GREAT DAYS AHEAD

Those who seek the easy existence of perpetual summer are welcome. For others the physical luxury and mental lethargy of lazy days and lotus eating are nothing compared with the pleasures, anticipations and vigor derived from the infinite variety of the temperate zone, where weather is weather, not climate, and nature in the course of a year can play her entire repertoire.

There are romance and an intangible solace for the "bigger than weather" in gray days and frosty nights and the human frame seems to take new strength and life from the beating snow and biting cold. Man's spirit flourishes on combat and resistance. It is the long winter night that puts iron back into northern souls and rescues them from the appealing possibilities of eternal summer.

It is only during his periods of adolescence that the dweller in the temperate zone sighs for the year of a single season and dreads the approach of winter, the drifting snow, and the uncovered rivers. But when the first blast of winter straightens his shoulders, sends the warm blood coursing through his body and quickens his sense, memories of the summer sun wash before anticipations of snug overcoats, blazing hearths, round tables under cozy comforts, roast turkey, pumpkin pies, whole evenings for reading or repose and complete contentment.

Fuel bills and shortages, artificial concoctions, snow-covered roads, stalled automobiles and uncertain conditions overhead and underfoot are surely more than compensated for by the many blessings the temperate zone holds for its children.

DREAM AND SUCCEED

Dreams are made of star dust, we are told, but a better recipe is suggestion and imagination. Those who look at a brick and see a castle, the builders of a bigger and better world.

To be serviceable an imagination must be exercised. Do you want a suggestion? Look about you; a ween develops an industry. If you want more encouragement turn to the classified advertisements and there you will find an ever-changing department store full of it.

The business manager advises you to read classified advertisements when you want a job, an automobile or a candlestick, but these things are all at the main entrance of the store. Hit the bargain basement and the upper floors where great treasures are stored; uncensored rows of human activities, relative values in parallel columns, heart throbs and character studies to educate and entertain. Best of all, however, is the

There are only three kinds of dreams: Those that are forgotten, those that never change and those that come true. Mount your wishes on thought and effort and they will ride to realization.

THE FIREPLACE

Those who are supplied with fireplaces in their homes feel no resentment as the chilly evenings of the early fall arrive, with their promise of colder evenings and the winter not far away. The chill of fall can be welcomed because it provides good reason for a blaze in the fireplace with the joy and cheer possible as the fire crackles and develops, the ashes drop and the fire burns itself out.

The family gathers about the fire, the lure is strong and there is promise of a happy hour. It is a proper place to visit, or read, or smoke, to relax and dream. The glow of the fireplace is cheerful, companionable and inviting. One may watch the curling smoke, the jets of flame, the ruddy glow and find ever a new picture always interesting.

Fireplaces are domestic, belong in the home where a family is found. The selfish man and the miser might refuse them, certainly could not hope to see their charm, glimpse the picture or feel the spell. The hour of peace, kindly contemplation and retrospection comes as the evening wears away and the fire burns low, the hour with its soothing and sweetening effect on life. Those hours come only in the home. They are for the generous, the kindly, the helpful to know and enjoy.

STRAW HATS

The well-sustained effort of the Weather Man to make us believe it is still July has kept a few straw hats still on public display, but in the main Canadian men are bowing to the dictates of Dame Fashion and are donning felt headgear.

"What becomes of the straw hat?" asks an inquiring reporter. A national publication says thousand find their way to the vaudeville stage to be smashed one a day, five a day or three a day, depending upon the number of times the hat-wearing Canadian performs. Which may or may not be true, but this much is apparent, that man is quite as much a slave to style as woman.

"Man yields to custom as he bows to fate. In all things ruled; mind body and estate."

When September 15 comes he puts away his straw hat, though tropical weather prevails.

RECORD RAMBLINGS

A debutant is a flapper who has lost her amateur standing.

It is a wise man who looks things over instead of overlooking things.

People should marry their opposites. Most people are convinced that they did.

A man who doesn't feel dressed up unless he has a shave, will object to his wife using rouge.

All compliments received are the property of the person giving them and should be returned.

Shooting rockets at the moon may be all right, provided it doesn't cause somebody up there to begin shooting rockets back at us.

Pete Banks says that he supposes some flappers have been referred to as chickens because there is more white meat than dressing.

"You poor man," said the kindly old lady to Jim Johnson, "is that bottle of vile liquor the only consolation you have in the world?"

"Oh, no, mum. I know where I can get another'n."

Wife—"Alvin, how did you get into this state?"

Hubby—"Bad comp'ny, m'dear."

Wife—"What do you mean by bad company?"

Hubby—"Well, there were five of us to one bottle of whiskey, and the other four were teetotalers."

AGE INCIDENCE OF TUBERCULOSIS

The importance of protecting young children against tuberculosis has been frequently pointed out. Perhaps because of this, if we may judge from the opinion expressed by various people, quite a number of adults are under the impression that they need not take any particular care, and that when they pass the 40th year, they run no further danger of incurring tuberculosis. In order to correct this false idea, we are giving the age of death for this disease in Canada, in the year 1926:—

Under 1 year... 232-20 - 29 yrs... 1970
1 - 4 years... 443-30 - 39 yrs... 1429
5 - 9 years... 236-40 - 49 yrs... 1011
10 - 14 years... 336-50 - 59 yrs... 630
15 - 19 years... 359-60 - 69 yrs... 450
70 years and over... 273

From these figures it will be evident that, while tuberculosis takes its chief toll during early adult life, causing a high percentage of all deaths from 20 to 40 years of age, it is not, by any means, confined to any period of life.

A large percentage of all people take into their bodies, some time during their lives, the germs of tuberculosis. In most cases, these germs are held at bay and the disease never actually develops. The germs are there, however, and are a constant threat. They are most apt to get their chance to cause disease if the body is weakened through the attack of some disease, such as influenza, or even a common cold or diseased teeth. Over-fatigue, worry and exposure also lower the resistance of the body. If additional heavy doses of the germs of tuberculosis are taken in, they may cause actual disease at any age.

For all these reasons, it is evident that, throughout life, care should be taken to keep the body fit and to avoid infection.

Questions, concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

OLD NEPTUNE COMES ABOARD

Cruise. Besides making her regular visits to the highlights of the Mediterranean, to India, Japan, China, Hawaii and other fascinating places, her itinerary this time has been extended to include Athens in Greece, Palenam and Bangkok in Siam, with further Formosa in Siam, with further Athens that was little more than a Turkish village before the Greek War of Independence, the broad straight streets of the modern capital and the interesting ruins clustering round the Acropolis representing "the Glory that was Greece." The Parthenon, one of the most interesting ruins here, was chief among the buildings with which Pericles adorned the Acropolis about 500 B.C. Bangkok, the capital of Siam, was originally built on floating pontoons or piles on the river's edge, but nowadays well-planned roads and streets radiate from the city in all directions, beautiful Buddhist temples are scattered all over the town, and the Royal Palace is one of the show places of Bangkok.

Keelung, the chief port of the Island of Formosa, is a hive of industry. Formosa is half the size of Ireland and is governed by the Japanese. In its northern fastnesses, still largely unexplored, the Japanese campaign of subjugation, however, has all but wiped out these barbarous people. The seat of government at Formosa is Taihoku. Here fleets of junk-like vessels, manned by coolies, transport the visitors around the town, one of the chief attractions of which is the Governor-General's garden, where the world's most beautiful tropical plants bloom in exotic profusion.
