CREAMERY MONOXIDE

James is now giving singing lessons. He specializes in "Rock and Bye Baby" these stick in the memory. Absolutely guaranteed. At Schreiber's Drug Store.

George and his faithful six motor, led to the Village of Listowel, where they spent a very enjoyable week-end.

Noorah!!! Fitz has made the purchase of a new pair of rubber boots. They're nice enough, but they look as if they were pinching his feet.

Newt says he will give anyone an all day sucker if they will find the person who stole his boots. Remember, he has big feet.

We are expecting the Leaping Lena home from the hospital today after her lengthy illness.

Fitz has been laid up for a couple of days. Oh no, it wasn't—it was just a bad cold.

George drove Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Bingleman over to Hagersville to a farewell party last Thursday evening.

Stewie says straw hats are the only thing in spring wear. You must have the correct slant—"we mean the hat.

REWARD—A liberal reward will be given to the person or persons giving such information that will lead to the person abstracting tobacco from my pouch. The Boss. Newt has that guilty look.

Laird says Newt will have to pay for the next refill of his cigarette lighter. He has used up about 19 flints and four gallons of gas last week.

The Elliott Fisher went out of commission on Thursday last. The extent of its disability cannot be estimated at present.

George has been up in the air the last few days—painting the ceiling. Charlie says canines are his weakness now. Stoney voices the same opinion.

Dinky escaped serious injury last Friday when a vat of boiling cream broke loose.

Glady's accompanied Newt to the City on Saturday last, to attend to her Easter shopping.

Some of the boys have had their fortunes told. We do hope they will turn over a new leaf.
