FINANCIAL NEWS

City Dairy Named as Party to Important New Affiliations

The Financial News Bureau understands that new affiliations in the dairy industry in Canada are in the making, and that if, as and when the news breaks it will be important from a stock market standpoint. One company named in merger proceedings is City Dairy Company and the other the Canadian interests of Borden Company which is one of the largest operators in dairy products in the United States and has lately increased in ramifications in the Dominion. If the amalgamation is consummated, the Canadian interests of Borden Co. will come under the wing of City Dairy Company. It is understood that two other large dairies operating in Canada may be involved. Rumor has linked up Farmers Dairy and City Dairy, but the Financial News Bureau is informed that other plans are involved for this successful organization and that it may form the principal unit in another affiliation.

The advance that has taken place in City Dairy shares, without any official explanation, probably is due to the fact that negotiations have not reached a stage where a definite announcement can be made.

County of Middlesex Rejects all Tenders

All tenders for the debentures of the County of Middlesex have been rejected. Bids were called up till Wednesday, 19th, on an issue of $132,748, 5% 15-year debentures, and Thursday it was announced that tenders were unsatisfactory and were therefore turned down. The offering will doubtless be repeated at a later date when more favorable conditions prevail in the bond market.

What Will you do

When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhoea checked. A vegetable product; a baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that baby becomes fretful, or restless. Castoria is never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every druggist has it.

Ontario Cavern Termed Rival of Mammoth Cave

Veteran Prospector Discovers Natural Wonder and Skeletons of Two Traders

Toronto, Ont.—Tucked in the wilds of Algoma a cavern has been discovered that may rival Kentucky's Mammoth Cave. T. B. Fraser, veteran prospector, made this discovery and at the same time unearthed the skeleton of the early trading days.

Within 20 yards of the entrance to the great cavern he found the skeletons of two fur traders, lost, it is believed, fully a century ago. Along the walls were their muskets and other trading effects.

Exploration Planned

Fraser is now preparing to lead an expedition back to the scene of his discoveries, which, it is hoped, may throw light on Algoma's pioneer history. It is just 300 years since Etienne Brule, the first white man to traverse Ontario and northern Michigan, saw the great St. Mary's rapids, but in the two centuries following practically nothing is known of the district's inhabitants.

Fraser claims great things for his cavern and the hidden lake on which it is located. He traced the vaulted passages of his cavern back fully a mile before huge bats, added to the discovery of the skeleton, removed the urge for further exploration. Glimmering crystals of brilliant colors flashed back the light of his torch, he says, and made a gorgeous spectacle.

Death of Traders a Mystery

How the fur traders perished by the lake remains a mystery. Fraser thinks starvation ended their wanderings. There was evidence, he said, that they had lived for some time in the cavern. Shelves had been cut in the stone by their abode and time had failed to remove all the remnants of their habitation within the rock.

The region in its animal life more or less resembles a zoo, according to the prospector's description. He saw huge turtles, he claims, caught giant speckled trout and found lizards at least three feet long.

HAD NO APPETITE WEAK AND DIZZY

This New Brunswick Woman Restored by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mrs. James Belyea, Brown's Flat, N.B., says:—"I am writing to tell you the great good I had through the timely use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My health had failed and I was troubled with great weakness. I had no appetite and frequently had dizzy spells. The least exertion would make my heart palpitate violently and I felt tired at all times. I had doctored a great deal without getting much relief, and was feeling greatly discouraged when I finally decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The happy results following the use of this medicine can be summed up by saying that I am again perfectly well, able to do my housework and enjoy life once more. I feel it a duty to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all weak people."

If you have any, or all, of the symptoms above noted, do not delay, begin treatment at once with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. You will be surprised to note the improvement in your condition after a few weeks. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. If you will send your name and address a little booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free.

Lyon Hopes to Become Air Center of Europe

Lyon—The world's finest flying field is planned by the city of Lyon. "This should be the air travel junction point of Europe," says Louis Pradel, president of the chamber of commerce, which has a fifty-year contract with the government to operate the airfield.

To get ready for the passenger and freight liners that are expected to ply the air lanes, the present Bron airfield, three miles from the city, is to be greatly enlarged and flanked with buildings and hangars to handle a traffic that is only anticipated. The chamber of commerce, after spending $200,000 on the terminal, expects to lose money for a few years.

A commission of experts traveled Europe hunting for ideas, finding much of value in Germany and Holland. The members believe their plan will be a model for the future, "at least for Europe."

Scene, a Glasgow railway station. Old Lady (for the twentieth time): Is this really the train for Ayr? Porter: Well, mum, the board of directors, the stationmaster, the signalman, the guard, the driver and myself think so, so I suppose it must be!

Club Pro: "Have you played much golf?" Novice: "Well, a fairish bit, of course." Club Pro: "I'm Let's see how you shape. Take your stance." Novice: "Which club is that?"

Biggest Hydro-Plane Ready for Trial Flight

Travemunde—The biggest hydro-airplane ever made in Germany has arrived at Travemunde from the Ruhr. It will soon have its trial flights, preparatory to being put into operation on the Lubeck-Travemunde-Copenhagen-Oslo route.

The plane, a Rohrbach-Rona, is more than twenty-six feet high, and eighty-five feet long, and measures more than 124½ feet from wing-tip to wing-tip. Three motors, furnish 2,000 horsepower, and the radius action will be about 2,500 miles. A great Dornier Superwal (super-whale) is already in service on this route, has four 450-horsepower Bristol-Jupiter motors.

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels; banish constipation and indigestion; break up colds and simple fever and make teething easy. ## Viking Ships of To-Day

Pliny the elder tells us that in the reign of Nero the Romans voyaged as far north as the Baltic, and Tacitus goes on to describe what lies beyond—that they knew, at any rate, the southern portion of the Scandinavian peninsula.

There are yet other proofs from a far earlier age in the rock-carvings or ruins called "helleristinger," dating away back to an age not less remote than 500 years B.C.

These carvings represent ships, some of them being quaint representations of sea-fights, the boats being somewhat similar in appearance to those used by the Vikings of the ninth and tenth centuries of our era. Rude as these rock-carvings are, they give us some idea of the kind of vessels employed in that very remote age; they represent long rowboats with very high carved prows or sternposts, and are steered not by a rudder behind, but by an oar at the side, and from this practice is derived our word "starboard" or "steerboard," being the right-hand side of the vessel.

The Vikings used also a square sail, which could be hoisted when required. This they learnt indirectly from the Romans.

The traveller among the fjords of Norway may, to this day, see those heavy boats with high prows and square sails, which have an indescribable air of antiquity about their build, contrasting quaintly with more modern-built craft of coasting vessels and fishing-smacks.

These old-fashioned boats are a link between us and the remotest past of Scandinavia, of the early period of the rock carvings, and of the romantic period of the Vikings.

Every peasant and cotter has his own boat or boats, and these may be seen everywhere along the fjord, either in use on the water, or pulled up on the strand, and, where there is found a convenient landing-place, log-built boathouses are erected.—A. Heaton Cooper, in "The Norwegian Fjords."

Veterinarians use Minard's Liniment.

"What do you think of Brown's wife?" "She is as pretty as a fairy tale." "Ah, you mean 'Once upon a time.'"

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

HIS FOND IMPRESSION

"Certainly not," replied the lady with steady eyes, "I am the bride's mother."

FARMER'S WIFE GETS STRENGTH

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wilton, Ont.—"I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound through the Change of Life. It helps me and I cannot praise it too highly. I was troubled with heat flashes and my limbs were heavy so I could hardly walk to do my farm work. I saw in the newspapers your ad about the Vegetable Compound and thought to give it a trial. The first bottle gave me relief and I have told others what it does for me. I am willing for you to use my letter if you choose."—Mrs. D. B. Peters, Wilton, Ontario.
