CHILDREN'S DAY PROGRAM

gather this morning in an act of worship to glorify God and to dedicate this spirit of internationalism, and in fitting that you should do so, in the deepest heart of union amongst men is not that of racial or national sentiment, but the worship of a common Father in whom they find themselves to be brethren. We must worship together if they can be made to live together. It is in gatherings such as this, in companies of Christian men and women of different people meeting together, worshipping together that the spirit of internationalism is exemplified and demonstrated in a practical way. And as we rejoice in this demonstration of good will and fellowship and the prayer of everyone here is, that as today we are united here in this service, so today Old Glory and the flag of the Land of the Maple stand side by side, symbolic of the century of international peace and good will, so in the future may Canadian and American stand shoulder to shoulder in that greatest of all campaigns, the campaign for world-wide brotherhood and internationalism, the campaign that shall not come until all men kneel in common worship around the altar of their common God and Father. God bless you in all that you do, and may you be blessed together in the time of harvest and new shall crop with their fellows, and our prayer shall pass away and the Prince of Peace and Love shall be enthroned in your hearts and lives of all men.

Lead on O King Eternal
The day of man's hope has come
Rings forth in fields of conquest
The tents shall be our home.
Through days of preparation
The grace has made us strong
Lead on O King Eternal
We lift our battle song.
