OLD AGE PENSIONS

In view of the uncertainty which exists in the public mind regarding the purpose and scope of the old-age pension the following outline of the enactment may be of interest:

Qualifications under which a person may be eligible for pension:
(a) Is a British subject, or being a widow who is not a British subject, was such before her marriage;
(b) Has attained the age of seventy years;

(c) Has resided in Canada for years;

(d) Has resided in the Province in which the application for pension is made for five years;

(e) Is not an Indian as defined by the Indian Act;

(f) Is not in receipt of an income of as much as $365 a year, and
(g) Has not made any voluntary assignment or transfer of property for the purpose of qualifying for a pension.

The maximum pension payable is $240 yearly, which shall be subject to reduction by the amount of the income of the pensioner in excess of $125.00 a year.

Where a man and wife can both qualify each is entitled to a pension. Ontario Parents Maintenance Act.

Under this act, a son or daughter having sufficient means is bound to provide for the maintenance of a dependent parent. The Old Age Pension Act will not relieve a son or daughter from this obligation.

Provisions with regard to pensions:
(a) Where the pensioner is the owner of an interest in a dwelling house in which he resides and the Old Age Pensions Commission of Ontario accepts a transfer of it to such interest the pension is not subject to any reduction thereof, but the Commission on the death of a pensioner or upon his ceasing to occupy such dwelling house may sell such interest and retain out of the proceeds the amount of all payments made to the pensioner in excess of the amount he would have received if such interest had not been transferred to the Commission.

(b) The right to the Commission to recovery of pension payments out of a deceased pensioner's estate, but this right is not to extend to property passing to another pensioner or to a person who has assisted in maintaining the pensioner, and in not assignable except as hereinafter provided:

(c) The pension is not to be liable to any provincial or municipal taxation, and cannot be attached or seized under any legal process, and is not assignable except as hereinafter provided:
(d) Where a pensioner is incapacitated or if it is considered that the pensioner is using his pension otherwise than for his own benefit, the pension may, with the consent of the pensioner, be assigned to any person or corporate body undertaking the maintenance and care of the pensioner.

(e) The receipt of a pension shall not disqualify any person from voting at any provincial or municipal election.

(f) The Ontario act also contains a provision that, with the consent of the pensioner, the pension, or any part thereof may be assigned to any person or corporate body undertaking the maintenance and care of the pensioner.

Applications for Pensions:
(1) For the purpose of determining the age of any person regard may be had to any of the following documents:
(a) Certificate of birth.
(b) Certificate of baptism.
(c) Entries in a family Bible or other genealogical record or memorandum of the family of the pensioner.
(d) The returns of any census taken more than thirty years before the date of the application for such pension.
(e) A statutory declaration setting forth that none of the certificates above referred to in this regulation are obtainable, and a further statutory declaration as to the age of the pensioner by any person who has knowledge of the fact.

(2) The pension authority, however, shall not be bound to accept evidence mentioned in this clause, and may accept other evidence not herein mentioned.

AMOUNT OF PENSION.
Where the applicant has an income of $365 a year or more, no pension can be granted. The maximum pension of $240 a year is to be reduced when the pensioner has an income in excess of $125 a year, so that the pensioner's income will not exceed $365 a year. For example, if the pensioner has an income of $200 a year the pension will be $165.

Where the applicant has not resided in Ontario during the whole of the past 20 years, but has resided in one or more other Provinces during that period he will be entitled to receive the full amount of the pension in Ontario provided the other province or provinces in which he has so resided are under the Dominion Old Age Pensions Act. At present these provinces are: Alberta, British Columbia, Manitoba and Saskatchewan and also the Yukon Territory.

Where during part of the 20 years the applicant has resided in a province in which the act is not in force, he will only be entitled to be paid in Ontario a proportion of $20 per month for each year in which he has resided in such other Province.

Where a pensioner transfers his residence some place out of Canada, the pension ceases.
It might be well to conclude with a few "don'ts" for applicants:
Do not apply for pension application forms until you have proof of age as set out in this article.
Do not neglect to answer every question on the application form, either "yes" or "no" or "not applicable." Questions unanswered nullify the form.
Do not write illegibly.
Do not neglect to swear as to the truth of your application.
All applications must be in handwriting.

Here and There

Canada has one motor vehicle for every nine persons of population. A recent estimate places the aggregate number of motor vehicles in the Dominion at 1,076,819. Only three countries exceed Canada in heavier density of motor cars, namely, United States, with one for every 5.11 persons; Australian Islands 7.9 persons, and New Zealand 8.0 persons.

The New England conscience got busy recently in a small town in Massachusetts when a resident mailed back anonymously to the maitre d'hotel of the Royal York Toronto, a package of spoons, serviettes and dining room "sundries" borrowed some time previously. The writer, in returning the article to Monsieur Maillard, the maitre, said: "My conscience has been bothering me a great deal since and I have been unable to keep them any longer."

The Stone Indians, Alberta, cannot be said to be a "vanishing race," for while the section of the tribe living on the Nordegg reserve was making a two-week trek to attend the annual Indian pow-wow at Banff, four babies were born. Mothers and children are all healthy and well.

Last spring a man came into the C. P. R. ticket office on Sparks street, Ottawa, for a ticket to Leonard where he had a job. He was five cents shy on his fare, but the railway gave him a ticket anyway. The other day a man in overalls walked into the Sparks street office and said: "I owe you five cents on a ticket; here it is."

Hon. Chas. Stewart, Minister of the Interior, who has been flying over the Rocky Mountains recently, announced at Banff that the buffalo herd there will be augmented shortly by addition of animals specially selected from the herds at Wainwright and Elk Island.

Canadians are the world's greatest butter eaters. A recent compilation made by the Canadian Government Bureau of Statistics shows that the total consumption of butter in the Dominion last year was 230,000,000 pounds or a per capita consumption for the year of 29.31 pounds, an increase of nearly half a pound per head of population compared with 1927.

J. M. R. Fairbairn, chief engineer, Canadian Pacific Railway, and Dr. F. A. Gaby, chief engineer, Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, have been selected as Canadian delegates to the Tokio sectional session of the World's Power Conference to be held in Japan in October. They were nominated at a meeting of Canada's executive conference committee.

The steady increase in the use of electric power per capita in Canada is shown by a comparison of the figures for 1920 and 1927. During this period the amount of power used per 100 of population increased from 48 to 63 horse-power, or the use of power per inhabitant increased over 45 per cent.

As an indication of the increasing popularity of Nova Scotia as a tourist resort, the Lord Nelson Hotel, Halifax, on July 15 set three records for meal service with 245 persons sitting down to breakfast 252 for luncheon, and 270 for dinner.
