Gratuitously Insuring.

We have been taught to believe that leading British statesmen are ever the embodiment of tact and diplomacy. Especially was this supposed to be true of their dealings with affairs concerning the Empire at large.

In such circumstances it is not without a severe shock that we, as Canadians, read the British Chancellor's declaration that adoption of protective tariffs for industry means the submergence of the political life of a country in debauchery.

There is no question that this statement is an almost unparalleled insult to Canada and other nations of the Empire, as well as to the public life of France, the United States and almost every other country on the globe.

For fifty years we in Canada have lived under a well defined—if not always well applied—doctrine of protection for home industries. Mr. Snowden's charge that such a fiscal system degrades and debauches public life can earn nothing but resentment here. Who is there who will that McDonald, Laurier, Flaherty, Robb, Bennett, were degraded or debauched because our fiscal system is one that is so loathsome to Mr. Snowden?

Their names and the names of perhaps all the others who have had to do with the framing of our various tariff schedules stand absolutely unimpaired through half a century. It is foreign to fair play, foreign to honesty and foreign to what is taught us as British tact, that a Chancellor of Britain's exchequer should voice such a declaration.

It will be even more regrettable if any substantial number of the people of Britain are led to accept a palpable slander as the truth.

Not Ruled by Washington.

Phenomenal Democratic gains in United States Congressional elections this month have been hailed by many Canadian editors as likely to prove something of a barrier to tariff changes projected by Premier Bennett for submission to Parliament at its next session.

The contention has been offered that the complexion of Congress may lead to a lowering of the tariff wall against Canada. In any important essential no such offering is probable whether Democrats or Republicans are in office. And, if any change is made it will be dictated solely in the interests of the United States.

Whether any action is taken one way or the other will have no effect upon the policy which Mr. Bennett will pursue. He has repeatedly laid it down that his policy is in no sense one of retaliation. It will be dictated only by what his Government conceives to be the selfish interest of the Canadian people.

Whether the change be up or down the Canadian tariff will not be made in Washington while Mr. Bennett is Prime Minister.

Mother Restored to Family

If you asked the average happy and comfortable Ontario housewife what a gain of 400 pounds would mean to her, she would probably look at you at the very suggestion. Suppose, however, one were in the possession of a young child in a small Ontario town whose mother was "little to earn and many to keep," growing weaker and weaker from overwork and poverty, finally obliged to leave her little ones to friends and neighbors and to take herself to the Toronto Hospital for Consumption.

Then begins the long, long fight to get back the precious pounds, which mean milestones on the road to health. Thanks to ten months of patient care, rest, nourishing food and experienced medical treatment, Mrs. Roberts one day saw the doctor. "After 149— a happy gain from 100 to 149 pounds she registered on entering the hospital.

Where is she now? Back at home joyously taking up the life of a family, and grateful for her restoration to health. A great work, which, with much assistance from friends because of poverty, tuberculosis so often go hand in hand. Will you help give Mrs. Roberts a prescription sent to Mr. A. E. Ames, College Street, Toronto, will be greatly appreciated.

CREAMERY MONOXIDE

Chas. Buck and his staff of experts commenced operations on the new office last week.

Every time that Ross goes to hit a nail he hits his finger. We would suggest that he lay off till his heart gets back to normal and he can get his mind on his work.

Ad Libb has been busy all this week weighing up cheese, he says the rats bother him something terrible at nights.

Newt has been spending considerable time in the office this past week it must be on account of the new addition to the staff.

Muriel says that she enjoyed her stay in Hamilton during her holidays more than anything else, we wonder what is so interesting in Hamilton.

The Office Staff held a conference the other day regarding the new office furniture. It was voted unanimous that there should be at least 1 chair for each of the three easy chairs which they might recline if they should become exhausted from overwork.

Johnson is still taking Thorne's place on the porch, we are afraid if Thorne is not soon able to go back to work Johnson will need a couple of week's holidays, as he looks to be weakening every day.

Stewie hasn't been the same since he lost his dog, so we are asking ever one who has a desirable mongrel, what they would like to give away or sell, to get in touch with Stewie.

Brocky Family Goes to Germany

Canadian Pacific Express men were hosts to Patsy, Mabel, Chester and Conal Brocky, of Hagersville, Subterranea, who spent a week in Montreal recently before sailing to Europe.

The four Brockys sailed for Hamburg on board the SS. Beaverford, October 31, and will arrive in Germany, where their children will probably be used to further the cause of freedom in Iustonic shaving emperors.

The Brockys are good Canadians, raised in Alberta and emigrated from Edmonton to Githshale-Hara, Germany, for breeding. One and a half pounds of steak twice a day, at lunch and dinner, keep them alive and happy, and doubtless contributed to their enjoyment of the long journey on the Canadian Pacific Railway from Edmonton to Montreal. Brocky is now quite delirious in the best hager-circus.

The above photograph shows Patsy receiving the first installment of her lunch before being taken by the C.P.R. Express truck to embark on the Beaverford. "What do you want with me?" says Mabel, as she was being strapped. "I've had my lunch and had my shaving party, in fact. Nothing more for me, please. This is the end of my talk."
