NATURE

There comes a time in this climate, when Nature rises to her best. When the countryside and villages are surrounded and adorned by the artistic hand of Nature. At this present time of year we behold Nature at her best. Pulsating life has burst through the buds on the trees and behold the perfection of well formed leaves. The leaf of the tree so insignificant by itself, yet when we gaze upon thousands of them on one tree it is a very pleasing sight to the eye. It gives shade to the beasts of the field, beauty to the parks and countryside. It performs a very important function by breathing in the air that helps give life to the tree. Did you ever stop to think, how all the trees and beautiful flowers get their form and color. They grow out of the black earth that looks so barren in itself. The roots that feed the flowers, perform a wonderful task. They are the main factors in sending up the ingredients to give color and beauty to the flowers. Out of the black soil the roots select only the best they can find therein. Often they starve to death for the want of nourishment and water to live upon. Many people look at you with wonder when you say that flowers are almost human or human like. The roots feed the flower and the leaves in turn breathe in the air that is carried to the roots under ground. One cannot live without the other. Is this not human like? Human beings must have food to eat and air to breathe. Both are essential to produce life just like the plants and trees demand. If we were as careful in selecting our foods as the roots are, we would be healthier and stronger than we are. When we realize how the creation and production of all Nature takes place we are amazed. The production of the garden flowers and their seeds that are reproduced again into flowers. The grain of the field and its production into flour. The maple tree and its production of maple syrup. Surely the production of Nature is marvelous. When God created all things it was considered good. When all Nature's production is left in its necessary useful form, it is good. But when man takes the production of Nature and turns it into intoxicating liquors, it then takes the form of a curse. Good Whisky, in itself, is good for medicinal purposes. But man who was made in the image of God, takes these things, the productions of Nature, and abuses them. The Chinese will take the innocent looking poppy and produce the terrible opium that wrecks so many lives. The wonderfully flavored concord grape which produces sweet wine that can be used as a symbol at the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, is abused by man through fermentation, which when indulged in and abused makes idiotic fools of men and women. You cannot name one production of Nature but what is good but once man takes this production into his hands he abuses it and the result is disaster and ruin. My experience with the human race has brought me to the skeptical point where I am careful about whom I trust, yet I can plant any flower or tree and have every faith in it that it will produce the best. I have that human like feeling for flowers and trees, yes for all Nature's production. The flowers of the garden I can trust and have faith in that they will bring forth their beauty and fragrance to cheer and comfort me when all else has failed. One thing is certain, without the production of Nature we could not live. Therefore we ought to give more credit and thanks to our Creator who created and gave to us the production of Nature whereby the provisions for our table is provided. Many people take it for granted that all these things just happened. They fail to see the great ingenuity of a Creator behind it all. But science and prehistoric discoveries reveal to us the development of the man from insignificant mortals into the present age of modern man with all his inventions of the Radio, Television, Aeroplanes and etc. Man is beginning to think himself to be McFarlane was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Monday, June 2nd when their eldest daughter, Inez Arabella, was united in marriage to Mr. Hartley Herbert Mattice, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mattice of Cheapside. The bride who was given away by her father, was charming in a maze lace chiffon dress and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and Lily of the valley. She was attended by Miss Marion Hoover who was gowned in printed chiffon and carried an old fashioned nosegay of sweet peas, pansies and forget-me-nots. Mr. Russell Freure of Hamilton supported the groom. The wedding music was played by Miss Sylvia McFarlane, sister of the bride. After a delightful luncheon the happy couple left amid showers of confetti on an extended motor trip through Montreal and Quebec, the bride travelling in a smart tailored suit, with Rose Leige fur, hat, shoes, and hose to match. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm near Cheapside. Hagersville Branch, No 164, Canadian Legion will hold their next by-monthly meeting in the Council Chamber, Friday night at 8.15 p.m. A full attendance requested. Ex-service men always welcome. the great creator. We know the folly of one man, Emperor William of Germany, who thought with all his modern inventions he could conquer the world. We know the result. Many men to-day with their millions of dollars, think similar things. But just remove the production of Nature, God's creative forethought and they face disastrous ruin. We all must admit the fact we cannot live without God, so therefore let us be honest and admit that His gift of production through Nature, is a wonderful blessing to the human race. There is not a tint that paints the rose Or decks the lily fair, Or streaks the humbles flower that grows But God has placed it there.

CREAMERY MONOXIDE

As Balkan Critics, we think Johnson and Stoney would make better Judges of Wild Animals. They said the motors in the toy balloons that passed over last Thursday were extremely noisy. It is rumored Fritz is going to start a high diving class during his spare hours at night, he says he has a couple of very good prospects in view. Thorne says washing cans is certainly a soft job when Stoney is weighing in the milk. Newt and Spewie must have mistaken last Saturday night for the 24th of May or the 1st of July. Leota was so taken with the easy chair Jim made for himself, that she immediately had one made exactly similar for her own use. The reason Fritz put in some extra time Monday morning, was because he was ashamed to take his regular pay for all the work he did Saturday night. Owing to the fact Johnson is working on fast time, he has to leave part of the separator for the boys who are working on standard time to wash. No doubt the reason Stoney was so anxious to get down to the Shriner's Convention in Toronto, was to get a job with the clowns in the big parade each morning. The flower bed is filled to capacity since Faulkner took over the job of landscape gardener around the plant however we will not say what it is filled with, as it would take an expert Botanist to name all the different species of weeds. Since Leota has gained results by running around the factory in an effort to reduce, Muriel is thinking seriously of trying it. We wish her luck. (OH-OH) Joe to Bystander—"Here comes one of those L. W. W. cars." Bystander—"Why, what do you mean by L. W. W. cars?" Joe—"Why all they ever want is information, wind, and water." VARENCY Mr. and Mrs. Walter Girling and family, of Toronto, spent Sunday at the home of Dick Parkinson. The report is that Scarlet Fever has broken out at Scunders School and enunciation is the order of the day for all school children. The latest news from Detroit to Mr. D. Parkinson is that his daughter Arletta expects to be well enough in a few days to take the trip home. Mr. and Mrs. Dock Parkinson were visitors at St. Catharines and Niagara Falls to see the Illuminations on Wednesday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Alex Maxham and family of Detroit are guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Saunders for a short time. Mr. Frank Saunders and son Mark, also Mr. and Mrs. Ed. VARENCY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE The June Meeting of the Varenity Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. F. Marr, on Thursday June 5th, with an attendance of 23. Buck. Reading by Mrs. R. A. Miller. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. R. H. Miller and is to be as a picnic, the losing side of the roll call, furnishing the lunch.
