Saved

sease Kills gets well. such an inisease again. his bloodto repel the doctors have alled Toxoid to a human an attack of ow possible simple, safe the skin. can admin is up to all their family and simple ainless. At

to develop

York imwith toxoid. hav your mple treatme quaranhild or two would see ent; and if th it, diph-indreds of nd in New porcupine.

according in Meso-

ndings Daily RATES and one-half hours.

Prince of Wales Acknowle flew an amphibian plane from Hendon She's shrunk!"

Ground for Dispute Over

Archipelago

the only possible ground of dispute as to Canadian sovereignty in the whole Arctic sector north of the Canadian Announcement that Norway has given formal recognition to the Canadian title of these Northern islands was made recently by Sir George Per-

The islands in question were discovered and explored in the years 1898-

1902 by Commander Otto Sverdrup.

leader of the Norwegian polar expedi-

850 Miles Beyond "Circle" four islands, is situated approximately 850 miles north of the Arctic Circle, ada by Order-in-Council providing that all British territories and possessions in North America and islands adjacent to such territories and possessions which are not already included in the Dominion of Canada, shall, with the exception of Newfoundland and its dependencies he annexed to and for part of the said Dominion.' The title thus based on the geographical contiguity and Britsh discovery and exploration was completed by effec-

All Land Claimed

been indicated on official maps and defined in official statements, notably by the Minister of the Interior in the House of Commons in June, 1925. The maps and public statements indicated that Canada claims all the territory north of the Canadian mainland in the sector lying between meridians

"In view of the conflicting claims in the Sverdrup Islands area, the matter was made the subject of discussion between the Norwegian and Canadian Governments. A definite settlement of the issue has been formally expressed an exchange of notes which was effected in London and The administrative activities of the Canadian Government in its Arctic territories are extensive and continuous. The territories, the total area 60 and 141.

Asio."

"The Canadian Arctic sector has tive occupation and administration.

Axel Heiberg, the largest of the ley. Acting Prime Minister.

tion, in the Fram.

smaller in size.

mainland.

London.—The Prince of Wales was airdrome to Calshot and return. There hailed as the leading royal air pilot of were eight passengers aboard. the world recently after he had flown The size of the DO-X, largest heavmore than 200 miles and handled the fer-than-air machine in the world, obcontrols of two machines within three viously impressed the prince. When he returned to the amphibian after fly-In addition to piloting the German ing in the giant German machine, the flying boat DO-X for 10 minutes over Prince looked at the ordinary sized Galshot on November 12th, the Prince plane and exclaimed: "Good heavens!

Norway Recognizes Minister of the Interior, Hon. Thomas G. Murphy. Arctic as Canada's Grant to Sverdrup

Leading Royal Pilot of World

Canada liquidated an obligation when, according to an announcement Friendly Note Removes Only by Hon. Gideon Robertson, Acting Minister of the Interior, the sum of $67,000 ws paid to Commander O. T. Sverdrup, famous Norwegian explor-Ottawa-The Government of Norway er, in return for the services rendeed by him in his explorations and dishas formally recognized the Canadian title to the Arctic islands commonly coveries in the Arctic islands. By this sum the Dominion also has purknown as the Sverdrup group, comchased Sverdrup's original maps, prising Axel Helberg, Ellef Ringnes, notes, diaries and other documents Amund Ringnes and King Christian. relative to his expeditions. This friendly action on the part of the Norwegian Government removes

In his statement accompanying the announcement of the grant, Senator Robertson says:

"The achievements of Commander Sverdrup in the furtherance of Arctic exploration, from the time he accompanied Dr. Nansen in his voyage across Greenland, to his relief expedition in the Arctic within recent years, and more particularly his exploration in the Axel Heiberg area. are familiar to Canadians. His great personality makes him one of the most highly regarded heroic adventurers whom Norway has sent forth.

Huge Eágle Shot

Near Milton, Ont. Milton, Ont.-Harry Hilson, sr., of and is one of the furthest northern Milton Heights, shot a copper headisland in the Canadian archipelago. ed eagle while hunting near the It is about 250 miles long and 100 Mountain at Speyside, in Esquesing miles wide. The other islands are township. The eagle's wings measured seven feet from tip to tip, and The statement given says: "In, the its legs were fully as large as a man's spring of 1900 Commander Sverdrup wrist, and its claws as long and as took possession of the islands in the thick as a man's fingers. It was name of his Sovereign, but no further capable of carrying a small child or act of occupation took place. The a lamb between its feet. Three bul-Dominion of Canada has long claimed lets from a 22 calibre rifle were resovereignty over the entire area north quired to kill the eagle, which has of the mainland. On July 31, 1920, been sent to Toronto to be mounted. the rights acquired by Great Britain It is the largest eagle ever seen in in this area were transferred to Can- this district.

"Dramatic action has swept many a man off his feet."

Bird-Banding Records

The Canadian official records of bird-banding returns, through which the migration of birds are traced and recorded, are kept in the National of which represents 1,309,682 square Parks of Canada Branch, Department miles, are administered under the of the Interior, Ottawa.

STEPPING UP CANADA'S WATER POWER DEVELOPMENT

STILL FORGING AHEAD!

In taking stock of Canada's position during the present period of world- tance. As they hurried along, dragwide economic difficulty, one of the most inspiring features is the fact that ging their wooden sandals, their soakthe Dominion's Water-power resources furnish a seemingly irrepressible impetus to national progress. In the face of all the buffets of business. cycles, water-power development continues to forge rapidly ahead.

Since 1910 Canada's water-power installation has risen from less than one million to nearly six million horse-power. The record of growth has heen a marvel of persistency. During the past twenty years, water-power development has maintained a sureness of advance through all obstaclesthrough the pre-war slump, through the disruption of the war itself, and mrough the drastic ups and downs of the last-decade. And to-day, in the midst of world-wide depression, there is being carried forward the greatest loose edges of sleeves and chilled program of hydro-electric installation in the history of the Dominion. This ability of water-power development to hold its forward course in tace of recession in almost every other major field is one of the most fortunate and favorable factors affecting Canada's economic position dream of an artist, they declared em-

New air-rail speed car which was tried out at Hanover, Germany, recently, attaining speed of 100 miles per hour.

Airplane Beacon Used to Drive Wild Fowl From Fields of Rice duct experiments with an airplane white.

rice crops of Grand Prairie from fu- Company for the experiments, is said labeled and tied with brocade cords; with low bookcases and wide fireplace, ture damage by the thousands of wild to be used successfully in the West the scrolls must be carefully rolled; roomy couches, and a sun-parlor lookfowl that arrive each fall while the by farmers for protection against and not even a great master of flower ing out on a court where vigorous harvest is under way, the Arkansas coyotes. There the animals appear arrangement can achieve a correct girls were laughing and playing ten-Power and Light Company will con- to fear the red light more than the design in a moment. We have no nis.

of Stuttgart, it became known recent- est damage to the rice crop. Poorly Beard exclaimed, bewildered; "three new home occurs. Thousands of It is believed that the beacon will water near the harvested rice seem or two as you might in the West." afford protection from the wild fowi to be particularly alluring. The fowls And in reply: from a distance of four to five miles attack the shocks viciously, pull the in each direction, enabling groups of cap of the sheaves to pieces and then as housewives all over the world have and high-school boys and girls who farmers to band together and install strip the grain from the long heads a habit of doing. "They never get were foreign dress to classes, sit on and operate such lights at minimum of the bundles beneath. Thousands through the daily tasks. And besides, benches or chairs, and practise athle cost. Both white and red rays will of dollars worth of grain are destroy- so much of our housekeeping must, tics, find kneeling on the floor

Japanese Leading Dual Existence

Housewives Prefer Western Comfort—Grandmothers Clings to Old Traditions

turesque and romantic clothes when you caught the indisposition does nothing to relieve your discomfort. And, ing that these particular friends could finally, if the picturesque and roman- well afford it, they objected that Japtic clothes are the cause of the trou- anese houses had no cellars; when I ble, you are likely to adopt less color- mentioned stoves, they answered: ful but warmer garb.

ing that is responsible for the west- again, always disastrously. Furni- work, is distracted by countless noises ceilinged room. ernization of Japan, we judge as we ture unglues, cups chip, beams split, read Miriam Beard's new volume on paper rolls up, family treasures 'Realism in Romantic Japan' (Macsadly as she saw them discarding kimonos and sashes and houses of painted screens in favor of Occidental tweeds, serges, and thick, solid walls. And they would always reply that although the old-time Japanese garments and houses are pretty to look at, they were not the most convenient things to live in.

The arguments would go on in this manner, with Orientals upholding dampened—"surely, they had the no such trouble. If the rich- "wish The jack of all trades is the dollar." Western ways, and an Occidental upholding Eastern ways. Miss Beard would say:

"Why do you want to give up your Japanese houses? They must be so easy to take care of and so informal to live in. Why do you wish to change the kimono? Nothing looks more comfortable."

And then I would find myself confronted by a wholesale indictment of native domesticity, to which each woman contributed her favorite argu-

From my window I had perhaps seen these women approaching down the rainy street, and thought with pleasure how like the prints were their slim, swaying figure: in the dised skirts clung and flapped, and their long sleves unscrolled in the wind. They clutched at the scarfs about their necks, and tried to shelter their bare heads behind big paper umbrelias. To an outlander, the picture was gratifying.

With plaints, however, they entered our quarters. Their wet feet were cold. The wind had sought all the them. The drenched skirts of their robes would be hours adrying. And before I could reassure them that, anyway, they had looked like the

At home, too, apparently, they were take care of the finest pottery. always shiveringly conscious of win- Children can make more noise and Some solve their difficulty by movter cold. To keep warm, they knelt mischief in a Japanese house, uning to the new suburban "garden upon the mind.

When I suggested a furnace, know-"Heat warps delicate wood and lac-It's reasoning such as the forego quer. It has been tried again and wrinkle and crack."

Winter, I murmured, would soon "Why do you do it?" Miss Beard be over, and what could be jollier used to ask her Nipponese friends than a light Japanese dwelling in warm weather?

are open, flying insects dash in, beating against the paper-screens and lanterns. Reading at night is al-

Nickname for New Princess Margaret Rose, is Pur the royal family, Princess Margaret is derived Gretchen.

ly became Princess Betty to the pub Princess Madge. lic, but the trouble in the case of her There is historical, or literary war-

of them:

Marguerita, Meg, Mog, Madge, Maisle, Meadow."

in the civilized world?" "It takes the whole day," they pro- tect and build a complete foreign mantested. "Our furniture is so low, we sion, send their children abroad to must forever be bending and stoop learn the appropriate behavior, or water. "The paper walls you admire must environment. One nobleman had be dusted with patters; our houses built a great English country place, must be 'patted' clean every day, for faithfully reproduced from the ivy we can not wash them, as you do win- that clambered over stone walls to the dows, at long intervals. The mat- velvety lawn, from the baronial hall tings to be spotless for stockinged with its oil-paintings to the Japanese feet must be incessantly scrubbed; servants who not only wore the livery it three times. "And those bed-quilts-what an ar- pression of their British prototypes. duous labor to be forever rolling them them noiselessly along the grooves. poems of Paul Claudel.

"And the decorations in the domicil! They are never finished, as in West- ceilar to pointed roof and, of course, ern houses, but must be attended to provided with a music-room; while a Little Rock, Ark.—To safeguard the been lent by the General Electric regularly, put up in boxes correctly fourth was a purely American domicil, drained fields with large puddles of or four at least, instead of just one business and professional men who according to all tradition, be done by home positively painful; multitudes of us. We are taught to look on it as mothers who want a more modern above all things, they detested having a ritual, each act with a flawless form- hygienic bringing-up for their chilula; we alone can tend the tokonoma, dren can not without sacrifice and close to the brazier, huddling above a questionably, than in any other. They cities" and renting a concrete "for glow that scarcely heated finger-tips can punch holes in paper walls, reach eign-style" house. A few semiand gave out, besides, a noxious gas. and upset anything left on the low Japanese apartments have been re-All vitality, they insisted, went into tables and shelves, and whenever they cently erected in Tokyo with provithe effort of fighting chill; and the shriek it can be heard through thin sion for community laundry and cook-Having chilblains is no fun. And day-long shrinking toward the fire partitions by the neighborhood. ing. Many persons add various artithe fact that you were wearing pic- was not without a cramping effect Watching them is an engrossing oc- cles to their residences, regardless of and interruptions. Through flimsy "Ah," they sighed; "when the walls high desk. Of such incidents are for his studies. Sometimes the whole made.

most impossible, and even sifting up Japanese society there are difficul- strange dual life is led. Before long. ties in the way of adopting the more I decided that to live with one culture My enthusiasm for the picnic-convenient Western ideas. But alone was distinctly monotonous. character of the home was not wholly among the rich, of course, there is

London.—The choice of an affection, Margaretta, Margaritta, Margherita, ate nickname, or abbreviation of her Marghditta, Peg, Peggie, and Marewn name, for the latest addition to garetchen, from which, it is believed.

Rose, is puzzling the British public. | Maggie is the favorite Scottish ab-When Princess Elizabeth, elder breviation, and Midge or Peggie most daughter of the Duke and Duchess of used in England. It is expected that York, was christened, she immediate the baby Princess will be known as baby sister is that there are so many rant for all the above alternatives. forms of "Margaret" to choose from. The name is also well represented on Though Margaret is a Scottish the map, for there are Margaret Bays, name, it not only has many abbrevia- or lakes, or mountains as far apert tions in Scotland and England, but is as Canada and Australia and Abysalso to be found all over Europe in sinia and Antarctica. The outstanding one guise or another. Here are some cases in England are Margaret Roding and Maragaretting, both in Essen; Margaret, Maggie, Marjory, Mar the first is derived from St. Margaret jorie, Margery, Marguerite, Margarita, and the second signifies "Margaret's lightest housekeeping of any women to entertain more, or be more comfortable, they simply hide an archiing. The woodwork which you like hire tutors to teach them how to acbecause it sem so plain acquires that quire it on the spot." Reading on: satin sheen only through years of Impeccable were such of these daily rubbing with slightly oily bath-homes as I saw; and their owners appeared wholly at ease in the new before parties we shine every bit of of English butlers, but had somehow absorbed the exact, suavely bland ex-

Another estate held a French chataway and hauling them out! Those eau, where in a boudoir of rose, gilt, sliding-doors. They can not be push- and crystal, on brocaded sofas, sat ed open, like yours. One must kneel, jeunes filles, some in kimono and othand with three fingers, just so, press ers in Paris frocks, discussing the

Yet another home was German from beacon on the farm of C. C. Cox, south Wild ducks and geese do the great- "But you all have servants," Miss turally, that the hot debate over the spend the day in "down town" offices at night return to kimono and cush-"Slow and inefficient!" they wailed, ion; tens of thousands of university struggle pay for much improvement > cupation; women have acquired the esthetic principles; they hide a telehabit of wearing the babies on their phone behind a screen, put a lantern backs, even indoors, to hush them. around the electric bulbs, conceal a Contemporary men and women re- phonograph near the tokonoma, spread quire more quiet and privacy than a rug over the chilly matting, or boldtheir ancestors. The official, the ly install a wicker chair or two and writer, or the business man, who a desk, in spite of the fact that they brings home his papers for evening do look like mastodons in the low-

> "The foreign-style parlor," a room walls is transmitted every cough, attached to the Japanese abode like every flap of the duster, closing of a a trailer to a motor-car, is the solushutter cry of a tradesman, or patter tion preferred by many. Business men of wooden shoes on stepping-stones. may entertain customers here; daugh-The babies bounce in. and find it very ter may practise on the piano and easy to clamber over a crouching learn foreign etiquette in the right father, and spill the ink on the foot- surroundings; son may sit at a desk modern Japanese stage comedies family prefers this wing, while only grandmother remains faithful to the Among the less affluent members of former apartments. Thus a very

Soccer on Horseback

New form of soccer was introduced for the first time at the recent Berlin, Germany, horse show. It is called phathically and unpoetically that, saddle-socces and the feet of the riders are used to propel the ball along to the goal.