

DEBILITY DUE TO INDIGESTION

Perfect Digestion Comes Through Rich, Red Blood.

There can be no perfect digestion unless you have rich, red blood. This is scientifically true. It is also true that there is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for every other part of the body. The way, then, to tone up the stomach is to tone up the blood.

The many so-called stomach remedies merely try to digest your food for you. How much better it is to tone up the stomach so that it will do its own work as nature intended. There is no pleasure in eating pre-digested food. Tone up your stomach and your appetite and digestion will soon be normal.

If your digestion is weak and your blood thin you need the help of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to enrich the blood and restore strength. In addition use care in the selection of your food and your stomach trouble will soon pass away. Mr. Gordon Dundas, Peterboro, Ont., tells as follows what this medicine did for him. He says: "Something over a year ago I was a gasoline salesman when I was taken sick. I felt miserable and lost twelve pounds in weight. I did not sleep well and could not eat as I could scarcely retain anything in my stomach. I went to a local doctor who told me the fumes of the gas had got into my system. He gave me some medicine and told me I had better go to the country for a change of air. I did so, but I still felt listless and groggy, and had no ambition. On the advice of a friend I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had not been taking the pills long before I was beginning to rest better, and to eat fairly well. I kept on taking the pills until at the end of the seventh box I knew I did not need any more, as I had gained the weight I had lost, slept well and could eat anything. I have since had splendid health and cannot say too much in praise of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cts. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Working Girl Hostel for Port Elizabeth

Standerton, S. Af.—Mrs. Tonkin is South Africa's first woman factory inspector, and has now been responsible for the opening of the Working Girls Club at Port Elizabeth, which has done splendid work on behalf of the hundreds of young girls employed in the factories there. A new hostel at a cost of £10,000 is being built, and is, so far, the only one of its kind in the Union. It is proposed to erect similar industrial hostels in all large towns where welfare work for women is receiving attention.

It is felt in South Africa as in Great Britain that those associated with industry should keep before them two ideals, first that of associating the workers with any welfare efforts in the factory, and second that of inculcating into forewomen their responsibility for the welfare both of the industry and of the individual worker. Mrs. Tonkin has made a study of the great Federal Labor Bureau in America, and considers that "welfare work" in Great Britain and the Union is a much more elastic and comprehensive term than that known in America.

Public opinion in Germany is in entire agreement with the fundamental ideas of mutual understanding and peace.—Gustave Stresemann.

A Province-Wide Campaign To Prevent Motor Accidents

Highway Safety Committee Takes Spectacular Steps to Make for Greater "Traffic Consciousness"—Laws and Regulations to be Rigidly Enforced

An interesting campaign has commenced in Ontario with the idea of lessening appreciably the number of motor car accidents. While a concerted effort in accident prevention began on October 7 to last for a couple of weeks, the plan is to continue the work permanently in the hope that Ontario's streets and highways will be more safe for both motorists and pedestrians.

A serious problem has arisen in Ontario because of the sudden increase in the number of motor vehicles. At present nearly 400,000 cars are owned in the province. Even with this number the question of accident prevention would be of considerable importance, but at certain times the number of visiting motor cars equals the number owned. Several counts last summer established this fact so that Ontario has to deal with nearly 800,000 individual motor drivers. The chances are that this number will be exceeded during the touring season of 1928.

Form Special Committee To the end that accidents may be greatly lessened, a Highway Safety Committee has been formed. The executive of this committee has as its chairman the Ontario Minister of Highways, Hon. George S. Henry and the other members are W. G. Robertson, Secretary of the Ontario Motor League; J. F. H. Wyse, Secretary of the Ontario Safety League; S. J. Dickson, Chief of Police, Toronto; T. Marshall, Secretary of the Ontario Board of Trade; J. P. Bickell, Registrar of Motor Vehicles; and R. M. Smith, Acting Deputy Minister of Highways. Co-operating in an advisory committee comprising all editors, heads of municipal governments, police chiefs, presidents of boards of trade, automobile clubs and service clubs.

The executive have held a number of meetings during which every phase of the situation was discussed. The views of all experts were canvassed and finally boiled down to the conclusion that motor car accidents can be prevented by the exercise of common sense and courtesy. It was felt that the province had sufficient laws and regulations affecting motorists. The next step was to impress the individual driver with a sense of his or her responsibility. It was ascertained that many drivers with years of experience had failed to realize the great increase in traffic, while the motor car had become so common that dangerous drivers had not appreciated its dangers. In other words an effort had to be made to get the public "traffic conscious." Coming to concrete

Labor Government in Sydney Defeated

Sydney, N.S.W.—The state elections in New South Wales have ended in the defeat of J. T. Lang's Labor Government, which for a long time has been torn by internal dissensions and weakened by the Communist challenge for control of the Government.

The returns as yet are incomplete, but it is expected that Mr. Lang will be succeeded by Thomas R. Bavin, the opposition leader of the coalition of Nationalists and country parties.

Old-Fashioned Ways

Stella E. Fulton.

"When Grandma comes, I hope she won't upset Betty's training. She's so old-fashioned. I'm afraid she will want to interfere with the child's schedules and give her all sorts of impossible things to eat," Mrs. Treadwell had said when the vigorous old lady had announced her intention of making a visit.

But, on the contrary, Grandma had no suggestions to make regarding Betty—Betty who was fidgety about her food, restless and impatient, bursting into tears at slight provocation and altogether too pale and languid.

Betty lived in a household of grown-ups. Grandma enjoyed taking her to the movies any pleasant afternoon. Cousin Mary donated pink chiffon bonnets and white broadcloth coats. Her father brought home a pair of real kid gloves, just to see her eyes shine, and a doll so fragile and delicately arrayed, that someone had to be continually reminding her not to drop it, not to soil it. Mother took her on her shopping trips, proud of the attention she received in the stores.

And still Grandma said nothing. Until one day young Mrs. Treadwell remarked, "I don't see how mothers in your day ever succeeded in raising their families. They paid so little attention to diet!"

Grandma must have been slightly ruffled for she replied, "We weren't perhaps as careful of the food that went into their stomachs as you are, but we were a good deal more particular about the food we gave their minds. We maybe did give them too much spice in their victuals, but not so much in their amusements. We didn't dash in a lot of excitement on the top of a full day. We didn't take them about through crowds to over-stimulate and exhaust them. You say you don't want Betty to get a taste for higher seasoned food. Well, our children didn't get such a taste for excitement that they couldn't enjoy a quiet day at home, reading or working. Excitement arouses the desire for more excitement, just as the condiments you worry so about cause a desire for more condiments.

"You say that certain foods are a burden to a child's delicate stomach. We never made playthings a burden. A child ought not to be continually pestered about taking care of a fragile toy. If Betty were my child I'd put away that fancy doll until she were older. A simpler one would be better for her now.

"Her food isn't too rich but her clothes are. They are up more fit for a vigorous child than that rich pudding you refused her last night. They belong to her future.

"Our children were not always fed wisely, but perhaps they survived it all because they didn't have too much attention, too many people about, too much nagging about non-essentials, fussy clothes, elaborate toys or constant stimulation."

"But what can a mother do in this modern world? We can't live as you did then," said the younger woman.

"You can as far as the essentials go. Just as you choose for her simple food out of all that is on the table so you can learn to choose simple pleasures, quiet enjoyment and the child-companionship she so much needs."

Child Marriage Act is Placed in Effect

New York.—The Jenks Child Marriage Bill, requiring that persons under 21 years old must be married in churches or by justices of courts of record, went into effect recently, the result of a state-wide campaign by women's organizations to decrease the number of child marriages.

Under the new law youths under the age of 21 and girls under 18 must submit documentary proof of their age and the written consent of parents or guardians to the marriage, while it is forbidden to issue licenses to all youths under the age of 16 and girls under 14 years old.

Hamilton, Ont.—"After my baby was born I had terrible backache and headaches. I could not do my work and felt tired from the first minute I got up. But worst of all were the pains in my sides when I moved about. I had to sit or lie down for a while afterwards. I could keep my house in order, but many things had to go undone at the time, because of my ailments. I was told by a neighbor to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as she said it would build me up. I was relieved before I had taken the first one and have not had any trouble like it since."—Mrs. T.
