SEPTEMBER ROD AND GUN

A collection of articles of real sport in various parts of the Dominion sums up the contents of the September issue of "Rod and Gun," the Canadian sport magazine, which is just published.

An interesting article on some moose experiences, principally in Eastern Canada by William J. McNulty appears followed by an amusing story of a British Columbia trip, "Poor Fish," by C. J. Broderick. Bonny-castle Daie in this latest issue deals with some experiences, "Living at Close Quarters With the Moose of Nova Scotia," J. W. Winson writes an interesting study of the Saw Whet and Screech owls.

Fishing Notes, the regular department edited by G. P. Sladen contains several articles of diversified angling interest and C. S. Landis' Guns and Ammunition department carries a number of instructive articles for the shooter. In the contents is also a good article on the slaughter of ducks by floating oil on Hamilton Bay.

"Rod and Gun" is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont.

GOD SAVE THE KING

One Flies to the North

"Contact!" "Contact!" The last audible words between pilot and mechanic are spoken, and with stentorian roar of engine and propeller the giant, human and baggage freighted plane, glides swiftly over the surface of the Quinze. One feels the churning waters tumbling at the bottom of the boat until momentum has increased to such extent that a touch of the "stick" causes the Vickers Viking to slowly rise.

Two turns in as many minutes and the passenger, having adjusted his goggles and seated himself more comfortably, peers, at first cautiously, over the side of the pit, and far below him lies the little town of Angliers, the head of the Canadian Pacific steel which twists and turns in and out of the forest to the south like a living thing. The earth is as a map below, lakes and rivers shining in the distance and beneath, and ragged patches of bush and arable land tumbled here and there like a child's attempt to depict relief.
Turning east the plane heads down Lake Quinze, following the water course to Lake Expanse, — one sees from the air how appropriate is its name, — thence north for some fifteen miles up the Ottawa River and further north over one of its tributaries to Lake Fortune and Rouyn, upon nearing which the plane leaves the glorious rolling clouds and gradually sinks until once more the water tumbles the bottom of the hull, checking it with sudden jerks which tend to slow the boat until it stops within a few feet of tie-up.
One wonders how the pilot could, at such a speed, have judged his distance so well. But then he does the same thing more than once each day bringing to the new Gold Fields of Quebec, in fifty minutes, passengers and supplies which, before the air service was started took two days at the least to arrive.

Commencing May 18th the Air Service to the Gold Fields will be regular on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, large flying boats capable of carrying five people being scheduled to meet all Canadian Pacific trains at Angliers.
This service, which will eliminate the hardships of the past and enable prospectors and tourists to travel to the Rouyn Mining District in less than an hour will include regular stops where they are required and accommodation is available.
