THE ALL-REVEALING AD

A century from now a file of the advertising pages of the newspaper and magazine of today would provide a complete history of the customs and characteristics of the period.

Pick up any issue of the family newspaper and there in word and picture is the story of the day. Preserve that issue and posterity a century from now can tell what the men and women of this generation were, what their mode of transportation was, how they were amused and entertained.

Picture a man in the year 2027 chancing upon a file of this newspaper for the year 1927. Turning to the advertising pages he would see arrayed before his eyes the styles in wearing apparel for men, women and children of one hundred years ago.

He would see the types of automobiles in use and from the number of automobiles advertisements he would deduce that the automobile was in great favor and universal use.

By the same reasoning he would learn that the radio was in great demand, even exceeding in popularity the phonograph and player piano.

Training in the art of sleuthing would not be necessary for this reader of the advertisements of the past to inform himself, from the cancer-cure ads, that cancer was a menace to the generation and, from other ads, that obesity and exceeding thinness concerned the public as greatly as the malignant cancer.

The advertisements are also a record of economic conditions, revealing market prices and estimating the supply and demand.

THAT'S WHAT COUNTS

In the list of what may be called the chief characteristics of our present era may be found the assertion that this is an age when "nobody has any time." On this point practically all the observers and critics of our social order are agreed.

They draw their proof for this assertion from the ever-increasing speed of our means of transportation. A half-hour reduction in the time it takes to go from Chicago to New York; a mile added to the record of number per hour in airplane travel; a half hour gained in a trans-Atlantic trip—these are events that our hurrying age greets with joy. We have no time to dally.

Thus runs the lament of the critics. But is it indeed a matter of such grave concern? True, there was a time when men had more leisure than they take to themselves today, but we have yet to learn that in those days men had a greater abundance either in social progress or human happiness than we have today.

We can't deny that we are in a hurry, but as compared to more leisurely periods in history it isn't to be denied that we get things done. And after all that's what counts.

THE OLDEST INHABITANT

It might be worth while if those persons who are always looking for the "oldest man or woman living" were to give a little thought as to what it means when they find such an individual.

Merely as an object of interest—the oldest inhabitant deserves no more comment than the tallest man, the stingiest woman or the most mischievous boy. These are traits or characteristics which bring little credit to him or to the community.

It is fullness of life we want; not mere length. Fortunate indeed is he whose years cover a long span of life; but more fortunate still is he who can make these years count for something in service to his fellow-men. We do not begrudge the oldest inhabitant the years he has accumulated. But the individuals who seek to enlist our interest in him could more easily get it, if we could feel that they were not unmindful of the poet:

"We live in deeds, not years; In thoughts, not breaths; In feelings, not in figures on a dial."

If at 16 he thinks he looks distinguished, his glands are functioning normally.

Freedom—Once she made her own frocks; now she works and makes the money to buy ready-mades.

The way to get the most experience for the least money is to keep the neighbor's children for a day.

One thing that makes the American speed up is the fact that he's three laps behind a charge account.

The catalogue price enables you to estimate the cost of keeping daughter in college. Just multiply by three.

When one of these old boys gets the flapper craze, it seems peculiarly fitting to call him a hexagenarian.

A man seldom hears the knock of opportunity if he pays too much attention to the knocks of the neighbors.

Times haven't changed much. Back in pioneer days the pedestrian had to dodge the deadly rattle, also.

A feminine writer says no wife should suffer in silence. But if she is silent, how can she keep from suffering?

In Utopia the rents are just as high as here, but the tenant acquires title to the property after he has paid for it seven times.

"My income is $40,000—my capital is $1,000,000."

"Then we will spend the capital first, dear, and keep the income for a rainy day."

She was pretty, and, like many pretty women, a notorious flirt. Her husband, who adored her, was grieved by her numerous frivolities. However, when a business trip took him away for a week, he exacted from her a promise that she would not allow any kisses or similar tokens of affection from the opposite sex while

ARE BURGLARS CAUGHT IN NORFOLK COUNTY

The sentence of 12 years' imprisonment by Mr. Justice Ross upon Bodnaruk who robbed the Falls Store, recalls some other burglary cases in Simcoe.

There are: the E. Brook housebreaking by Brantford crooks, afterwards sentenced to Kingston; the E. D. Holliday house breaking and stealing case, by four youths, afterwards sentenced to Guelph Reformatory; Kindy fur robbery, in which 4 Brantfordites were sentenced to prison terms; the Pursel & Goodlet robbery, in which three Hamilton men were sentenced to Kingston; the Delhi butter theft by Hamilton men, afterwards sentenced to the Reformatory; the Boston bandit case and hold-up by Indians, who were sentenced to Kingston. These are some of the outstanding major charges prosecuted during the term in office of the present Crown Attorney W. E. Kelly, K. C., in the various courts and in which he has been assisted by Inspectors Miller, Ward, Stringer and Creer from time to time and by the local officers, Provincial Constables Doyle and Hough and the local Constables Alway, Barber and others.

Mr. Kelly, before his appointment as Crown Attorney, had a wide experience in the defence side in major criminal trials in Norfolk and in other counties. As Crown Counsel in the Bodnaruk case, tried in Simcoe last week many complimentary remarks have been made as regards his masterful and experienced handling of this prosecution on behalf of the Crown.

ARRELL & ARRELL, Caledonia, Ontario; Solicitors for the Applicants. Dated the 20th day of January, 1927.

He was away.

On his return he found that she had not kept her promise. "And how many times were you kissed?" he demanded.

"Only twice," was the reply.

"Twice; by heavens, twice in one short week! And who was it?"

"Well, dear, the first time it was a football team and the second time it was the fire brigade."

Two Irishmen were working on a building when Mike mistook an elevator shaft and plunged down five stories.

Finally Pat missed his friend and hearing a moan from the shaft looked down.

"Are you there, Mike?" he called.

"Yes," said Mike. "But, Pat, be careful when you come down. That first step is terrible."

Feature of Ontario Winter Carnival

1. Race in the Dog race. 2. Figure skaters in action. 3. Ski-jumping at Preston Springs, Ontario.

Reports of thrilling dog derbies from N. Banff, Quebec City and other winter sports centres in Canada, have had their effect upon the boys of Preston Springs, Ontario. The three lads in the above photograph spent many days training their collies to run between the traces in preparation for the winter carnival which was held at that popular resort recently. If the boys lacked in real huskie dogs they had been reading about, they lacked nothing in enthusiasm for their big race.

Upon the eventful day at the carnival, a rumor was circulated among the three that a real huskie was entered. The afternoon proved the rumor to be true, but the jealousy of the collies was greater than the amusement of the boys. The only huskie entry was rendered "hors de combat" and relegated to obscurity as far as the race was concerned, by the peaceful-looking collie in the centre.

The annual winter carnival at Preston Springs provided the utmost in snow-skiing, skating, skiing and all kinds of winter sports. Frost-bitten speed and figure skaters gathered for the events from many parts of Canada and from across the border.

Preston Springs' proximity to Toronto has made it popular as a winter sports gathering place. Many clubs in Ontario send representatives to compete in the events including the well-known Toronto Skating Club. A camp fire now concluded the festivities of the annual carnival. The grounds of the Preston Springs Hotel were thrown open to the merry-makers, who availed themselves of the opportunity thus afforded for out-of-door fun.
