FATEFUL YEARS FOR ALL WOMEN

Much Suffering Can be Avoided Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The most fateful years in a woman's life are those between forty-five and fifty. Many women enter this term under depressing conditions; through overwork, worry, or a watery condition of the blood, and they suffer heavily. Among the commonest symptoms are headaches, palpitations, dizziness, backaches, depression and other well recognized disturbances of the health which show that the blood requires attention. Women stand in need of rich red blood all their lives, but never more so than at middle age, when the nerves are also weak and overwrought. In this condition there is no other medicine can do so much for women as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for these pills make rich, red blood, which gives tone to the whole body, thus restoring robust health. Thousands of Canadian women have proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind. Among them is Mrs. J. H. Kingston, Lion's Head, Ont., who says:—

"I am writing to let you know the wonderful good your pills have done me. I was a complete wreck, and would faint if I crossed the room. I was going through the change of life, and was so weak I could not do my work. I went to Toronto, when my folks said nothing but an operation would help me. But I said: 'No, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills helped me in girlhood, and I am going to give them a trial.' I took the pills steadily for a month, when I returned home a well woman, able to do all my work with ease. Friends here say it's a wonder I am alive after what I went through, and I am thankful to say I believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my life."

Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anaemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition and cultivate a resistance that will keep you well and strong. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Folding Tune.

And I first played the tune all our sheep know, as, one after one, So docile they come to the pen-door till folding be done. They are white and untorn by the bushes, for lo, they have fed Where the long grasses stifle the water within the stream's bed; And now one after one seeks its lodging, as star flocks star into eve and the blue far above us,— so blue and so far!

To Charles Dickens.

As when a friend (himself in music's list) Stands by some rare, full-handed organist, And glorying as he sees the master roll The surging sweets through all their depths of soul, Cannot, encouraged by his smile, forbear

With his own hand to join them here and there; And so, if little, so add something more To the sound's volume and the golden roar;

So I, dear friend, Charles Dickens, though thy hand Needs but itself, to charm from land to land, Make bold to join in summoning men's ears To this thy new-found music of our spheres, In hope that by thy Household Words and thee The world may haste to days of harmony.

—Leigh Hunt.

Gems from Examination Papers.

"Denmark is washed by the Catty Cat and the Scraggy Hack," wrote a despairing English boy at a geography examination. Other gems embalmed in the examination papers included: "The highest peaks in the Alps is Blanc Mange." "Amongst the islands of the West Indies are the Pyjamas, noted for toilet sponges." "Ceylon is joined to India by a chain of coral wreaths." "A focus is a thing like a mushroom, but if you eat it you will feel differently from a mushroom, focuses is poison." "Habeau Corpus is what the people use to say to the undertakers at the time of the great plague of London. It means, 'You ma have the body.'" "Louis XVI. was gelatined during the French revolution." "Chaplets are small places of worship."

IS THERE A BABY IN YOUR HOME?

Is there a baby or young children in your home? If there is you should not be without a box of Baby's Own Tablets. Childhood ailments come quickly and means should always be at hand to promptly fight them. Baby's Own Tablets are the ideal home remedy. They regulate the bowels; sweeten the stomach; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fevers—in fact they relieve all the minor ills of little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Moise Cadotte, Makamik, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best remedy in the world for little ones. My baby suffered terribly from indigestion and vomiting, but the Tablets soon set her right and now she is in perfect health." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Centenarian's Advice. "Keep cheerful, eat plenty of pork and potatoes, and drink plenty of good milk," was the recipe of longevity of Mrs. Ellen Parkin, who has died at Falmouth, aged 101.

TO THE POLICE

Our Rural Constable, the Provincial Policeman, the "Motor Cop" and the Urban Officer, Would Do Well to Get Out and Pounce in His Hat the Following Article from the London Daily Telegraph.

We have known foreign policemen to be most alarming when they grow polite; the London policeman is only dangerous when he ceases to be so. After all, for nearly a century now he has had the duty of politeness dinned into him. "He shall be civil and obliging to people of every rank and class," wrote Sir Richard Mayne, in drawing up the first Code for the reformed police, "and be ready to give information and assistance when required." And again it was written, "It must be remembered that there is no qualification so indispensable to a police officer as a perfect command of temper, never suffering himself to be moved in the slightest degree by language or threat that may be used." Such was the ideal of 1829. It may stand without alteration for 1927. "O blest with temper!" is the perfect policeman, servantissimus aequi, as though he were the Lord Chancellor himself.

What is Freedom?

The Beatitude for the will is obedience to the truth as the final form of good. Outside of the truth held as good there is no such thing as freedom. The freedom of the earth, the freedom of the planets, the freedom of every star that burns in the firmament, is in fidelity to law. Truth is finally a revelation of the moral order of our human world and universe; this moral order is finally the supreme good matched to the inevitable desire and love of mankind; and in obedience to this view of ultimate eternal good lies all genuine human freedom. It is not freedom to break from the path that leads from the mountain summit to the plain; it is madness. It is not freedom for the navigator to steer his ship from the great lanes clear of icebergs and shoals into the uncharted sea; it is a criminal mistake. It is not freedom to do as one pleases when one pleases to run in courses of crime, vice, and blasphemy; it is to run against the demonstration of right and good delivered by the sound moral experience of mankind. To be a liberal does not settle the question of a man's freedom or slavery; to be a modernist or a fundamentalist settles nothing as to the same question. The truth that is moral order, the moral order that is good, is the final judge here. Obedience to the highest and best is freedom, and nothing else is or can be other than slavery.—The Christian Leader.

A Real Cosmopolitan. "He considers himself a real cosmopolitan, eh?" "Oh, yes, he once spent a week in New York."

"The Great Jullien" and His Music.

Louis Jullien was the most popular conductor of music in England in the middle of the nineteenth century. He was a man who believed very firmly in advertisement. Whether criticism was good or bad did not worry him as long as somebody said something. He was full of little eccentricities such as conducting Beethoven with a jewelled baton, wearing a new pair of white kid gloves for each piece he conducted, indulging in a prodigious display of diamonds, and so on. He was known, on account of his extravagances, as "The Great Jullien." Nevertheless, he was a man of sound musical common-sense who started a series of prominent concerts in London so that the public could hear the great classics cheaply; who dreamed of founding an English opera company in connection with the Royal Academy of Music, who, in short, spent a vast amount of energy in fostering a love of good music among the people of England.

Liberty Does Not Mean—

—That we are free to obey only those laws which we please.
—That we are free to ignore other people's rights.
—That we are free to prosper at other people's expense.
—That we are free to impose on our friends if we can get away with it.
—That we are free to denounce all those who disagree with us.
—That we are free to drive on the highways as if we owned them.
—That we are free to live as if there was no judgment day.

Women of Canada Pay Striking Tribute to Aluminum

— the Modern Metal

FROM Windsor, Ontario, to Hudson's Bay, from Halifax to the Rockies, RED ROSE TEA within the last few weeks has scored an extraordinary increase in sales.

It is because we have stopped using paper packages, and are again packing this finest of teas in the old, familiar Aluminum package of years ago.

The reception it has been given demonstrates beyond all doubt that housewives of Canada recognize Aluminum as the perfect container.

For more than thirty years we have been experimenting with packages—trying lead, paper and Aluminum—seeking always a material that would protect and be worthy of Red Rose quality.

But it was only after Red Rose has been offered to the public in all these packages—first lead, then Aluminum, then paper—that the great advantages of Aluminum were proven.

Aluminum keeps out moisture, preserves the flavor and protects the quality. Paper packages, on the contrary, absorb moisture which occasionally impairs the quality.

So now and in the future RED ROSE TEA will be packed in the Aluminum package, as it was in years gone by.

Pocket Sunrays.

So small that it can be slipped into an overcoat pocket, a portable artificial sunlight generator weighing only two pounds has been invented by a German scientist. The generator, which resembles a toy phonograph, can be plugged into an ordinary electric lamp socket. It consists of a little nickel-plated horn fitted to a circular metal case. Inside the horn are two specially prepared carbons, across which passes a spark giving out ultra-violet rays. A person sitting two feet away may have the whole body bathed in the rays.

BALDWIN, THE MAN.

After Reading American Views of the British Prime Minister it is interesting to See What the London Sunday Times (Cons.) Says.

"Mr. Baldwin a couple of years ago was hardly more to the majority of Englishmen than a lay figure on which they hung whatever attributes they fancied. He has now become a singularly real and attractive personality, and it is time has revealed faults as well as virtues, esteem has not been lessened thereby. He is distinguished perhaps more than any other Prime Minister by a broad and tolerant humanity, by willingness that amounts almost to anxiety to understand the other side, and by a singular clarity of judgment."

When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.
