HEALTH SERVICE
 of the
CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSN.

DOES YOUR CHILD SEE?
 When a child is blind in both eyes, the condition is, of course, recognized. There are many children who have defective sight, which fact is unknown to their parents. That this is so is evidenced every year by the number of children entering school, who are fitted by school physicians to have defective eyesight.

The good work of the school health services does not provide for the preschool child, or for the child who attends school where there is no school physician or nurse.

A child should be able to recognize a picture or object one-half an inch square at twenty feet. Each eye is tested separately, one eye being covered with a card during the test of the other. For near vision, a picture book may be used. If there is any appreciable defect in either eye, for near or distant vision, the family physician should be consulted.

Cross-eye is a condition which is frequently neglected because of ignorance as to its significance by parents. Children with this condition should be placed under medical care without delay. A cross-eyed child sees double. This causes confusion and so the mind trains itself to pay attention only to the image that comes to it through the straight eye. This results in one eye's being developed through use and the other's becoming useless because it is not used.

Unless the condition is properly treated early, the child loses the use of one eye and is actually blind in that eye. If the child is treated between two and three years of age, the most or all of his vision can be saved; the longer treatment is delayed, the more vision is lost. Cross-eye is a condition that does not correct itself. Children do not grow out of it.

If the child is placed sitting, facing the parent, an arm's length away, with one eye covered by the parent's hand, and is made to look at the parent's nose with the uncovered eye, the parent will find that, on uncovering the other eye, it is either looking at the nose, which means that no cross-eye is present, or that it moved in or out, or remained crossed in or out, which is an evidence that cross-eye is present.

Your children will appreciate, in later years, your care of this special organ.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered by letter. Questions as to diagnosis and treatment will not be answered.
