the World."

WESLEY UNITED CHURCH

The Jarvis Fire Brigade turned out in full force on Sunday night last to Divine Worship in this church. With their new badges on, they presented a neat appearance as they occupied the front centre pews; more than 30 of them were present.

The church was well filled with attentive hearers, who listened with interest to the subject, "Who Is My Neighbor and How Should I Treat Him?" The choir sang two very appropriate pieces; while the printed order of service, with the hymns on leaflets were used very freely by the large congregation. On retiring the brethren received a warm handshake from the pastor, and they were made to feel they were cordially welcome.

The W.M.S. met in the Sunday School room on Tuesday afternoon, when a splendid program was given and many of them took part.

The Young People's League will meet on Friday night at 8 o'clock. The meeting is in charge of Mr. Killham Farr, topic by Wallace Anderson, and the character sketch by Miss Mabel Johnson.

On Sunday morning next, May 23, this pulpit will be occupied by Rev. W. D. Magee of Welland. The evening service will be withdrawn.

MRS. MATHEW JOHNSON PASSES AWAY AT SIMCOE

The death of Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, widow of Mathew Johnson, occurred at the home of her son, John Johnson, 29 North Street, Simcoe, on Tuesday morning, May 18th, after three years illness following a stroke.

Deceased was one of Jarvis' most highly and respected citizens and the family have the heartfelt sympathy of their many friends in this district, which was the home of Mrs. Johnson for over 38 years. She leaves to mourn her loss one daughter, Mrs. Thomas Dawson of British Columbia, and two sons: John, at whose home deceased had resided for the past two years, and James, of Jarvis.

The funeral will take place from the home of her son John, 29 North Street, Simcoe, on Thursday (today), the 20th inst., at 2 o'clock p.m. The Rev. W. T. Brown, pastor of Knox Presbyterian Church, Jarvis, will officiate. Interment will take place in Knox Church cemetery, Jarvis.

SIMCOE BUSINESS CHANGES

Howard R. MacGregor has purchased the Undertaking business from Joseph Coates. Mr. Coates is the oldest Funeral Director in Norfolk County and has been continuously in business for 43 years as Undertaker and is retiring to take a well-earned rest.

Mr. MacGregor, who has been connected with the W. W. Walsh store for the past four years, has conducted that business very ably and successfully. The building occupied by Mr. J. Coates, 54 Colborne St., North, will still continue as Simcoe's leading Undertaking establishment.

We understand that the interior of the building will be remodelled to meet the requirements of a modern Funeral Parlor and a stock of Home Furnishings and will be ready for occupation June 1st.

PROV. U.F.Y.P.O. PRES. ADDRESSES THE CLUB

On May 6th, a large number of young people, members of Sharon U.F.Y.P.O., York County, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Church for their regular meeting.

Carroll Lindsay, Provincial President, addressed the club on young people's work and problems. The speaker stressed the importance of community life in the formation of the character of the nation, showing the effect of environment on the lives of the young men and women. Young people from 13 to 25 years of age were forming life habits and if all the recreative moments of these years were spent in poolrooms, in loafing around the corners, smoking cigarettes and telling dirty stories, or in cards and dancing, it would be impossible to develop men and women with high ideals and broad minds, so essential to national welfare.

He compared this type of community with one where the young people had a proper outlet for the play spirit, giving unlimited possibilities to develop the boys and girls into the true type of citizen.

Each young person was compared to a new light in front of a bright silver mirror. The light was their actions and the mirror reflected the results. It was shown that any deed that caused pain or injury to other people would darken the surface of the mirror. The speaker asked them to keep their light burning bright and steady and their mirror clean and shiny by always being true to themselves and their fellow men.

In dealing briefly with some of the problems that confronted young Canadians he spoke of four that are paramount today. Our railroad system with a capital investment of more than one-half of the value of all the developed and undeveloped agricultural resources of the nation and collecting an annual toll of over $460,000,000 from our commercial life, is one of our greatest burdens.

The cost of government today was very great. The seriousness of the Federal, Provincial and Municipal debts and the tendency for people to demand improvements and reduced taxation, an impossible combination, presents another problem.

The third problem was that of a united people. Canada is separated geographically, we have two distinct languages and at least three very diversified interests. There are all great obstacles in the path of the people toward a united Canada.

Perhaps the greatest problem was the amazing large percent of urban population. With 300,000,000 acres of beautiful available agricultural land, with only one-sixth of this, 50,000,000 acres, sparsely settled and with 50 per cent of her 9,000,000 people living in cities, Canada presents a very undesirable condition.

The speaker gave the two main causes for this condition. The first that we have had a national policy for over 40 years that has built up our cities at the expense of the agricultural people, and secondly, the social conditions in the country have been such that the city life has attracted many of the best of our young people.
