Live Wire

(A Sermon in Verse).

To-day I saw living wire
Smitting fire among the mire;
With hiss and crackle spitting smoke,
A'hooh' its back was clearly broke:
And there for hours it writhed and lay

A menace in the public way—
At best amusing young and old
Who did the spectacle behold.

Such, thought I, is the potent man
Who has no special aim or plan.
"Live wire" his critics may allow,
And even enemies avow,
But what avails it to possess
Ability without a guess
If not controlled, or misapplied,
Or opportunity denied?

He must by destiny be doomed
To have his energy consumed
By wasting time with fruitless spitter.

Discharging fireworks in the gutter,
Because he cannot be a chooser
Not only he himself is loser,
But those that he might benefit
While to his fate he must submit
Whatever be the true objection
To giving him a good connection.

For me, a sorry sight to view
Compared to all the good I knew
It could perform with Force and Light
When functioning and hooked-up right.

The severed wire a sermon preached
Few pulpit-thumpers ever reached
By parable or apologue
In chapel, church, or synagogue!

Father—"Young man, I understand you have made advances to my daughter."
Young Man—"Yes, I wasn't going to say anything about it, but since you have mentioned it, I wish you could get her to pay me back."

The well-beaten path may not lead in the right direction.

What is Wrong With Zionism?

Zionism is facing a crisis in its attempt to build up a Jewish National Home in Palestine," asserts Ervin S. Axel, Ph. D., in November Current History. "Since August, 1926, more Jews have been leaving the Holy Land than are going there. In fact, immigration is practically suspended and this condition has been caused by an economic crisis due to a large amount of unemployment which in turn has caused a large financial deficit (in 1926, $23,408,000). The answer to the question, 'What is wrong with Zionism?' seems to be that, although Jews are financially and culturally very powerful all over the world, only the poor and unsuccessful Jew who has a heroic capacity to suffer but is without constructive experience, goes to Palestine. If rich Jewish bankers, manufacturers and merchants settled in Palestine permanently with their capital, Zionism would have at least a fair trial."

TONE UP THE BLOOD AND NERVES NOW

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Have No Equal for This Purpose.

Anaemia, or lack of good blood, causes not only pale faces and white lips; it is the root of many pains and miseries. It is the cause of shattered nerves, headaches and backaches, and the always tired feeling from which so many women and girls suffer. To regain new health and strength the blood should be enriched through the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This medicine has brought new health and strength to thousands of weak dependent people.

Among those who have found new health through the use of this medicine is Mrs. Gregory J. Murphy, West Ship Harbor, N. S., who says:—"I bless the day I heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before I began their use I was in a run-down and very weak condition. The least exertion would leave me breathless and tired out. Housework was a trial, and at times I felt very dependent. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I got six boxes. I had not been taking the pills very long until I began to improve in health, and continuing their use they restored me to my former good health. I also gave the pills to my daughter, who was anaemic and run-down, with the same good results. Now I always have the pills in the house and would not like to be without them."

Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from your druggist to-day, or send 50 cents to The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and a box will be sent you post paid. A little book, "Building Up the Blood," which explains the treatment, will be sent free on request.

Opposed to Slang.
Harold had been to Sunday school, and was asked by his sister, a few years older, what he had learned. The lesson was the story of Joseph, and the small learner was evidently full of his subject.

"Oh," he said, "it was about a boy, and his brothers took him out and put him in a hole in the ground, and then they killed another boy, and took the boy's coat and dipped it in the blood of this boy and—"

"O, no, Harold, not another boy!" his sister interrupted, horrified.
But Harold stood his ground.
"It was," he insisted. "I know the teacher said 'kid,' but I don't use words like that."

MADE HER BABY PLUMP AND WELL

Nothing makes a mother more grateful than a benefit conferred upon her child. Mothers everywhere who have used Baby's Own Tablets for their children speak in enthusiastic terms of them. For instance, Mrs. Zepherin Lavole, Three Rivers, Que., writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets are a wonderful medicine for little ones. They never fail to regulate the baby's stomach and bowels, and make him plump and well. I always keep a box of the Tablets in the house and would advise all mothers to do likewise." Most of the ordinary ailments of childhood arise in the stomach and bowels, and can be quickly banished by Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets relieve constipation and indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers, expel worms, allay teething pains and promote healthful sleep. They are guaranteed to be free from injurious drugs and are safe even for the youngest and most delicate child. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Arctic Tern

The tern is a beautiful, graceful bird, and from its skimming, darting flight is sometimes called the sea swallow. There are several varieties, including the black, common, roseate, least, sooty, bridled, and Arctic terns. The last named is about 15 inches in length, grayish above and pearly below, with red bill, deeply-forked tail, an wide wing-spread.

The Arctic tern is a great bird traveler, its migrations extending from the Arctic regions to the Antarctic. Over the thousands and thousands of miles of space their graceful wings carry them, from polar regions at the north, over north temperate, torrid, and south temperate lands and seas, to polar regions of the south.

In mid-June the bird appears in the Arctic, nesting as far north as land has been discovered. It keeps near to the shore, for much of its living is garnered from the waters.

Through the time while the eggs are hatching and the young birds growing, the Arctic terns enjoy the perpetual day of mid-summer in that northern "land of the midnight sun." For weeks, although the sun dips near the horizon, it never sets.

When the young birds are full-grown and have gained strength for traveling, the flight southward begins. Thousands of terns from along the northern coasts depart by the first of September. No ornithologist has been able as yet to trace their full flight, so their route—if like most migrating birds they have regular routes—is not wholly known.

Arrived in far southern lands, the sun has passed, and the sun now shines on the Antarctic regions, while at the north which they have left behind them, day disappears in the long night of winter. Thus it may be seen that the Arctic tern enjoys more hours of daylight during the year than any other living creature.

Is it love of light that prompts them to take the long journey twice yearly? If so, how do they know that the changing seasons will shift the weeks of daylight from one pole to the other? The wonders of nature are many, and not the least among them is this knowledge possessed by these beautiful birds, the Arctic terns, or sea swallows.

Button! Button! Where's the Button?

The housemother who may be called upon any minute to mend Johnnie's trousers, or match Florence's sash, or repair a run in a still new pair of chiffon stockings, needs all her wits about her.

The writer sought for her materials something better than a basket. She remembered that a smart dressmaker in her town kept her sewing utensils in a beautiful cabinet of many shallow drawers. Expensive cabinets, however, were not for this amateur. What was to be done?

One day, as she walked through the kitchen equipment section of a department store, she caught sight of a wooden apothecary box, about 18 inches high and 12 across, fitted with 8 small drawers. The price was $1. She bought it at once, for she saw her difficulty was solved. The sewing basket was promptly done away with, and its contents transferred to its new home.

Every one will have her own way of dividing the articles. The writer kept one bottom drawer for spoons of cotton; the other for sewing silks of many shades. Above, a drawer was given over to darning and embroidery silks and cottons, another to tapes, with the measuring tape tucked in. Yet another held hooks and eyes, and assorted snappers. Buttons of all sizes from the mother-of-pearl shirt button to the large cloak fasteners, had a drawer to themselves. The needle drawer housed the needle book, package-holder, darners and bodkins. The eighth compartment was for stray articles that come under none of these classifications.

It is eight years since that dollar was spent, and never since that day has it been necessary to disentangle threads or braids, or hunt for any sewing materials.

Keeping Lingerie Tapes in Place

Tapes and ribbons, which play an important part in the make-up of present-day undergarments, have a bothersome trick of pulling out of the casings. This may be entirely eliminated if, when the tape is first inserted, it is fastened to the casing with a few firm stitches in the very middle of its length.

The Villain—"Ha, ha! You shall be mine, my beauty, by fair means or foul!" The Heroine (absent-mindedly)—"Yes, of course, it's all right so long as you have means!"
