HEALTH SERVICE
Of The Canadian Medical Association

EYES
The eyes should be protected from infection. Fingers must be kept away from their eyes as they are very apt to carry infection into them. Every person should have his own towel, this even among members of the same family. The towel and the common towel spread infection, and if such a towel is used in drying the face, there is real danger of carrying infection from the towel into the eyes. If some foreign substance gets into the eyes, it should be removed by a trained person. The eye is so precious to take chances on its being injured by unskilled attention, to say nothing of the possibility of its being infected at the same time. The eyes are part of the body and it should therefore not be forgotten that they are affected by the general health of the other parts. Good health which is secured through proper diet, rest, exercise, fresh air and elimination will be reflected in all parts of the body. The eyes are priceless, take the best possible care of them. Questions concerning health, Ad-Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.
Good vision is priceless. There is nothing that could be offered us which would tempt us in exchange for our eyes.
Because we can see we take it for granted that we will always have good eyesight, and we go ahead abusing our eyes in a most careless manner. Our eyes cannot be replaced they have to last us through our life. If we continue to abuse them, they are almost sure to be worn out at an age when we still need them.
Any person who has difficulty in seeing, who has frequent headaches, whose eyes become tired or who has spots dancing before the eyes should have his eyes examined.
The reason for having the eyes examined is to find out whether or not there is an abnormal condition which requires treatment. Proper treatment will relieve the symptoms, but, more important than relief of symptoms, is the prevention of further damage. Faulty vision is common. Vision defects should be corrected by glasses prescribed after a thorough examination.
We should always read and work in a good light. The light should be steady and should fall so that our bodies do not cast a shadow on what

Twenty Years Ago
From The Record's Files for the Year 1911

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1911
Miss Muriel Harnwell of Port Colborne is the guest of her friend, Miss Ileen Porter.
Sunday was the first day of October and it is now in order to get the fall work done.
We are indeed pleased to state that Silas Snyder is improving daily from the effects of his serious operation.
Miss Annie Westbery, milliner at J. H. Hager's, Hagersville, spent the week end with her sister here.
Miss Lillian Allen will be Mrs. LePan's successor as organist in Knox church, the appointment being made at the meeting of the session on Saturday evening. We congratulate Miss Lillian on attaining the position, and as a skillful musician we feel confident that she will do credit to herself and make a worthy successor.
A belated equinoctial rain arrived on Saturday night and Sunday and during the early hours of this morning another heavy rain fell but the day dawned bright and clear, hence everybody is happy as this is our fair day.
The Clayton Moving Picture Show at Hagersville draws quite a number of our young people. They speak quite highly of the pictures and also the illustrated songs.
Miss Mabel Newman, who has been on a very pleasant visit with her friend, Miss Carrie Gates at Rochester, N. Y., returned home Saturday.
