ROCKFORD

Mr. C. J. Bell, of Toronto, representing the Ontario Prohibition Union, delivered a splendid address from the pulpit here on Sunday evening. His text was Prov. 14:34 "Righteousness exalted a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people." He clearly showed that drink was a sin and a reproach to our country. "You can not buy boots and booze with the same dollar." He told of the great victories that the temperance forces had won in the past and exhorted us to do our best to win another victory and banish this curse from our land. The attendance was not as

Trail Riders' Third Annual Pow-Wow

1. Ready to go after pitching camp. 2. Scouting ahead.

The grave old mountains that surround the beautiful little Parmigan valley near Lake Louise will hear and see things this summer that will remind them of the good old days when Indian hunters and warriors made the hills echo with their shouts when they danced about their great campfires; for this lovely spot has been chosen by the Order of Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies to be the place where they will hold their annual Pow-Wow on August 1, following the official trail rides.

Many parties have camped in Parmigan valley, but never such a one as there will be this summer when trail riders gather from all over the world to attend their great feast. Then the deep silence of mountain and lake will be broken for one day when the hoof-beats of several hundred ponies sound through the valley.

From all indications the Pow-Wow of 1926 will be bigger and merrier than those of previous years. At noon on August 1, two parties of trail riders will meet at the camp in the valley, pitch their tents, and when night falls, light a great fire around which the official ceremony will be held, and join in singing trail riders songs.

There will be two official trail rides this summer, both a five-day ride and a three-day ride. Members going on the longer ride are meeting at Lake Louise, so famous for its beauty and its magnificent Canadian Pacific Chateau, on July 29, and following the trail to the to Mosquito Creek, making a side-trip to Bow Pass, then up over Molar Pass, and up the little Pipe-stone to Baker Lake, so by Parmigan Lake to Parmigan Valley. They plan to make 20 miles a day for the first three, 16 miles on the fourth day, and 9 miles on the fifth.

Those taking the three-day ride will start from the Banff-Lake Louise road and follow the trail past Johnstone Creek to Baker Creek and Baker Lake, and so to Parmigan Valley. This party will travel more leisurely, making about 14 miles a day for the first two and nine miles on the third day. After the Pow-Wow all the trail riders will return to Lake Louise by Corral Creek.

The Order of the Trail Riders is just three summers old this year, and already has a membership of about 600, more than 100 of which have named buttons showing that they have travelled more than 2,500 miles.
