Select Exhibit This Year.

Prospective exhibitors at the 1932 World's Grain Show may be well advised to select samples for exhibits from this year's crop. As all exhibits must be in the hands of the award committee at Regina on or before March 1st, 1932, the selection, if not already made, must be taken from the crop of this year or from that to be grown in 1931. According to a report of tests made in the laboratory of the Canadian Grain Commission the wheat crop of this year possesses a very high protein quality and indicates a much higher gluten content than that of either of the years 1927, '28 or '29. In addition the unusual dryness of the wheat of this season and the excellent quality of the flour made from it are very important matters. "Over 60% of the crop received to date in Winnipeg this year", says the report, "graded either No. 1 hard or No. 1 Northern." In view of these facts and remembering the rigid examination to be made by the judges of the sample entered for competition at the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held at Regina in 1932, prospective exhibitors may be well advised to select from this year's crop. The same conditions as apply to wheat may apply to the production of other grains and seed as well.

Horse Shoe Pitching.

Two all-Canadian championships for horse shoe pitching will be staged at the Royal Winter Fair next month and according to the opinion of the committee in charge, of which Thos. A. Murphy, M.P.P., is chairman, interest in the farm yard sport is keener than ever and the quality of pitching seen at local centres is of a higher level than ever before in the collection of Ontario sportsmen. Local clubs are in existence this year and the members of the Committee, meeting at the Royal Winter Fair offices, were enthusiastic about prospects for the championships meetings. The competitions will be played on the round robin plan.

The Canadian championships consist of an open singles for a championship trophy and $25.00, a second prize of $15.00 and a third of $10.00; and an open doubles for the championship trophy and $50.00, a second prize of $25.00 and a third of $15.00. In addition, a special competition will be conducted at the Royal Fair open only to winners at local agricultural fairs for which the prizes are, 1st $25.00, 2nd $15.00 and 3rd $10.00. Entry forms may be obtained at the Royal Winter Fair offices, 217 Bay Street, Toronto. The rules of the Dominion of Canada Horseshoe Pitcher's Association will govern all competitions. This Competition was established to encourage and build up entries for horse shoe pitching by local societies and it is hoped that the Royal competition may be provided with a local winner from every section of the province. Two of the team will in any event reach the semi-final round in the championship competition.

The Committee of the Winter Fair Horseshoe pitching contest consists of Thos. A. Murphy, M.P.P.; Albert Berscht, Wesselsly; E. K. Hampson, Hamilton; Walter Kane, Sarnia; Jas. Labbett, Toronto; Geo. Ostrander, Brampton; H. W. Pearson, Belleville; Harry I. Price, Toronto; H. C. Shipman, Ottawa and Carl Swanson, Toronto.

Ye Editor As He Was Not As He Is

An editor is a male being whose business it is to navigate a newspaper. He writes editorials, grinds out poetry, inserts deaths and weddings, sorts out manescrips, keeps a waste-basket, blows up the devil, deals matter, fits other people's bottles and sells his paper for dollar and fifty cents a year, takes white beans and apple saas for his pay when he can get it, raises a large family, works nineteen hours out of twenty-four, knows no Sunday, gets damned by everybody, and once in a while whipt by somebody, lives poor, die middle-aged and often broken-hearted, leaves no money, is rewarded for a life of toil with a short free obituary puff in the newspaper.

An interesting event took place on Friday evening last when about fifty friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hoover to bid farewell to their daughter, Ella (Mrs. Ronicar) who has been visiting here from Seattle. The gathering was sponsored by which Mrs. Ronicar is a member. A number of old friends and neighbors being present also. A pleasant feature of the evening was a presentation by Mr. M. W. Hoover, of a beautiful Chinese embroidered luncheon cloth with serviettes to match, accompanied by the following address. Dear friend and sister: We, a few of your friends and brethren in Christ have met here this evening to pay our respects and to honor you who have come so far to revisit your old home and friends. Your stay is seemingly all too short, but we hope you may be spared to come again for a longer period. We wish you to accept this gift as a slight token of our esteem, hoping that when you return to your home it may remind you of this pleasant evening and the warm feeling which exists in our hearts for you. Signed on behalf of the gathering, Alice M. Kindy, Minnie Beckland and Della Sherk.

A banker going home from his work saw a $10.00 bill on the curbstone. He picked it up and noted the number and went on home to dinner. While at home his wife remarked that the butcher had sent a bill amounting to $10. The only money he had with him was the bill he had found, which he gave to her, and she paid the butcher. The butcher paid it to a farmer for a calf, and the farmer paid it to a merchant, who, in turn, paid it to a wash woman, and she, owing the banker a note of $10, went to the bank and paid the note. The banker recognized the bill as the one he had found and which up to that time had paid $50 of debt. On careful investigation he discovered that the bill was counterfeit. Now will some friend tell us what has been lost in this transaction and by whom. A newspaper does not deserve to be looked upon as a child of charity. It earns twice every dollar it receives, and it is second to no enterprise in contributing to the upbuilding of a community. Its patrons reap far more benefits from its pages than its publishers, and in calling for the support of the community in which it is published, it asks for no more than in all fairness belongs to it, though generally it receives less.

Bright hued cars are less popular. It would seem from a report received here that the day of bright hued motor cars has passed. Manufacturers from all over the country voice the opinion that the public interested in buying of motor cars are turning to the more somber hues such as dark blues, black and dark greens. Each country seems to like its own particular shades the report further states. For instance in Canada the black and darker shades are favored, South Americans incline to the brighter shades in car colorings, while in Europe the darker tones are more in demand. The old days of painting a car with a brush and a pail full of paint are past, and now manufacturers employ a staff of artists whose business it is to give their entire attention to color schemes and designs. One company is reported as employing a woman who is an interior decorator to experiment with the various colors and types of upholstery in order to obtain the most pleasing effects in interiors.

CREAMERY MONOXIDE It is expected that when the R.E.C. Vandeville official steam of Letch's intention to take up tap dancing, they will immediately be after her with a contract.

By the looks of the big parade on Saturday afternoon, a few of our notorious business officials are running in opposition to Barnum and Bailey and are proving a big success. Our esteemed manager is apparently acting as chauffeur for Kindree's hand wagon.

Stoney said that if he wasn't at the Chicken Supper on Monday night it would be on account of his wife as she is very particular about him going to see chickens at night.

Some peoples affections for Muriel seem to have put her in very good humor.

By the number of Hindoo Koosh Charity books the Boss acquired for the boys to sell, he is trying to make high pressure salesmen out of the staff.

Stewie was doing considerable complaining about the paint running up the brush and all over his hands the other day, but those who knew anything about the art could see that it was nothing but stupidity on his part.

The way Ad Libb and his staff of painters are transforming the looks of the plant is nobody's business, and if they keep on no one will know the place in a few days.

Laird got ambitious the other day and painted the office; but the girls didn't seem to appreciate his efforts, as when he was painting the ceiling several drops departed from his brush and landed in their locks, Laird says the reason they didn't like it was because the white paint made their hair look grey, giving them an aged appearance, and what girl likes that.

A Golf Course in the Clouds

Itself a mile above sea-level and ringed by mountains rising another mile into the air, the Canadian Rockies is probably unique among the world's outstanding links. Its hazards are unparalleled and as an example there is the drive from the first tee over the foaming waters of the Spray River, shown in above lay-out. The golf club house is a very picturesque building in architectural keeping with the baronial pile of the nearby hotel, a glimpse of which is shown against the background of mountains on the second green. The course which has just been completed, presented enormous difficulties in making, but these were all successfully overcome and grounds that are a perfect pendant to one of the most beautiful and luxurious hotels on the continent are now at the disposal of guests.
