Co-Operative Creamery

First Meeting of New Company
Held in Hagersville, Thursday
The first important meeting of the Hagersville Co-Operative Creamery Limited, was held on Thursday last, August 14th, at the office of the Hagersville Creamery Co., and resulted in the following Officers being appointed for the ensuing year:—
President: William H. Cherry, Directors: John T. Armstrong, Grover C. Anderson, John F. Wilson and Robert A. Stewart, Sec.-Treas.: Joy H. Currie.
The organization work was entered into with a spirit that speaks well for the development of the new Company. Robert A. Stewart, who has successfully managed the affairs of the Hagersville Creamery Co. for the past twelve years, was the unanimous choice of the directors as Manager for the first year.
The farmers of the district are responding splendidly in the matter of generally believed that only a few short weeks will pass until the construction of the new plant has begun. A Co-Operative Company such as the Directors are planning to operate will supply a long-felt need in this district, and its growth will be watched with increasing interest as the days go by.

HEALTH SERVICE

Of The Canadian Medical Association

PLEASE DO NOT SPIT

We have placed the title for this article in the form of a request rather than of a command or a threat. It might well be regarded as a plea for the protection of children. It would be in the interest of all, but it is the children who are particularly menaced by the careless thoughtless or ignorant individuals who spit promiscuously.

The germs of disease live and multiply in the human body. A person may have such germs in his body and yet be apparently well. There are thousands of persons with tuberculosis who do not know that they have as much as a speck of pus in their sputum. Germs leave the body in its secretions, and the most common way is in the secretions of the mouth, and nose. Mouth and nose secretions should always be thought of as containing disease germs, and should be avoided accordingly.

There is no reason for spitting as so many do. It is simply a bad habit which should never be started. If it is already a habit, then it should be broken without delay. It is not only disgusting to other people, but it constitutes a very real danger to them.

In the act of spitting, droplets are sprayed around, and as other individuals come in contact with these droplets, they are exposed to infection by the germs of disease from which the spitter may suffer. Most of the common communicable diseases are spread chiefly by such droplet infection, and the danger that results from the spraying around of sputum and saliva cannot be exaggerated because it is so very serious.

Sputum on the floor or on the ground is dangerous. Children must and will play, and while they play, the are constantly on the floor or on the sidewalk or ground. As a result their hands are sure to become soiled. It is, of course, true that neither children nor adults should put their fingers into their mouths, but it takes time to train children not to do so.

Soiled hands are carried to the face; fingers go in the mouth, and so the sputum from the floor or ground gets into the child's body, and it may carry with it the germs of disease.

Because it is a filthy, disgusting habit, because it spreads disease, because it endangers the lives of children, because there is no reason for its being done, we hope that you will treat favorably the request—PLEASE DO NOT SPIT.

Questions, concerning Health addressed to the Canadian Medical Ass. 184 College St., Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.
