A Real Game of Patience

Have you ever played a game called "Patience"? It whittles away an idle hour very pleasantly and, of course, you can throw down the cards and quit any time you please.

There is a place, however, where they play another kind of "Patience," and they can't leave off when they wish.

George is at it—he is in an inmate of the Toronto Hospital for Consump-tives at Weston—has been there for three years now. For a chap who used to lead an active outdoor life this is hard. A few months ago his wife and her mother died leaving him little five-year-old son to the care of relatives.

How George does wish he could get his health back quicker so that he can look after his boy. It has been a long fight, but he is sure he will win—and so do the hospital nurses and doctors who are helping him.

Wouldn't you like to help in this kind of work through the "Patience" Contribution? May be you can contribute. Write to: W. A. Charlton, President, 200 College Street, Toronto 2, Ontario.

VANENCY W. I.

The March meeting of the Vanency Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Doughty on Thursday, March 1st, with 21 members and three visitors present.

The meeting opened with the Opening Ode, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison, after which the business was discussed.

The program consisted of community singing, "O Canada," piano duet, by Margaret Doughty and Cora Henning; a paper, "The Mechanical Washerwoman," by Mrs. J. Furlong; piano duet, by Annie and Helen Miller; reading, Mark Twain's "After Dinner Speech," by Kathleen Miller; piano solo, by Cora Henning. Mrs.
H. K. Saunders gave a short sketch of the "Early Educational History of Norfolk County," written by J. A.
Bennister. A very interesting feature was the photo gallery contest.
Mrs. McNelly was successful in guessing the greatest number. The meeting closed with the National Anthem, after which lunch was served.
The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. B. Lundy.

Name Famous in Business History Is Merged With That of Great Railway

W. S. Stout,
President of Canadian Pacific Express Co.

There is much of Canadian business history hidden behind the recently announced fact that the Dominion Express Company has changed its name to Canadian Pacific Express
Co.

During almost half a century of service to Canada and the Canadian people the name of the old company has come to be a household word across the country, and it would be a regrettable fact that this old name should pass were it not for the fact that the institution it represents assumes a name even more closely identified with Canadian history and more widely representative abroad of the varied activities of Canadian life.

When forty-four years ago W. C.
Van Horne, later Sir William, then vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, desired to place the express service on the company's lines in the hands of a regular express company, the Dominion Express Company which had been incorporated in 1873, was formed with W. S. Stout, a very young expressman as Superintendent. His job was to give service over Canadian Pacific lines extending from Rat Portage now Kenora in the east of Oak Lake in the west, a distance of 445 miles and he was able to carry on with a horse and second-hand wagon and seven agencies.

When the same Mr. Stout, who has for many years been president, announced the change of name a few days ago, that one horse and wagon and seven agencies had increased to over 400 agencies scattered all over Canada and to the far corners of the earth while fleets of motor vehicles bearing the name of the company plied the streets of all the principal cities of

The present general office of the company at Toronto.

Co. Winnipeg 1882.

the purpose for which they were made In 1884 operations were extended from Rat Portage to Port Arthur and a traffic route formed using steamers between Owen Sound and Prince Arthur's Landing as Port Arthur was then called. This arrangement continued until the eastern and western lines of the company were joined on the north shore of Lake Superior.

To develop traffic in advance of the laying of Canadian Pacific rails, the express company went ahead by means of wagon stage routes some of which served the public for a number of years. Shippers will recall the Ayr-Paris and Brant ford route, which was opened in 1892 and continued as a stage route until 1903. Other stage routes in the east continued for twenty-five years and the same thing took place in the west where very frequently lake and river steamers took the place of the stage. It was in 1896 that the company first engaged in the money order business which has developed into a large part of its activities.

Says Rose Descat in Her Weekly Letter From France

More snug than ever before, if that is possible—close, close to the face—skin smooth with a swift, sharp turn over the left eye—and another subtle touch, truly Parisian, is the joining of the diminutive brim to the crown in cut-out tab fashioned—the joining almost imperceptible, so cleverly is it done. The originals are here at...

from the originals), by our own clever milliners

$7.50, $9.00 and $12.00

HOUSEWARES SALE
"In the Downstairs Store"

Every household task has been revolutionized since the days when Grandmother blistered her hands on the flatiron. Science has exploded the old beliefs as unsound and unsanitary. Engineers have created appliances capable of attaining the new high standards of housekeeping. Drudgery has been banished. Machines and correctly designed utensils now perform in a jiffy tasks that oil-worn hands formerly labored over. There is a new leisure, a new portion of life to be enjoyed by the women who take full advantage of these new helpmates.

And this new Spring Exposition brings them to you in their helpful entirety.
