We present above a crypt plan of the new Port Dover Mausoleum. The plan enables the purchaser to choose the location of the compartments they prefer. The bottom of the cut faces the Port Dover-Simcoe highway. Turning to the right from the entrance the tiers are numbered from one to 50, and crossing the Central Chamber to the left from 31 to 60. The letters on the plan designate the tiers, A being the highest and E the lowest. In the basement the 35 crypt receiving vault shows in for temporary burial only — i.e., during excessive frosts, spring floods, or in the event of bodies being brought from a distance, the remains may be deposited here till weather conditions permit burial in the earth. The Chamber, in the center, is always available for services for the dead, whether entombed in the Mausoleum or buried in the earth, a feature which appeals powerfully to the public. In addition to the compartments in the main corridors, six private mausoleums are shown, and in many mausoleums decorative effects are obtained for purchasers who desire more elaborate architectural details — but even these effects are permitted only when they harmonize with the general tone of simplicity, dignity and solemnity which must characterize a memorial building of this type.

ROCHESTER
Rev. Wray L. Davidson of Simcoe, occupied the pulpit here on Sunday evening, taking as his subject, "A Changing World and Christianity." His splendid and forceful discourse was delivered to a very large and appreciative congregation.

Mrs. Alex. Angus is spending some time visiting with friends in Hamilton and Toronto.

Mr. Sanford Fearman and Howard and Gordon, of Hagersville, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Howard.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Anderson Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Morsefelder, of Rainham Centre.

The birthday social held by the W. M. S. was well attended on Friday evening. A good program was given.

FESTIVE SEASON WILL SOON BE HERE

and the usual happy dinner parties will be the means of joyful re-unions. What looks nicer than the best china set out upon a snowy white linen table cloth. In this instance we beg to draw your attention to the undermentioned items which will be offered by our Linen Section:

Double Satin Damask Table Cloths and Napkins at Half Price

These are sub standards — there is a flaw — often not noticeable and even when one can detect it, it will not detract from the weaving of the linen. Regular values —

Cloths $10.00 on sale at $4.99
Napkins $12.50 on sale at $6.75 doz.
The Napkins are 22x22 inches. The Cloths are 2x2 1/2 yards.

Women's $1.75 Silk Stockings $1.09. In 12 fashionable shades. Slight irregularities that you find difficult to detect. The best Silk Stocking bargain of the year.

The Sale of Wiltons and Axminster Rugs terminates one week from Saturday. The Rugs were purchased at an unusual advantage. Marked one quarter below the regular retail price. All room sizes. All new goods and very beautiful.
