

INTERESTING ITEMS FROM ONTARIO AND QUEBEC

Liquor Stores Catered to Crowding Queues on Opening Day and After.

THE WEEK'S ACCIDENTS.

Humidity Here!

Ontario drank deep, or at least got the necessary, with great enthusiasm, when the lid was lifted on June 1. Everywhere—that is, where the Government stores operated under the new Liquor Control Act—the story was the same. All-day queues haunted the "shops" and kept clerical staffs within struggling to meet their demands. Men and women waited in line for hours to get their turn at the "beer and whiskeys" counter. Windsor had to stop issuing permits in mid-afternoon because store officials could not keep pace with the public's "wet" requirements.

London reports "a crush of customers" that completely swamped its store. From Kitchener comes the information that "a splendid business" was done all day.

Unfamiliarity of purchasers with regulations and the "greenness" generally speaking, of the "stores" staffs are accountable to no small extent, for the queues. Then the last-hour rush for permits, which, Chairman Hanna of the Liquor Board says, might have been secured last week. Issuance of tourist permits in all centres was insignificant.

Friday's story was the same only more so.

Kidnaping Plot Unearthed at Windsor.

Windsor.—A plot to kill Joseph Kevinsky, local millionaire, and kidnap his wife and daughter was uncovered recently, the police said, when four men were arrested. Those under arrest are: Frank Ward, barber at the Prince Edward Hotel, formerly of London; Arthur Lepage, 12 Pitt Street East; Hammond Hillster, Detroit, and Patrick O'Shea, aged 36, of 1029 Ouellette Avenue.

Kevinsky, who assisted detectives to trap the quartet of alleged Black Handers, who are said to have demanded $5,000 from him on pain of instant death to himself and son, kidnaping of his daughter and wife, and bombing of his place of business, received the death threat letter on May 25. Since then officers have been trailing the men, and Tuesday they fell into the clutches of the law through a tip over the telephone to Constable Walter Hall from an unnamed woman, who furnished the names and addresses of the alleged Black Handers.

Girl Changes Her Story, And Mother is Arrested

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.—James Thomas, John Harvey, Peter Dunn and Harry McAnch of Thessalon, charged with criminally assaulting a girl under 14 years of age, were honorably acquitted by Judge F. Stone, when it was brought to light that the whole affair had been a frame-up. The girl completely exonerated the men, and swore that her mother had concocted the story she had told at the preliminary hearing in March. Mrs. Mary S. Davey, the girl's mother, was arrested in the court room on a perjury charge and remanded until June 4, when she will face eight more charges in connection with the case.

Arrested for Speeding, Man is Held as Bandit

Windsor.—Arrested by Fod City constables after paying two fines in as many hours for speeding, George Parker, alias Bennett, who gave his address as 1534 Bruneth Avenue, Detroit, is held at Tecumseh in connection with the armed hold-up of Frank Benaski of Sandwich East, who claims to have been robbed of $150. Parker was first picked up for speeding and driving without lights on the Leperance Road by Tecumseh police. He admitted his guilt, and left $20 with the Chief Constable. An hour later Benaski reported he had been held up by an armed man answering Parker's description. A moment after the Ford City police were notified, and one of the Ford City constables brought in the suspect on a charge of speeding, for which he was assessed $23.50.

Benaski was taken to Ford City, and he immediately identified Parker as the hold-up man, the police said. Detectives are seeking a bobbed, blonde-haired girl, who is said to have been in Parker's car when he stopped Benaski.

Motorist Loses His Life Teaching Girl to Drive

Pembroke.—When the car he was driving turned over Saturday afternoon, Patrick Gorman of Douglas was instantly killed, receiving injuries about the head and his temple. An inquest was held a few hours later by Dr. J. Galligan of Eganville, and he declared death accidental. Mr. Gorman had been teaching Miss Margaret Neville, daughter of the proprietor of the hotel at which he boarded, to drive their car. He was at the wheel himself driving toward the C. N. R. Station when the accident happened. In some way he lost control of the car, and it turned over in a deep ditch. Miss Neville escaped with minor injuries.

Gasoline Tank Explodes While Mechanic Welds It

Tillsonburg.—William Cochrane of the Cochrane Foundry and Machine Co. had a miraculous escape from very serious injuries when a small gasoline tank which he was welding exploded in his face, causing very severe burns on the forehead, mouth and inside of the mouth. The fact that he was wearing a double pair of goggles saved his sight. Every precaution had been taken to make sure there was no gasoline in the tank, and the cause of the explosion remains unknown.

LIGHTS BLAMED

Jarius Maus of Hamilton is Killed and Three Others Injured.

Hamilton.—Glaring headlights of another car were blamed for a fatal accident on the Toronto-Hamilton Highway recently when Jarius Maus, 119 Napier Street, received injuries to which he succumbed within a few minutes.

When nearing the city the glaring headlights of another car caused Mrs. Hines, who was driving, to lose control of her automobile. The car went into the ditch and proceeded for 57 feet, then regained the pavement and proceeded for another 115 feet when it left the road for a second time and turned upside down in a ditch.

Maus was pinned under the overturned car and his head was crushed. Earl Walls, 110 Catharine Street South, and William Nevilles, 607 John Street North, proceeded to the General Hospital with Maus, but the latter died before that institution was reached.

An inquest will be held into the death of Maus. Detective Duffy, accompanied by Motorcycle Officer Maxwell, visited the scene of the accident and took the measurements of the wheel marks. Mrs. Hines stated that the speed of her car was not more than 25 or 30 miles an hour when the accident occurred. Mr. Maus will be buried in Paris. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Fred Slade, 156 Balsam Avenue, Toronto.

Another Triumph for Young Canada

Ghifford Bricker, Galt, Ont., marathoner, is shown with his father as he finished first in the Cairo marathon at Buffalo. Bricker broke the tape one minute and twenty-five seconds ahead of Johnny Miles, the Nova Scotia runner, who came third, and twenty-eight seconds before De Mar (second place).

A Rare Honor.

Paris.—Before leaving Paris Captain Lindbergh received another rare honor—one that but fifty men have had since 1821.

The Geographical Society, founded in that year, held a general assembly and voted to grant its "Great Medal of Gold" to the aviator for his New York-to-Paris flight.

Among those who received this honor in the past were Sir John Franklin, Arctic explorer; David Livingstone, and Rene Caille, French explorer of a century ago.

EGYPT OBJECTS TO SIRDAR WHILE RUSSIA BLAMES POLITICS

U.S. Promises Consideration to Border Note and Canada Welcomes Phillips.

PRINCE AND BALDWIN COMING.

A tense situation exists between Great Britain and Egypt owing to the efforts of the Zaghlulist extremists' section of the Egyptian Government to force the elimination of the few remaining British officers serving in the Egyptian Army, particularly the Sirdar, or Commander-in-Chief.

The issue has been created by recommendations of the Egyptian Parliamentary War Commission; one of these recommendations was the total removal of British representation on the Egyptian Army Council.

This measure is not acceptable to the British Government, and to forestall it a note was despatched to Egypt which the press generally characterizes as an ultimatum but which the Foreign Office maintains is a mere warning, containing no threat of any kind, but expressing a desire for co-operation between the British and Egyptian Governments to ensure the defence of Egypt.

It is further asserted that the despatch of British warships to Egypt is not a demonstration, but a precaution for the preservation of foreign life and property for which Great Britain has assumed responsibility. It is explained that excitable Egyptian mobs easily get out of control a times of political excitement.

Lindbergh Honored.

London.—The King and Queen gave Captain Charles Lindbergh a fitting welcome when he visited the Sovereigns at Buckingham Palace. The King pinned the Air Force Cross on the Captain's breast, patted him in a fatherly manner on the shoulder and sat down and listened for twenty minutes to a recital of one of the most venturesome voyages in the air that has ever taken place.

Queen Mary came in and sat in rapt attention, with eyes of admiration on the youth who has achieved what no man ever achieved before—a straight, swift race across the Atlantic from one great metropolis to another.

Later the Prince of Wales added his cheery greeting when Lindbergh called to see him, and perhaps more than most others entered into the real spirit of adventure in which the future King of England glories.

Politics Planned.

Moscow.—Maxim Litvinoff, Assistant Commissioner of Foreign Affairs and former Soviet Ambassador to London, in a note handed the British Charge d'Affaires, declared that he is not surprised at the British attack in breaking off relations with Russia, as he was aware that the Conservative Government had long prepared for a rupture.

The whole world sees that the cause of the rupture, he adds, is the defeat of the Conservative Government's policy in China, and an attempt to mask that defeat by a diversion directed against the Soviet. He hopes the time is near when the British people

FIRST LIQUOR FINE.

Toronto.—The first day of Government Control did not pass without infractions of the new law within the city and its environs. The first case in this district prosecuted under the Liquor Control Act was aired in the County Police Court, when Michael C. Kelly, a race-horse owner, pleaded guilty of having a bottle of whiskey at Thorncliffe Park without a Government permit. Magistrate Brunton imposed a fine of $100 and costs.

His Worship was not to be denied his customary witticism, for, after will find a way of realizing unhampered their ambitions for normal relations with the Soviet. Litvinoff emphatically denies all charges of violating the trade agreement.

War-Like Preparations.

An appeal issued in the name of the various Moscow unions urges workers and peasant youth to voluntarily enlist in the Red Army. It recommends that all unions send the best of their comrades to military schools for training.

The Council of People's Commissars has announced its decision to float two internal loans of 200,000,000 rubles each. It asks a nation-wide subscription to these loans for the national defence.

Chairman Tomsky of the Soviet trades unions, asserting that the British note points to the certainty of an open attack on the Soviet, maybe in a month or maybe in a year, declares the country must utilize the interim in the most effective manner to develop its military and economic defence.

The newspaper Pravda says the rupture "is the greatest treason to the cause of European peace since 1914," and that the danger of war upon the Soviet Union has never been more imminent since the Polish war of 1920.

The View in England.

London.—Great Britain's break with Russia receives the unqualified approval of financial London. The possible loss of trade is regarded as a very small matter when measured against the benefit which we should derive from the suppression of Russian communistic activities. Russia has derived most of the advantage from the trade which has been done, and its loss would disturb very few people. Loss of Chinese trade due to the Russian influence is infinitely more important.

Canada Considered.

Washington.—The United States Government has replied to Canada's note on the border ruling. It promises every consideration for Canadian residents working across the border during the six months in which they must try to conform to the United States immigration law and it conveys a virtual promise that British-born Canadians who cannot get a place on the quota this year will be granted an extension of time.

The note also promises continued study and co-operation with the Canadian Legation to "clear up difficulties and dissatisfaction with regard to border crossing," with a recommendation to Congress next session for the removal of anything inherent in the law "which tends to affect adversely the friendly relations between Canada and this country."

Phillips Welcomed.

Ottawa.—Enjoying the distinction of being the first of the British Dominions to be so recognized by the United States, Canada welcomed the first United States Minister to this country, Hon. William Phillips, when he recently arrived to present his credentials and locate offices and a residence.

Mr. Phillips was greeted at the Union Station first by Premier Mackenzie King and leading high officials.

some good-natured argument with Austin Ross, counsel for the accused, he turned to Kelly and said: "You are the first prosecution under the new act, but I suppose that's because you are a horseman and want to be at the head of everything."

P.E.I. Elections.

Charlottetown, P.E.I.—The Prince Edward Island Provincial elections will be held Saturday, June 25th.

While tennis is rather a quiet game, it can't be played without a racket.

SECOND OF NINE HISTORICAL SKETCHES BY JEFFERYS

(CUT OUT AND SAVE)

The production of foodstuffs must always remain Canada's basic industry. This is ensured by her very immensity, the fertility of her soil, and the bounty of Nature which decreases the variations of frost and snow, sunshine and rain necessary for the growth of fruit, grain and vegetables unrivalled the world over. In the item of wheat alone the year of Confederation saw a crop of 10,323,573 bushels for the entire territory now known as the Dominion of Canada; last year the total production of wheat was 406,209,906 bushels. In the last 60 years the development of machinery has made farm work much less laborious. In 1867 the cutting of grain by machinery was comparatively new, and the machines then in use were crude and unwieldy. In that year a Canadian company produced the hand-rake reaper, which was far superior to any manufactured before. On many a farm of that day the entire grain crop was cut by the old-fashioned cradle. An expert cradler, followed by a man with a wooden rake, who raked the windrows into sheaves and bound them with a wisp of straw, could harvest from three to four acres a day. Nowadays a power-driven reaper-thresher which cuts a 15-foot swath and carries a crew of two men, can cut and thresh forty acres in a day! The artist shows the old and new methods, together with another labor-saving device—a modern tractor.
