SUDAN GRASS FOR HAY OR PASTURE

Sudan Grass is an annual crop which may be used either for hay or pastures. In emergencies, such as when seedlings of perennial hay crops fall, this grass may be found useful to supply necessary feed.

HEALTH RESPONSIBILITY

Cancer is a curable disease if it is properly treated early. The public hear much about cancer deaths, but rarely of cancer cures. Nevertheless, it is a fact, which should be widely spread that there are thousands of persons alive now and well who are free from the cancer which attacked them, thanks to the proper treatment they received early in this disease.

THE WEEK IN OTTAWA

(By Frederick Edwards) Ottawa, April 10.—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett is on his feet again. It is probably only a matter of days...

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Ottawa, April 9, 1935. The Editor, The Record, Jarvis, Ontario. Dear Sir, It has come to my knowledge that criticism has been leveled at the Federal Administration because of the statement which is being circulated that an embargo exists against the export of hay to the United States.

WINTER INJURY OF CLOVERS AND ALFALFA

(Experimental Farm Note) At present the two most important diseases of alfalfa, namely clover sweet clover rot and sclerotinia root-rot, are being reported to Saskatchewan and Alberta, while the latter occurs in every province. However, several new diseases have recently been discovered, and some of them at least may be important.
