NORFOLK ENTERTAINS NEIGHBORING COUNTIES

An unique picnic was held on Tuesday, August 22, when at the invitation of the Warden of Norfolk (Mr. Roy Misner) the county councils and officials of Brant, Haldimand and Oxford met with the county council of Norfolk at the Provincial forestry station at St. Williams.

The party convened at the forestry station at 10.30 a.m. and were shown through the park and plantation by Mr. Frank Newman and assistants. The visitors were delighted to find such a beauty spot, especially as some could remember the old-time sandy land of this district. Mr. Newman, as usual, did all he could to make the visit pleasant and entertaining.

The party reassembled in the park at noon, when a delightful luncheon was served by the Women's Institute of Port Rowan and St. Williams. Sixty-eight in all sat down to the table.

After luncheon the Warden welcomed his guests and expressed his pleasure at the number who had travelled long distances to be present. He expressed the hope that the meeting would be both profitable and entertaining.

Mr. Frank Newman was called upon and said he felt honored to have representatives of four counties present. It was a unique event in the history of the forestry station. Norfolk is the home of the pioneer forestry station and though it was looked upon in the early stage by some with ridicule, yet when the stumps began to disappear and the young trees to grow up in the open spaces (Continued on Page 5)

THE JARVIS ANNUAL FALL FAIR

These are the days of the fall fair, and while we have considerable proof in various communities that it has suffered quite a decline in recent years, there are still enough of them left, and successful ones, to allay the fear that they will soon become totally extinct.

There will always be a place for the fall fair in communities that look upon it as something more than a money-making proposition. Always there will be a desire in the hearts of former residents to return for a reunion with friends of other days. Fraternalism is still a fact. Changing conditions cannot wipe out a lifetime of friendships. Racing may be doomed and the catch-penny carnival games may be outlawed, but there will always be those who want to see how adept their neighbors are at stock raising and how skilled they are in agricultural pursuits. Housewives will never tire of gazing upon the handiwork of those skilled in kitchen work or with the needle. And the kiddies, always ready for anything that smacks of amusement, would never be robbed of the fall fair if it could be left to their votes.

The number of fairs is declining; no one will dispute that fact. But those still in operation appear to be on a pretty solid basis, especially those which operate along the lines for which fall fairs were originally intended instead of on a collar-and-cent, money-making basis — such as the Jarvis Fall Fair for instance.

ERIE, PA., BUSINESS MEN VISIT AT PORT DOVER

That the Erie-Dover Ferry Service would be in operation next season and with a larger number of boats handling freight and passenger service if the business would warrant it, was the most important announcement made following the dinner in the summer garden last (Thursday) evening. It was the occasion of the visit of the officials of the Erie (Pa.) chamber of commerce and other public officials, the party arriving here at 11.45 on the steamer Erie, as guests of the company, and was immediately taken in charge by Reeve Misner and members and officers of the Port Dover Board of Trade. The party, after having been "snapped" by W. A. Gordon, were taken on a tour of inspection of some of the points of interest with which Norfolk abounds, including the forestry station and down through the Lyndoch tobacco plantations; then on through the most picturesque route to the county town, and finally back to Port Dover. It was an afternoon crammed with interest for the visitors and at six o'clock dinner was served at the summer garden, which had been generously handed over by Mr. Ivey for the occasion. The dinner was served by the Port Dover Women's Institute and the ladies surely out-did their all former efforts in the preparation of and serving of the dinner.

The arrival of the Hon. John S. Martin was the signal for the entire party to rise and tender the popular minister of agriculture a welcome home—for this was his first local appearance since returning from his tour of the Dominion with other delegates to the World's Poultry Congress. After dinner, Mr. A. B. Ivey, president of the Board of Trade, was forced to assume the role of chairman. Reeve Misner having been called away on account of the accident that had overtaken his father.

HON. JOHN S. MARTIN.
There was another outburst of cheering when Hon. John S. Martin rose to speak, showing the great popularity enjoyed by our Member not only in his home town, but by men in all walks of life beyond the boundaries of our own sphere. And Mr. Martin's speech was the gem of the evening. He regretted that he had not been able to go with the Dover delegation to Erie a couple of weeks ago, as he was away with the delegates of the great poultry congress, but he had read the glowing reports of the wonderful hospitality that had been extended to the visitors by the Erie chamber of commerce. However, he was delighted to be with them tonight, and to extend a most hearty welcome on behalf of the Dover Board of Trade, and, too, the Province of Ontario. He was very pleased to get here, but he had had very short notice and he was at the time busy in his office in Toronto, but he assured all present that it would take far more time than that distance to keep him away from such a gathering as this.

The citizens of Port Dover have for many years been keenly interested in the problem of harbor development and the people have for a number of years been looking forward to the time when they would have direct communication between Erie, Pa., and Port Dover. It was certainly a red letter day for Port Dover, and a red letter day, too, for Erie, when the Nicholson Erie-Dover ferry service was inaugurated and the short cut was officially announced and the boat service started.

In the old days people would say yes, its 45 miles from Dover to Erie, but when one stops to think of it the two places were just as isolated as if they were thousands of miles apart. Today, we were just beginning to realize, and to see and know each other, and we were becoming better acquainted.

Mr. Martin mentioned that he had but recently returned from a trip of some 8,000 miles, covering as it did about five weeks. He enlightened the visitors on some of the outstanding features of the great Province of Ontario, its size, importance, and its rapid growth; Ontario is teeming with wealth, and people do not realize this as much as they should; Ontario was the third largest gold producing country in the whole world, and when we speak of Ontario we are apt to think only of what is commonly known as "Old Ontario," overlooking the vast northern portion of the province was making rapid strides; new capital was pouring in, and the natural resources were opening new lines of opportunity; it was a wonderful country and was overrun with still more wonderful.

NANTICOKE W. I.

The monthly meeting of the Nanticoke Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Ashton Evans on Thursday, September 8th, at 2.30 p.m. The meeting was opened by singing the opening ode, followed by repeating the Lord's Prayer, after which the minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. A letter was read from the Sick Children's Hospital at Toronto, asking for a donation of fruit, but it was decided that we would send a box of fruit to the Dunnville Hospital at the October meeting. A short discussion followed on the erection of a monument for "White Peter." Mrs. W. H. Evans then gave a very interesting paper on the "History of Our School," naming all the teachers of the Nanticoke school from the beginning, when it was started in a log school house. The roll call was responded to by all present "Recipes: Jams, Jellies or Pickles." The meeting was closed by singing the National Anthem, after which a dainty lunch was served by our hostess. There were 10 present. A vote of thanks was extended Mrs. Evans for her kind hospitality.

The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Vokes.

NICOL-BUCK

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place on Saturday afternoon, September 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barker, Lake Shore road, Port Dover, when Miss Gertrude Buck, eldest daughter of Mrs. Nellie and the late Wm. Buck and sister of Mrs. J. R. Barker, of Simcoe, was united in marriage to Mr. Thomas Nicol, of Caledonia, formerly of Edinburgh, Scotland.

Promptly at 4 o'clock to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, played by Mrs. J. Frank Walker of Hamilton, the bride entered the drawing room, escorted by her mother who gave her in marriage.

The bride was lovely in a gown of ivory brocade crepe and georgette, the material being a gift brought from far-off Japan by a girl friend. The bride's veil was becomingly arranged and caught with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of opelia roses.

The ceremony took place under a beautiful arch of asters and fern and was conducted by Rev. J. H. Neill of Chesapeake. Three little nieces of the bride, Misses Aileen and Ruth Barker and Miss Emma Buck, acted as flower girls, carrying baskets of roses.

Over 50 guests witnessed the ceremony, many coming from Simcoe, Delhi, Caledonia and other points, where the bride had served as a school teacher. The popularity of the happy couple was proven by the large number of handsome and costly gifts received. The bride's gift from the groom was a beautiful white gold wrist watch and each of the little flower girls received a pearl necklace. During the signing of the register Miss Bessie Kent, of Delhi, sang "O Promise Me."

A sumptuous banquet was served on the spacious lawn, where special tables had been placed to accommodate the many guests, after which Mr. and Mrs. Nicol left about 6.30 p.m. for Toronto, Kingston and other eastern points. The bride's travelling dress was of heavy flat crepe in shades of brown and tan, with coat, hat, shoes, etc., to match. Upon their return they will take up residence in Caledonia.

The members of the Baptist church are holding a re-opening service on Sunday next, September 18th. There will be service both morning and evening, at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. Dr. J. B. Moore, of Waterford, will be the speaker of the day. There will also be special music in the morning. Mrs. Ernest Lindsay will sing. In the evening Mr. George Walker, one of the boys from here, will bring singers from the Trinity Baptist church, Hamilton.

A great many know the church has been repaired recently, and as we have been holding our services at the lake during the summer, and have just come back, we felt it an opportune time to hold this service. The offering morning and evening will be towards the repair fund of the church.

Come and worship with us and enjoy the services of the day.

VARENCY W. I.

Mrs. Hodge thanked the ladies of the Institute for the flowers sent her in appreciation of her services during the past year. After community singing a short programme was given consisting of readings by Mrs. Hodge and Mrs. Wood, and Victrola selections. Mrs. Wm. McNeilly led the Roll Call on "Labor Saving Devices." The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem, after which luncheon was served.
