5,000 FACTS ABOUT CANADA

Frank Yeigh's popular compilation, "5000 Facts About Canada," for 1928, is out, having reached its improvements, including an illustrated section and 25th year. The edition is marked by many tables showing the marked progress of the Dominion in a quarter of a century, while the stirring story of our national development in a single year is strikingly shown in a series of crisp paragraphs in 50 chapters, ranging alphabetically from "Agriculture" to "Western Canada."

No publication sells Canada—not only to Canadians but to the world—more effectively than this tabloid encyclopaedia, and one can well understand that it has a large circulation. It may be had from leading news-dealers or by sending 35c for a copy to the Canadian Facts Pub. Co., 508 Huron St., Toronto.

Quebec Annual Folk Song and Handicraft Festival

1. Photograph from a painting showing a group of epicures as to be described in the "L'Ordre du Bon Temps" at the Quebec Festival. 2. The Chateau Frontenac, one of the finest hotels in the Dominion, belonging to the chain of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Announcement of the dates of the second Canadian Folk Song and Handicraft Festival to be held in Quebec this spring, has been made in Montreal by the Canadian Pacific Railway, under whose auspices the event is being promoted. From Thursday, May 24, until Monday, May 29, the ancient city of Quebec will be crowded with music lovers and travellers from all parts who will foregather to witness, take part and compete in the festival, to which famous composers have especially contributed, and in which great conductors, musicians, and singers will appear beside the French Canadian habitant singer to commemorate whose unique folk music the celebration is being held.

Individuals of international repute associated with the London Conservatory of Music, the Metropolitan Opera of New York, the Paris Opera, the Chicago Grand Opera, the Boston Opera, the Toronto Conservatory of Music and the Dominion College of Music at Montreal, will be participating in one role or another. Ottawa, Montreal, and Quebec will each contribute singers and musicians to render the attractive, chanted, folk-songs, and music, typical to the French Canadian habitant, upon which the whole musical scheme is based.

From a musical viewpoint, the feature of the affair will be the production of the thirteenth century troubadour comic opera, "Le Jeu de Robin et Marion," of Adam de la Halle, said to be the first composition of this nature known in the history of music. This ancient comic opera is, strangely enough, highly relevant to the folk songs and music of the French Canadian habitant of today, as in it are incorporated many of the folk ballads of the thirteenth century. From that period and the succeeding two centuries the French Canadian immigrants drew their music and have preserved it, little altered by the passage of time, unaffected by the developments of that music in the old world.

Of equal attraction will be the specially composed ballad opera, "L'Ordre du Bon Temps," based on a society of good cheer founded by Champlain at Port Royal in 1608. There will be many other musical and dance numbers to be produced in the Auditorium theatre and at the Chateau Frontenac.

The officials of the National Museum, the National Gallery, and Canadian Archives at Ottawa, have combined to assist the festival in every way and have supplied materials to form part of the exhibit of handicrafts and domestic industries depicting the life of the habitant. These will be elaborated on by a number of skilled crafts-women.

The festival will be of the greatest musical significance and will be contributed to and directed by musicians and connoisseurs of folk songs, and singers of international repute. It will be under the direction of Dr. Marius Barbeau, of the Victoria National Museum at Ottawa, and Mr. Harold Eustace Key, musical director of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Trout and Salmon Await Anglers' Flies

With winter snows dispersing rapidly and ice dissolving into lakes and streams; with the rising of sap and budding of trees, memories of anglers awaken picturing streams where one would wish to fish, days

"When even the deep blue heavens look glad, And gladness breathes from the blossoming ground."

The waters of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario have all their devoted followers waiting for the ice to disappear. These anglers are always eager to try new fishing grounds, and they will have new waters this year, according to Wm. Barber Haynes, writing in "Outdoor Life and Recreation." The latest bid for the favor of the sportsman is the opening of part of that famous salmon river, the Restigouche, to any sportsman who can pay a sum for a day's fishing. Heretofore, it has been impossible for anybody to fish the Restigouche unless he rented fishing water for a term of several years. Now the province has made it possible for men in ordinary circumstances to put up money enough for the realization of anglers' dreams—a week's fishing for the salmon of the Restigouche in New Brunswick.

The season for salmon in New Brunswick is from May 24 to September 30. In the Restigouche River and its tributaries, such fishing is permissible from April 1 to August 15 only; the limit is 30 per week. The salmon season in Nova Scotia is from February 1 to August 31.

Quebec's trout streams are many and widespread, and are easily reached making them deservedly popular both with Canadian and American fishermen. Satisfying sport is to be had in the streams in the Lake Edward district north of Quebec City. The Province of Quebec has a wealth of attractions for the sportsman. No portion of the North American continent is more richly endowed with fish and game. The innumerable rivers, streams, lakes and great stretches of forest offer an almost bewildering selection to the man planning a hunting, fishing or canoeing trip. The trout season in Quebec province is from May 1 to September 30 for speckled trout, and from December 2 to October 14 for the lake trout.

Ontario's most celebrated trout country embraces rivers and streams north of Lake Superior whose names many anglers are already familiar with. In this section special bungalow camps are at your service, operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway, they afford every advantage of an outdoor life just slightly lightening the hardships especially for those who wish to have greater comforts than a tent and camp outfit affords. The season here opens May 1. Distant fields are always green, and distant streams appear more green, while pools grow darker as imagination pictures fishing days in spring.

Here and There

The Rocky Mountain Lakes fishing season was opened recently with a catch of a thirty-two pound lake trout by George Andrews of Banff, in Lake Minnewanka. A number of others of not such a great weight were caught by guests of the Banff Springs Hotel.

The month of April was the most successful so far this year from the standpoint of families settled, according to a statement issued by the Canada Colonization Association. During the month 81 families were settled throughout the Dominion on 19,249 acres of land, bringing the total of settlements from the first of the year up to 224 on 46,207 acres.

There are in Alberta today 77,192 farmers who have 834,324 horses in use and 10,225 tractors. In Saskatchewan records show 116,762 farmers with 1,199,566 horses and 21,367 tractors. Manitoba has 51,200 farmers with 356,480 horses and 10,833 tractors. The survey would indicate that while the horse is yet far from being a back number on Western Canadian farms, the day of the tractor has definitely arrived.

Miss Jean Cameron, who came to her parents from England at the age of four, at ten commenced trapping in the district of her father's homestead. Today, at the age of 21, she finds it quite a lucrative and congenial pursuit, and quite superior to any occupation which would keep her in the city. She follows a trap line within a ten mile radius of her house and her catch includes coyote, lynx, weasel and fox.

A record passage by a freighter and one that has only been expected of a passenger ship was recently accomplished when the Canadian Pacific Cargo steamship Beaverburn docked at the Surrey Commercial Docks, London, nine days after leaving Montreal. The trip was the first out of Montreal of one of the new "Beaver" vessels and this record will be clipped by from twelve to fifteen hours now that the Beaverburn and vessels of her class are routed via the Straits of Belle Isle.

Seed growing is one of the latest industries of Vancouver Island of steadily increasing importance. Vancouver Island sweet pea seed sells on the English market from three to four shillings per pound more than the California seed. The largest sweet pea seed farm is at Duncan, which produces yearly about two tons. From 15 to 20 women are employed each year to pick, clean and pack the seed, the excellence and high quality of which is becoming world-famous.

All the sport of fishing with a minimum of destruction of fish was realized recently when a party of four members of the Izak Walton League of American enjoyed a fortnight's salmon fishing on the Gains River, New Brunswick. The party took 150 salmon and returned them all to the water except two. The fish weighed from 25 pounds to an average of fifteen lbs and were taken with barbless hooks and streamer flies. Very fine sport was enjoyed but the fish were in no way injured, when returned to their native stream.
