MYRTLE HARE RECITAL AT HAGERSVILLE RARE TREAT

Those who availed themselves of the opportunity to attend the recital given by Miss Myrtle Hare, L.T.C.M., at Hagersville, on Monday night, were given a real musical and dramatic treat.

Miss Hare being a local girl, admirers from Jarvis, Nanticoke, Sanduski and Cheapside, were represented by large numbers in an audience that taxed the auditorium to capacity. Miss Hare easily proved her ability as a soloist and completely captivated the audience and each number was accorded prolonged applause. Miss Hare was assisted by Miss Aileen Bawden, elocutionist, and Miss Muriel Gidley, A.T.C.M. The former showed exceptional ability in her dramatic and humorous selections, and the latter, who acted as accompanist for Miss Hare and also played solo numbers on the organ and piano, displayed rare musical ability.

The program rendered by this gifted trio will long be remembered by those present as one of the rarest treats ever offered them in this vicinity.

AUTO UPSETS BUGGY; MRS. CARPENTER INJURED

On Wednesday shortly before noon, an auto ran into a buggy driven by Mrs. R. J. Carpenter, who was thrown out and sustained severe injuries.

Mrs. Carpenter was driving down Main street and when about opposite of I. W. Holmes' residence, started to drive across to turn into the street at A. S. Blight's residence. An auto, driven by a piano tuner, was too close upon the buggy to steer clear of the vehicle and hooked the rear wheel, upsetting the same. Mrs. Carpenter was thrown out, and the horse becoming detached, ran away. Mrs. Carpenter was carried into Mr. Blight's residence and Dr. Leatherdale was called. Upon examination it was found that three ribs had been fractured and one of the bones of the body, also broken to the face. Mrs. Carpenter was later taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Peter Banks.

VALENCY W. I.

The September meeting was held at the home of Mrs. S. F. Saunders on September 2nd, with an attendance of 12 members.

In the absence of the President and Vice President, Mrs. H. K. Saunders presided. The meeting was opened by singing the Opening Ode and "O Canada," and repeating the Lord's Prayer in unison. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted as read. Mrs. Thos. Reynolds invited the Institute to her home for the October meeting.

Although there was a small attendance, we had a splendid program, which consisted of a piano solo by Miss A. Miller, a paper on Mothers' Allowance, by Mrs. Geo. Saunders; a paper on School Improvement and Child Welfare, written by Miss L. E. Axford of Marburg, and read by Mrs. S. F. Saunders; the girls of the Institute sang "Pal of My Cradle Days;" Miss Kathleen Miller gave a humorous reading entitled "Ask Mamma." The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem. After the close of the meeting the hostess served lunch.

NEW COLLEGES AT ROBINSON COLLEGES, MONDAY, OCT. 4

The six schools of the Robinson Business College, Limited—Waterford, Brantford, Simcoe, Dunnville, Norwich, and Tillsonburg—will open new classes in Commercial, Stenographic, and Secretarial work on Monday, October 4. While students may enter on any school day, it is to your advantage to enter just as soon as possible.

Our Waterford School, under the Principalship of O. U. Robinson has opened very nicely, and new students are entering every week. Several are expected on Oct. 4. Miss Jean Cantello was recently placed by the Principal, with Hughes & Agar, Barristers, of Toronto. This is an excellent position, and Jean is to be congratulated. Miss Vera A. Roml, another graduate, has just accepted a good position as stenographer with the Federal Mill & Elevator Co., of Lockport, N. Y. Miss Genevieve Kitchen of Oakland has also obtained a situation and is now employed in the Business World. Telephone 98 for full information.

Knox Church to Celebrate Its 70th Anniversary

Sunday, September 26th, will be a red letter day in the history of Knox Church, for on that day special services commemorative of the 70th anniversary of the founding of the congregation will be held both morning and evening. Invitations have been sent out to all the members and adherents of the church, both past and present, and it is expected that many absent ones will avail themselves of the opportunity to return and renew old acquaintances. The present minister, Rev. W. T. Brown, will have charge of the services. Special music is arranged for, as also a special order of service. On Monday, September 27th, there will be a Congregational Reunion and Supper, with an interesting program.

The following is a slight sketch of the history of Knox Church during the past 70 years:

From its inception 70 years ago till today Knox Church has bulked largely in the history of Jarvis and the Township of Walpole. In the early years of the 19th Century the Township of Walpole presented a very different appearance to what it does to.

It was one of the pioneer districts of Eastern Canada. Dense forests with trails hewn through them covered the country; wolves were very common. One of our oldest citizens in Jarvis thus describes the scene at the first religious service held in the township: "This being the first religious service, the settlers turned out in large numbers to witness the ceremony, and the scene was grotesque. Rough pioneers, with their rifles and their powder horns slung about them, and their dogs at their heels (in those days no one ever thought of walking a mile or so through the woods without these companions) came for miles to witness the first baptism on the Stage Road. Between the screaming of children, the barking of the dogs, and the clang of rifles and fowling pieces, the service was conducted by the worthy clergyman under trying circumstances."

The earliest settlers were largely English, Irish and Scotch, and a large percentage of them were Presbyterians. With that love for spiritual things, that was so characteristic of the pioneer fathers, it was not long before they erected a church to worship in, the church known as "The Stone Church, Walpole," which was erected about 10 years before that in Jarvis.

During the summer of 1856, the first Presbyterian services were held in Jarvis in the Public School; and on Sept. 30th, 1856, the Presbytery of Hamilton, which was then a Presbytery of the Free Church, instructed the Rev. W. Craigie of Port Dover to organize a congregation at Jarvis and to dispense the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Shortly afterwards the organization of the congregation was completed and being united with the Chalmers Church was constituted the pastoral charge of Jarvis and Walpole. At its inception the congregation numbered 18 members, 31 more being received at the first communion. Of the original members none are now living. For a while both congregations depended upon transient supply, but on October 21st, 1857, the Rev. John McRobie was inducted as minister, at the munificent salary of $300 per annum. Following Mr. McRobie's induction the congregation worshipped in the Temperance hall. Not satisfied with this arrangement, the members by united effort succeeded in erecting a frame church, which stood on the site of the house now occupied by Mr. John Church. The church was opened by Dr. Irvine of Hamilton. In 1873 the Village of Jarvis was visited by a disastrous fire during which the early records of the church were presumed to have been destroyed, hence the meagreness of information regarding the early days. Following the induction of Mr. McRobie, the first session was organized, Mr. John Horn and Mr. Robert McNeill being ordained to the eldership. Later Mr. Samuel Hunter and Mr. John Gowan were added to the number. In 1873, Mr. McRobie accepted the oversight of Petrols, and after a vacancy of 16 months the Rev. Thos. McGuire became the pastor of the congregation. During his ministry the union of the different branches of the Presbyterian Church in Canada was under consideration. On October 26th, 1874, the session of Jarvis and Walpole agreed unanimously to the union and took steps to submit the question to the congregation, who assented to the union October 12th. On November 5th, 1876, the session was increased by the ordination of Wm. Parker, Neal McNeill, James Williamson, Robert Hazlett and Joseph Abraham.

In March, 1881, Mr. McGuire removed to Emerson, Manitoba, later going to Seattle, where he died in 1904. Three years of vacancy followed and not until January 10th, 1884, did the congregation have a settled minister, the Rev. J. Wells, M.A., minister of Nairn, Ont., being inducted at that date.

Two years later the congregation decided to build a more substantial church, and on the 3rd Friday of June, 1886, the foundation of the present church was laid, the members of the local Masonic lodge performing the ceremony.

It is of interest to note that the frame church was sold, bricked over, and now is the double house occupied by Mr. W. W. Hoebel and Mr. Peter Banks. The year following, the present church was completed and was opened on the 2nd Sunday in July, 1887, by Dr. Lyle of Hamilton. On account of several changes in the eldership, a new election of elders was held in 1890, with the result that of May 5th of that year, George Miller, Anthony Ionsen, J. B. Wilson and John Mitchell were ordained to the office of elder. Mr. Wells resigned in 1891, and after living in Toronto for some years, went West where his death took place two years ago, in Vancouver.

On February 18th, 1892, Rev. G. McLennan, B.A., of Comber, became the pastor, serving for 11 years. It was during his ministry that the debt incurred by the building of the church was removed and the name improved. Owing to the death of Mr. Anthony Ionsen in 1897, and Mr. John Horn in 1900, and the retirement of Mr. Geo. Miller, a new election of elders was held, and on January 16th, 1898, James Davidson, D. M. Allen and John Thomson were ordained to that office.

Mr. McLennan resigned on March 30th, 1903. He is still living, at present being in the work of the British (Continued on Page 4)

R. E. C. CONVENTION

The 61st annual convention of the Haldimand County R. E. Council was held in Canfield on Thursday, Sept. 16th, with two sessions, afternoon and evening. There was a good attendance at both the sessions. The afternoon speakers handled their subjects well, the first, Rev. Mr. Seymour, "Keeping Tab on One's Self," and E. W. Brearley of Hagersville, "A Father's and Son's Appreciation of God." Mr. Lint of Kohler, sang a solo which was much appreciated. The devotional service at night was taken by Rev. D. A. Cowan of Cayuga. The Rev. W. B. Walker of Selkirk, spoke on "The Teacher and His Qualifications." After a solo by Mr. Lint, the Rev. Mr. Seymour gave an interesting address, "The Challenge of the Youth."

WEDDING BELLS

WALKER-McKAY

On Saturday, Sept. 11th, a very interesting event took place at Maple Grove Farm, Atwood, Ont., the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McKay, when their youngest daughter, Isabel C. Walker, younger on of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walker of Jarvis. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. W. J. West, pastor of Knox Presbyterian Church, Atwood.

Promptly at noon, to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, rendered by Miss Margaret Smith of Atwood, the bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She was attired in white Georgette over which fell her embroidered veil arranged with bandeau of orange blossoms, and carrying a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Jean McKay of Brantford, sister of the bride, wore a gown of peach-colored crepe de chine with large black picture hat of panne velvet, and carried a bouquet of mixed flowers. Little Miss Elizabeth Barton, niece of the bride, acted as flower-girl, attired in white, and carried a basket of flowers. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Alfred Walker of Jarvis. During the signing of the register Mr. Cameron Dickson sang, with Mrs. Dickson at the piano.

The decoration effect was pink and white, the bridal party standing beneath a pink arch overhung by a large white bell.

Immediately after the wedding luncheon the happy couple departed, amid a shower of confetti, on a short honeymoon to Wiarton and other points, the bride's going-away gown being black trimmed with old rose. Upon their return they will take up their residence in Detroit.

MACKAY-STERNAMAN

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Sternaman, Sanduski, on Sept. 15, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when their second daughter, Pearl Hollis, became the bride of Edw. A. Mackay of Buffalo, N. Y., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mackay, Walpole.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. Walker, of the Baptist Church, Cheapside, under an arch of cosmos, clematis and gladioli. Miss Mabel Johnson, of Jarvis, played the "Bridal Chorus" during the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked charming in a white Georgette crepe studded with Rhinestones. Her tulle veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of butterfly roses, lily-of-the-valley and maiden-hair fern. Miss Ina Mae Sternaman of Detroit, Mich., sister of the bride, in a pale pink chiffon trimmed with Rhinestones, was maid of honor and carried a bouquet of pink and white asters with maiden-hair fern. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Ernie Mackay.

After the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to the guests, after which the happy couple left on a motor trip to Buffalo and Cleveland. On their return they will reside in Buffalo, N. Y.

ANDERSON-SLACK

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Giebe Presbyterian Church, where Bertha Gladys, daughter of Mrs. C. E. Slack, of Denholm, Sask., became the bride of Leslie Hart Anderson of Detroit, son of Rev. David and Mrs. Anderson. The ceremony was conducted by the father of the groom, minister of the church, which was beautifully decorated with flowers by ladies of the congregation. The bride wore a gown of beige georgette, with hat and fur to match, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and lily of the valley. The Wedding March was played by Mrs. C. E. Curtis and Mr. Martin Lindley of Burlington sang during the signing of the register. The happy couple left immediately on a short honeymoon, and upon their return will reside in Windsor—Globe, Sept. 20th.
