BASEBALL

BASEBALL STILL UNCERTAIN LOCALLY

Baseball still remains a trifle uncertain in the intermediate ranks. Although there appears to be sufficient material for a nine man team, it appears to be the sort of material that is not entirely dependable. Therefore it is very difficult to obtain the services of a capable and competent manager under such circumstances. At the present time the pitching staff is the big worry, with the outlook very dark with respect new material for this duty, it would appear that we would again have to revert to the old reliables and the old reliables are not what they used to be. Partly because they have reached that stage where other and more important endeavors of life have seized them and who can blame them for that?

The financing of the club is possibly not realized by some, but it requires money to operate a baseball team successfully and the only source of revenue of a ball club is from the gate receipts and if we cannot gather together a team that will bring the people in past that gate, we are very foolish to place a team in the field. The juvenile entry have the spirit of the game in fresh and blood and have taken advantage of every opportunity to practice to date and with that spirit should have little trouble in making the team go places.

In another article in this paper we read of the success of the Toronto Baseball Club. Manager Ike Boone, has developed a kid infield that is upsetting the experts. The entire infield average around 21 years and thus far they have played miraculous ball.

We have somewhat of the same setting right here at home but it is hardly probable that we will realize the results of Ike Boone and the Toronto Baseball Club.

THE TORONTO BASEBALL CLUB

Boone's Kid Infield Startles International League Experts. First Night Ba'l Game Slated for Fleet St. Stadium Wednesday, June 27th. Earl Cook Makes Brilliant Comeback After One Season With Beckley Club.

Baseball Critics are about ready to award Isaac Morgan Boone, popular manager of the Toronto Baseball Club the "Miracle Man" title. The genial "Alabama Ike" brought along the Toronto Leafs of last season and won the play-off series for the right to represent the International League in the Little World's Series with Columbus of the American Association. And now, in the first weeks of a new season, Boone is upsetting the experts with a kid infield that has played sensational ball in their first swing around the circuit. Frank McCormick on first base, Calvin Chapman at second, Eddie Miller at short-stop and Lee Handley on third average around 21 years of age. In fact Miller is the baby of the foursome, having just celebrated his eighteenth birthday. Defensively this "kid" foursome have shown to great advantage and their hitting has been timely and very effective.

To balance the youth of the infield Boone has gathered two outfielders of experience to assist him in the pasture duties. Tom Oliver has all the speed of Bill Lawrence in centre field and makes an ideal lead-off man due to his ability to get base hits when needed. Wesley Schulmerich provided the power on the attack and plays left-field in a true big league manner. Oliver was secured from Baltimore in a winter trade for Pitcher Blake and in comparing the work of these two athletes so far this season, Toronto seems to have had much the better of the deal. Larry MacPhail, general manager of the Cincinnati Club, and also second vice-president of the Maple Leafs, optioned Schulmerich to the Leafs and in so doing, gave the club much more offensive power in the outfield. Of course your old friend Ike Boone is back in right field and hitting the ball harder than ever. In recent road games Boone has led the way for his youngsters with timely slugging. Last season the Toronto Manager led the International League with the impressive average of .372 and was voted the most valuable player award by League officials and critics.

General Manager Arthur Leman has announced the first floodlight baseball game of the season at the Maple Leaf Stadium has been scheduled for Wednesday evening, June 26th with the Rochester Red Wings as opposition. The second night game will be the following Tuesday on the evening of July 2nd with Buffalo Bisons.

Earl Cook, native of Lemonville, Ontario, is destined to make the grade as a pitching member of the Toronto Baseball Club this season. After a season with the Beckley Club in West Virginia, where he was sent on option by the Leafs. Cook has come back and his first appearance in Albany was a high-class performance throughout. Cook held the Senators to seven scattered hits, striking out two and walking three to win his game by the comfortable margin of 7-2. Manager Boone has great plans for Cook this season.

Official list of home games for the Toronto Baseball Club during the month of May follows — Opening day ceremonies at 2.30 o'clock with game starting at 3 P.M. All games in May will start at 3 o'clock with first game of scheduled double-headers at 2 P.M.

Two table-top pictures. At left, is a tiny cork-and-paper ship given a "Flying Dutchman" aspect by placing it on a pane of glass and shooting from underneath. Above, a circus scene made with familiar dolls and toys.

ONE of the most interesting of camera stunts is the making of "table-top" pictures. As the term indicates, you assemble your picture material on some convenient table or bench, and shoot it from any desired angle.

"Table-top" pictures are, usually, very much like model stage settings. You may use dolls, toys, statuettes, model airplanes, miniature trains, boats—anything at all that appeals to you. The point of the whole thing is to arrange your subjects in an interesting, realistic, or fantastic fashion, and to light this arrangement so that it makes a good picture.

Usually, these pictures are taken at close range. If your camera cannot be focused for close-ups, use a portrait attachment—a simple, inexpensive, and highly useful little gadget.

There's no limit to the effects you can achieve. And there's nothing much more fascinating than working them out. Here are some pointers that may save you time and trouble:

Remember that the only point of view that matters is the point of view of your camera's lens. Your set-up may appear charming from above or from the side. But don't let it mislead you. The camera must be pleased.

Working at close range, the depth of focus of your lens is not likely to be great. So keep the elements within as short a distance, front to back, as possible. And the most important feature should be at the point of exact focus.

If you want to give an effect of deep distance, as in a miniature landscape set-up, place various figures (trees, houses, fences, etc.) in receding planes. The focus will become less exact as the distance from the camera increases. A piece of dark cardboard, cut with an irregular edge, laid across the back of the set, will become a range of distant hills. And a big piece of light cardboard, set up well back of the rest of the set-up, gives you a good "sky".

Remember that the camera's outlook is wedge-shaped—narrow close to the lens and widening out as it goes into the distance.

The greatest fun in this work is playing with light. Sometimes a single strong flood of light will give you what you want. Again, you may want one figure to stand out brilliantly, with everything else subdued. To do this, you will have to block off most of the light with shirt cardboards, books, or whatever you need.

You'll get your best effects by working with the lens at its smallest opening. Allow plenty of time anywhere from ten seconds to a minute or two, depending on the amount of light.

Too, don't forget that most films register blue as white, and red as black or dark gray. A white figure against a blue background will tend to be lost; similarly, a red figure will not stand out against a dark background.

It's fascinating business, all in all, and will repay you well for your patience and ingenuity.

JOHN VAN GUILDER.
