

NEW CHEVROLET ANNOUNCED

Encompassing virtually every previous major advancement in the modern automobile field, the 1932 Chevrolet was presented to the Canadian Public on Saturday, December 12th.

Improvements on the famous Chevrolet six-cylinder motor of 1932 have resulted in 20 per cent more power, with a higher maximum speed, greater motor acceleration and smoother operation.

STILL DRIVING AT NINETY

What is the retiring age for drivers? If you take Birmingham, Manitoba, as an example, you will not see the retiring age below 90 years of age.

THIS CLAIM CARRIES WEIGHT

The largest rural mail carrier in the world is said to be John L. Moore, who tips the scales around the 400 mark. He lives in Decorah, Iowa.

ROADS AND REVENUES

Canada's investment in highways is said to total $900,000,000 covering roads estimated at 100,000 miles in length. It seems like a lot of money, but this is only a fraction of the total.

it is taken into consideration that tourist traffic from 1924 to 1930 alone is said to have brought $1,600,000 to the Dominion. Ontario's provincial treasurer is authority for the statement that motor tourist traffic revenue of Ontario pays a 100 per cent dividend annually on Ontario's total investment in highways.

Many and varied are the letters received by large automobile companies, but rarely is a request received for information and data regarding the complete rebuilding of a car. Yet such a letter was received by the manufacturers of Oldsmobile and they quickly and willingly supplied the requested information. This particular letter was various parts as he cleaned and brought them to recognizable condition. Then he started to assemble them and his efforts were rewarded when the car actually ran, and it has travelled thousands of miles since then.

A combination fuel and vacuum pump that provides positive windshield wiper performance under all operating conditions of the engine, has been introduced by the 1932 Laughlin-Buick. It is built with the fuel pump forming one unit; works from the same eccentric and operating lever that operates the fuel pump, thus affording material economy in adaptation. Development of the new pump enables the windshield wiper to remove snow, rain or mist when quickly accelerating or overtaking and passing a car at higher speed. It goes not stall when climbing hills or operating at high speeds.

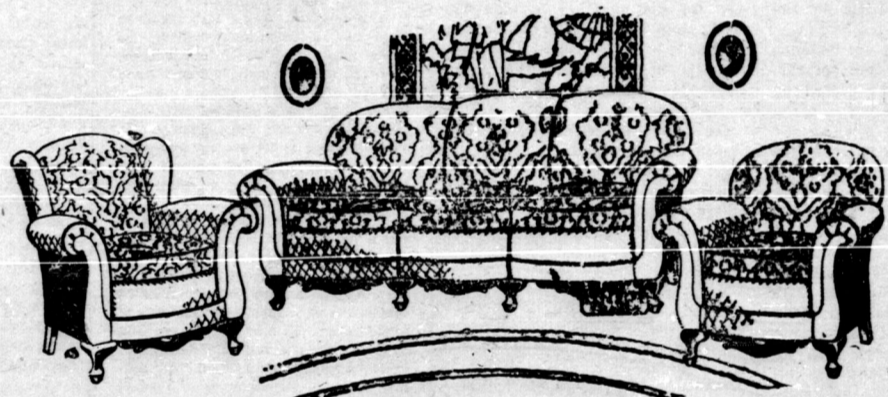

Old files were ransacked. Musty papers and catalogs were scanned. Old photographs were sorted. Finally from this mass the desired information was procured and forwarded to California. The data explained how the one-cylinder, seven-horsepower engine was put together and connected with the crankshaft, which extended across the full width of the chassis and formed the axle drive shaft. The engine and other working parts were under the seat and rear deck of the car. From this information Kneebone was enabled to identify the

YOUR RESPONSIBILITY

The superstitions which, for many centuries, were associated with the healing art have gradually disappeared. No longer does the treatment of disease consist in incantations, mysterious potions, and offerings to the spirits.

Today, medicine is a science based upon investigation, experiment and analysis. The rapid progress made during the past fifty years has included not only the diagnosis and treatment of disease, but also its prevention.

The result is that we are better equipped to treat and to prevent disease than were our ancestors. There is, however, still much to be learned. There are diseased conditions about which we know little or nothing, and so we are unable to cope with them. However, we do possess a greater fund of knowledge than ever before, and the real problems which now face us is how to make full use of the knowledge which we have.

It is at this point that the question of personal responsibility must be considered. If each one of us, as an individual, is to benefit by present day medical knowledge, then he must be prepared to do his part.

Your family doctor is not a magician. He cannot promise cures; the help he can give is limited by the knowledge he possesses. He does offer to you the full benefits of medical science, and as there are no secrets in medicine, he has access to all the medical information which is available.
