Friendship and Faith

There is more kindness hidden in the hearts of people to-day than we are inclined to believe. The public in general have been so disappointed and deceived by those whom they trusted and had faith in that to-day their faith is gone and they have become selfish in their way of living. Underneath all this selfishness and loss of faith there is still the seed of kindness and love. If the right spirit is applied when you are conversing with even the most selfish person, you will find something good behind their life.

Friendship is a wonderful binding in our life. It is controlled and held fast by faith. As long as we have faith in those we love so long does our friendship last. It is a sad thing to note how many homes are unhappy in these modern days. Take inventory of all the homes you have entered during the past year and how many of them are real happy homes.

The friendship which eventually developed into love was an event in our life never to be forgotten. With and love grew stronger every day, until finally the binding ties of matrimony united you to the one sweet dear. Your dreams of a wonderful married life were filled with hopes and expectations. But as time went by and your dreams failed to come true, what a sadness crept into your heart. Dissatisfaction crept into your home. Wanderlust pleasure seekers whispered at the temptations in your ear. You fought and battled against this temptation, but your disappointing dreams of a happy married life seemed to vanish and you gave way to the temptation. Then came the first quarrel and the final outcome was your lost faith in the one you loved because you had broken faith with him or her and believed they had done the same.

These are days when home life has become a secondary thing. Love is something that is wonderful today. It is gone to-morrow and we find ourselves in the midst of a world filled with dissatisfaction and distrust. Twenty years ago people were contented and happy in a comfortable home with a good library and a piano or victrola, but to-day, man, with all his modern labor-saving machinery, with his automobile or aeroplane, finds his life is full of dissatisfaction and unrest. The wife with all the modern conveniences of a day, electric machines and water-power, the latest styles of dress and cosmetics must have her month or two months vacation and while away fills those who will listen and sympathize with her that she is very unhappy—that her husband never says her anything nice, etc. From whence does all this foolishness come from? Surely it is a spirit of unrest that has entered the hearts of good honest people and is making a fool of them. They have lost sight of the friendship and love that first drew them together like a magnet. The enticing brightness of Broadway that leads to nowhere, has tempted them and led them astray until their at for excitement must be satisfied to give them so called happiness.

Some people condemn the dope fiend and say the poor fool ought to have known better, that the more he takes the sooner he will kill himself, yet these same people are led on by the same lustful spirit in another form. The life of a dope fiend is filled with a craving for more dope and the life of a modern man or woman to-day is filled with a craving for more excitement and more of a variety of pleasure. Anything to satisfy the craving within their hearts. There must be some solution to all this dissatisfaction. Surely this mad pace that we are taking to-day can be slowed in some way. How?—That is the vital question of this subject. Friendship and love has died out of our life and we are like the dope fiend, we crave more of that which will make us worse.

There seems only one way out of this complicated condition of affairs, and that is through the wisdom and teachings of the great Philosopher, Christ, who stated in a metaphorical way that 'We must be born again.' This statement was given out to the scribes and pharisees and they failed to understand the meaning of it. To explain it in a modern way—to live a satisfied life you must renew your friendship and love with God and your fellowman, you must forget yourself and live for others. Renew your faith in the one you loved. As was stated at the beginning of this article there is kindness and love hidden within the heart of all. We have but to cultivate and nourish it and it will grow. We are told that 'Faith without works is dead.' So do not let us wait for someone else to change our life but let us start within ourselves and reclaim the happiness that we lost. To many of us it will be a hard battle to renew our friendship with others, but through the Grace and Power of God and our co-operation with Him we can once more enjoy the freedom of real happiness and faith.

MAIN STREET APPLE SAUCE

OLD GENT:—"Now can you give me a good reason why I should give you a nickel?"

SMALL BOY:—"I sure can. If I was an old gentleman with a nice new plug hat on, and there was a lot of nice black mud handy, and a kid asked me for a nickel, I wouldn't start no argument."

MOTHER (admonishing small boy):—"And don't forget that I'm your mother."

SMALL BOY:—"Yes, but I do wish you'd quit bragging about it."

Little Alice had a very bad cold. Holding a rose up to her mother's nose she asked, "Does it smell sweet Mummy?"

"Yes, dear," the mother answered. "But can't you smell it yourself?"

Alice shook her head solemnly. "No," she said, "my nose is deaf."

The question is not whether man descended from the monkey but when he is going to quit descending.

MAID:—"I'm afraid I must leave you, ma'am. You don't seem to trust me."

MISTRESS:—"But I gave you the key of the cellar, of my jewel case, and of the master's desk."

MAID:—"Yes, ma'am, but none of them fit."

"How much are rooms here?"

"Two dollars and three dollars a day, sir."

"What's the difference?"

"The two dollar rooms are all taken."

Clans to Carry Fiery Cross at Banff

When the Highland Gathering and Scottish Music Festival is held at the Banff Springs Hotel, August 29 to September 1, under the patronage of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales and the auspices of the Canadian Pacific Railway, one of the high lights of this great annual gathering of the clans will be the Fiery Cross race, reminiscent of the days when the clansmen were summoned to war by runners carrying a burning torch through the glens. Seventeen Highland regiments in Canada have entered their best pipers to compete for valuable trophies. Lads and lassies dressed in the flashing kilt will perform reels, sword dances and Highland flings. Ladies' Scottish dances of the Dominion have been rounded up for the traditional Caledonian games, such as putting the "stone," and tossing the caber, as well as the more usual track and field events. The musical programme this year will be concentrated on the songs of Robert Burns and two ballad operas incorporating these songs will be presented—one entitled "The Ayrshire Ploughman," written by J. E. Middleton, with arrangements by Healey Willan, distinguished Canadian composer, and the other, Burns' own cantata of "The Jolly Beggars." The Alfred Heather Light Opera Company, now presenting a two-month season of Canadian and Old English operas at the Banff Springs Hotel, will supply the artists for these productions.
