WISHING OUR CUSTOMERS AND FRIENDS A MERRY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR

Read the Advertisements in THE RECORD

In some of the Sea Ports of the World

the solemn old custom is kept up of blessing the ships before sailing on long voyages, especially when there is a feet of schooners and luggers going out for several months' fishing. The Priest reads the service and great crowds of men and boys sing, and hundreds of sturdy, devout men, with bowed heads, receive the benediction of their church.

Starting the new year seems like entering upon a long voyage, it is such a small matter to wish each other but we can do much more by resolving to try our best to do something to make each others year happier.

Transportation Epic of North America

(1) "2300" Pacific type locomotive that represented the Canadian Pacific at Baltimore. (2) Head-on view. (3) Early B. & O. engine at the Pageant. (4) The "Atlantic" of 1822 vintage. (5) Peter Cooper's "Tom Thumb", built in 1825, the first locomotive in North America.

The epic of transportation in America from the days when Indians trekked across the plains with their luggage on poles dragged by dogs and ponies to the present with 250-ton locomotives thundering across the country hauling hotels on wheels at 70 miles an hour was enacted at Boston recently during the Centenary Exhibition and Pageant of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad this fall.
Canadian interest in the "Fair of the Iron Horse" was keen as this country was represented at Baltimore by the latest achievements in the way of locomotive construction. The Canadian Pacific Railway was represented by its finest and fastest passenger locomotive, the latest type of their "2300" Pacific class locomotive, number No. 2333, which drew the Prince of Wales, Prince George and Premier Baldwin during their recent trip across Canada. Engineer W. R. Coughton (who has been with the Canadian Pacific 24 years) and Fireman R. F. Thomas (22 years) not only piloted the Prince of Wales' train, but took the locomotive from Toronto to Baltimore for the Fair of the Iron Horse. This locomotive is capable of a maximum speed of 90 miles per hour, weighs nearly 500,000 pounds and can handle 16 steel cars on fast schedule.
On the opening day of the Pageant this powerful engine took its place alongside a half dozen other giants from the roads of various countries. Notable among these from across the water was the huge new "King George V" pride of the Great Western Railway and the fastest that England has produced. During the opening parade of these locomotives the band played "Land of Hope and Glory" and "Rule Britannia" in honor of the of the countries they represented.
The Pageant is recognized to have been the greatest transportation exhibition ever staged. Every period of railway history since steam was first used for railway locomotives was represented and the result was a strange collection of contrivances that made the crowds stare in wonder as they padded along under their own steam. The 250-ton marvels of present day railroads they professed to accept as something tangible but not the curios that have been preserved from nearly a hundred years back. Perhaps the most interesting old-time exhibit was Peter Cooper's "Tom Thumb" the first locomotive built in North America being constructed in 1825. The backers of the B. & O. railroad were so impressed with it and the evident value of steam that they were willing to go ahead and organize the road a century ago.
Real Indians added a romantic dash to the scene. They whooped past the crowds on their feet ponies and then returned to guide the visitors down to view their encampment a short distance away.
One of the outstanding features of the Pageant was the dress of those who manned the old-time trains and the passengers who made the journey each day around the tracks in front of the crowds. The costumes were true to the period which the locomotive and train represented and added sufficient color to make the exhibition one of the most picturesque and historical yet staged.
