Mrs. Lois Rodgers Passes 80th Milestone

On Friday evening last, a birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Hair, in honor of Mrs. Lois Rodgers, mother of Mrs. Hair, who had reached her eightieth milestone.

All the immediate relatives of this highly esteemed lady were present, to offer congratulations and to assist in demolishing the cake. After a pleasant evening was spent in joyful intercourse reminiscent of the early days, the many guests departed for their homes, wishing Mrs. Rodgers many more happy returns of her birthday.

Some of our people attended the Nanticoke School Fair last week, and maintain the couple of hours spent at the Lake Village were more interesting than the Canadian National, and that the showing made by the children in all classes was such as reflected real credit to their training and the officials in charge.

50 Years "On Road" Robert A. Weir Dies

Octogenarian Traveller Was Sir Thomas Lipton's Schoolmate

Ontario loses one of her oldest commercial travellers through the passing at his residence last Monday, of Robert Adamson Weir, who was on the road up to a few years ago.

Born in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1848, Mr. Weir was a deskmate in his schooldays of Sir Thomas Lipton. He came to Canada at the age of 14 and lived with an uncle, who at that time had a fruit farm near the village of St. Catharines, and later joined his father in the fruit and flour business at Dummondville, Niagara Falls.

After coming to Toronto in 1877, he was employed for a short time as a traveller to the firm of Wicketts and Co., tanners. A few years after he joined the travelling staff of Messrs. Beardmore and Co., and was on the road on their behalf for over fifty years.

He saw many changes take place in the leather business during his lengthy experience, among them being the gradual forcing out of the harnessmaker by the event of the automobile, and the shoemaker by the coming of mass production through the automatic boot and shoe making machinery.

He visited at regular intervals every town, city and village throughout the Province and saw the early settlement and the beginning of many of the villages, towns and cities of today. In recounting some of his early experiences he could speak of the days when transportation off the main Grand Trunk line was by buggy and cutter in all kinds of weather, and temperatures of as much as 50 below zero.

In politics he was a life long Liberal, and although he never took an active part in elections of ward politics, he never failed to mark his ballot for the Federal, Provincial or Civic candidates, whom he thought to be the right man.

He is survived by his widow, Melissa, daughter of the late Wilson Lemon of Lundy's Lane, who was one of the first United Empire Loyalist settlers in the Niagara Peninsula, and by his daughters, Abbie, wife of E. M. Shildrick, and Jenny, wife of A. N. Kirschmann, all of Toronto.

The deceased will be remembered by many in the village, by his long business connection with the leather goods trade in the village. His wife being born just a mile west of Jarvis on the farm now owned and occupied by Mr. J. J. Parsons.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

By Irwin J. Leatherdale, M.O.H.
Walpole Township

In view of the reported prevalence of Infantile Paralysis in several sections of Ontario, and as close to Jarvis as Simcoe, Waterford, Port Dover and Brantford, parents are warned to be on the look-out for any of the following symptoms in their children:

Extreme fatigue; Feverishness; Headache; Stiff, sore neck and back; Tender muscles and an uneasy stomach.

I think the outstanding symptom is a stiff neck and back, and tender muscles.

These symptoms do not necessarily indicate the disease in question and are not necessarily alarming, but they should be promptly recognized and a doctor called to examine the child. Serum prepared by the Provincial Health Department is available to all physicians on request but it must be administered during the first 48 hours of the disease's progress in order to be effective. Please give your child's health every consideration and avoid the dreaded paralysis.

Letter To The Editor.

The following letter was received from the Northwestern Mutual Fire Association, Seattle, Washington.

The Editor,
Jarvis Record,
Jarvis, Ontario.

Dear Sir:
The front page of your September 18th issue, contains an account of an accident in which a truck belonging to the Edward's Transport Lines of Port Dover, collided with the Oakland Sedan owned by Andrew A. Miller, of your good city.

The account, in part, reads as follows: 'apparently Mr. Miller... attempted to turn in without giving the customary signal'.

The Northwestern became interested in this accident through Mr. Miller, and the writer personally investigated the circumstances. We, therefore, feel that you will be very glad to correct the impression created by your article which reflected adversely upon Mr. Miller, whom we have found to be a very considerate and careful driver.

Circumstances surrounding the accident are as follows:—Mr. Miller, proceeding south on Main Street, approached his driveway, and slowed down to a speed not exceeding seven miles per hour as the driveway is quite narrow. His turn was to the right so that no signal could be given although his stop light which was tested after the accident would indicate that he was slowing down.

Therefore, in view of the narrowness of the approach to the driveway it was necessary for him to travel in the centre of the road, but witnesses will testify that there was plenty of room for the truck to pass on the east side of the car, and there could be no question of Mr. Miller making a left hand turn because there is no driveway on the east side of the road at that point.

It is our impression that the truck was travelling entirely too fast at the time of the accident, therefore, could not be properly controlled, and we are making claim for recovery on this basis.

Yours very truly,
R. E. Moore,
Automobile Dept.

Ed.—The report of this accident was reported and printed in the regular way and it was not the intention to convey any impression adversely to Mr. Miller or any other person, but we have no hesitation in stating that the opinion of the reporter was just as independent and unbiased as the report of an insurance adjuster, who is, on authority, adjusting the claim for his Company.

Surprise Party Held For Mrs. Leatherdale

A very pleasant surprise party took place last evening (Wednesday) when the ladies of the Jarvis Bridge Club entered the home of Mrs. Dr. I. J. Leatherdale and announced that the house belonged to them in order that they might fittingly celebrate the occasion of Mrs. Leatherdale's birthday.

The evening was spent playing bridge, the prize winners being Mrs. J. M. Schreiber and Mrs. Helen Steele. During the evening Mrs. Leatherdale and Mrs. Steele were each presented with a beautiful cup and saucer in remembrance of their birthdays.

After a dainty lunch the party broke up close to the 'wee sma' hour' of the morning.

Michael W. Glendon

The will of Michael W. Glendon, who was killed last month when he and his wife were struck by a train at Hagersville, disposes of an estate of $65,573, made up of mortgages, stocks and real estate. A legacy of $10,000 is left to his wife, Marie Glendon, and his mother, Hannah Glendon, receives $1,000. Three sisters receive $300 each. The residue of the estate goes to two daughters of the deceased, Mrs. Fuller, Windsor, and Mrs. Lyles, Toronto. A clause in the will asks that the testators body be cremated and the ashes placed beside those of his wife.

Rev. C. E. Snowden Takes New Charge

Rev. Chauncey E. Snowden, executive secretary of the field department of the National Council, has accepted a call to the rectorship of the Memorial Church of St. Paul, Overbrook, Philadelphia. He will succeed Rev. Dr. Joseph Newton, who will become co-rector of St. James Church, Philadelphia, on Nov. 1st.

Rev. Mr. Snowden is known in Philadelphia, and throughout the entire church as a forceful and eloquent preacher. Possessed of unusual ability as a leader and organizer, he has always been in great demand. He has been a speaker at a number of diocesan meetings in Philadelphia, and in many other dioceses. Less than a year ago he was one of the leaders in a series of clergy and lay conferences which were held at the Church Farm School at Glen Loch, Pa. As executive secretary of the National Field Department to which he was called for service by the late Presiding Bishop Anderson from one of the largest parishes in the Diocese of Dallas, he has made a distinguished record in the direction of the missionary promotional work of the general church.

Like the Rev. Robert Norwood, who preceded Dr. Newton as rector of St. Paul's, the Rev. Mr. Snowden is a native of Canada. He was born in Nanticoke, Ontario, on May 22nd, 1884 and was educated at Toronto University and Wycliffe College. Following his ordination to the diaconate in Christ Church Cathedral, Hamilton, Ont. in 1908, ill health forced his removal to Western Colorado.

There he was advanced to the priesthood by Bishop Benjamin Brewster. For several years he served as a missionary in the mining camps and in around Breckenridge, experiencing all the hardships and adventures to which priests were subjected who labored in the Colorado mining camps of that period. Then followed two years in Western Kansas and four more years in southwestern Kansas.

His health fully restored, the Rev. Mr. Snowden accepted, in 1916, the rectorship of Christ Church, Tyler, Texas, where he remained until 1919, when he became rector of the church of the incarnation at Dallas. It was while he was at this parish that presiding Bishop Anderson drafted him for the direction and leadership of the National Field Department. In the diocese of Dallas, Rev. Mr. Snowden was twice elected a deputy to the General Convention, on the second occasion receiving the vote of every lay candidate on the floor.

The new Rector of St. Paul's is married and has three sons. One of these is studying for the ministry, and the other two are students at Hobart College.

Ed.—It is particularly gratifying to the many friends of Rev. Chauncey Snowden in this part of Canada to note his continued advancement in the Service to which his life has been dedicated, and we will trust his health and strength will be at all times sufficient to sustain him in his new charge.

Harvest Thanksgiving Services at St. Paul's

On Sunday last St. Paul's Church had its annual Harvest Festival. It was well attended at both morning and evening services. The grain and floral tributes were exceptionally beautiful, reflecting great credit on those who gave of their time and energy to decorating the Church.

The Rector had charge of both services and was assisted by Rev. Walling.

Special music was given by the choir for this event.

Mr. and Mrs. Donley, Hamilton, called on Mr. and Mrs. D. Steele on Sunday.

Miss Pearl Belbeck left on Monday to spend her holidays with relatives in St. Thomas and London.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Belbeck spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McBurney.

MARRIED

DRABBLE-HAYHURST

A very pretty early autumn wedding was solemnized at Trinity Anglican church on Saturday, when Olive Margaret, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Hayhurst, was united in the bonds of holy matrimony to Mr. Cecil Owen Drabble, youngest son of Mrs. Drabble of Tunbridge Wells, Kent, England. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. H. P. Owen. The choir preceded the bride party into the church singing "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden." The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, entered the church to the strains of the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" played by Miss Pearl Lamb. The bride was charming in a gown of white georgette with radium lace fashioned with tight bodice and long skirt with uneven hemline. Her embroidered veil of Silk Brussels net was banded with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of butterfly roses and lily of the valley. Her only ornament was a necklace of pearls, the gift of the groom. The bridesmaid, Miss Eva Hayhurst, the only sister of the bride, was becomingly gowned in mauve georgette with matching hat and shoes, and carried Orphelia and Pernet roses. The groom was attended by Mr. Harry R. Nurrish and the ushers were Mr. Kenneth Gardiner and Mr. Wm. Day. During the signing of the register, Miss Helen Morrison sang very sweetly "O Perfect Love."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, at Ontario street. Mrs. Hayhurst received in a gown of silver grey flat crepe with matching hat and carried American beauty roses. A dainty buffet luncheon was served, those assisting were: Misses Reta Moran, Jean Hayhurst, Pearl Belbeck and Lillian Hayhurst. The toast to the bride and groom was proposed by Rev. C. H. P. Owen and responded to by the groom. The happy couple left later amid showers of confetti on a trip to London, Port Stanley and Cleveland, the bride travelling in a dress of rose beige crepe and smart fur trimmed tweed coat with matching hat and accessories. On their return they will reside at 34 Salisbury Avenue, Brantford.

STANTON — HOOVER

A very pretty wedding took place at St. James Church of Christ, in Winnipeg, on Friday, September 4, when Dorothy Rosomae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hoover, Selkirk, was united in marriage to Rev. H. Bruce Stanton, B.A. eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Stanton, Toronto. Rev. A. A. Allen of Winnipeg officiating.

The bride, who was attended by Mrs. A. A. Allen, was becomingly gowned in a Monet Blue Georgette Ensemble, embroidered with silver, and accessories to match, and carried Talisman roses.

After spending a short honeymoon in Manitoba the happy couple will make their home in Calgary.

On Thursday afternoon last, Mrs. T. Craig (nee Lola Pettit) Toronto, called at this office enroute to her home in Toronto. Mrs. Craig is the daughter of the late Frank Pettit, the founder of this paper.

Mrs. Craig noted many changes in our beautiful little village since she left here 43 years ago and when she came to the office to see the editor and clearly appreciate the village in general. We wish to thank Mrs. Craig a hearty welcome even though her stay WWPPP golds, the editor her call was brief after her long absence.
