THE JARVIS RECORD

THIS WEEK ON PARLIAMENT HILL

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—Financial worries are likely to provide a good many of the headlines which every government suffers and that which has recently been swept into power in Canada is no exception. Already it is apparent that the King government faces a peculiar financial problem.

When the conference of provincial premiers is held, probably at the end of this month, there is likely to be a concerted effort by provincial authorities to gain increased concessions from the Federal treasury. It is a natural action for the provinces to take, practically all of them are suffering from depleted funds and some are on the verge of bankruptcy.

Eight of the provinces have Liberal governments, the number of which last valuable aid to the Federal organization in the general election. Mr. King is well aware of the part that the provincial leaders play in the campaign and he is highly appreciative of it, but to what extent he will allow them increased subsidies is debatable.

Premier William Aberhart of the Social Credit Alberta is in an unusual position. Not only will he be the only non-Liberal premier at the conference but he faces the most serious financial situation at home. He needs $16,000,000 to carry his province until March and in the meantime the Albertans who supported him are confidently awaiting the $25,000,000 which he promised every adult in the province. It will likely be over a year before his scheme can be made operative.

Legislation to prohibit the export of arms to Italy and to block the extension of financial aid to Mussolini was generally anticipated. The cabinet will shortly, however, face the more difficult problem of nickel. Should the League of Nations call for action to stop the export of certain key products to Italy then Canada will have to decide about nickel of which she has practically a monopoly.

One fact remains certain, unless co-operation of the United States is secured any action which Canada might take would be useless. During last year the U.S. bought from Canada nickel to the extent of $12,000,000. Italy in September alone bought $24,000,000 worth of nickel and there is little doubt that much of the nickel exported originally to the United States eventually reached Italy.

CANADIAN FACTORY CHEESE

According to "The Agricultural Situation and Outlook" published by the Dominion Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the Department of Trade and Commerce, factory cheese production in Canada continues to decline. From calculations based on the volume of cheese graded, which represents approximately 82 per cent of total output, it was estimated that the make will be about $8 million pounds in 1934 as compared with 111,644,628 pounds in 1933. Cheese production in Ontario and Quebec represents approximately 96 per cent of the total output for Canada and it is expected that production in these provinces will be considerably below that of 1933. In Quebec there is a tendency to shift from cheese to butter manufacture. The relatively higher price for butter in comparison with cheese is one of the causes of this change taking place.

Reports from the Western provinces would indicate that production was maintained in 1934 but the volume is very small. The low prices prevailing in the United Kingdom market, to which the bulk of the cheese is exported, and the more favourable prices for other dairy products on the domestic market, have been contributing factors affecting the trend of production in Canada.

Storage stocks of cheese in Canada up to last July were higher at the beginning of each month in 1934 than in 1933. The lack of demand from the United Kingdom was conspicuous until very late in the fall. The improvement in exports to the United Kingdom during October and November was such that storage stocks of cheese, as at December 31, 1934, were about one per cent above those for the same date in 1933. Cheese consumption in Canada is low in comparison with that of other countries and in 1933 was estimated at 3.3 lbs. per capita compared with 3.35 lbs. in 1932.

Coming Legislation

The new King government has made its first approach to the financial market with a $75,000,000 bond issue. The money will be used primarily to cover government expenses between now and the end of the year. While there are no maturities falling due in that period there are still a number of obligations to meet on current and contingent accounts.

Speculation on legislation which the King government will place before the House at the first session is naturally one of the popular topics of Ottawa conversation and thought. While no campaign mention was made it is accepted that Mr. King will abolish the practice of Canadians receiving titles. At the last session he had prepared such a motion but he dropped it to allow for discussion of important reform measures then before the house.

Expectations that the Liberal cabinet would submit Conservative reform legislation to the supreme court to determine its validity have been fulfilled. Department of Justice officials are now busily engaged in drafting carefully prepared questions which the supreme court of Canada will be asked to answer. The fall session of the court has ended unless a special session is called the knotty problems will not be considered before February.

What action Mr. King will take toward Alberta and Nova Scotia, at present without cabinet representation, is one of the topics of discussion over Ottawa dinner tables. Opinion here favors J. W. McKinnon, who in Edmonton west carried the lone Alberta seat for the Liberals, being appointed to the premier's secretarial positions which premier King plans to create. Similar action is likely to be taken with Peter Sinclair, Prince Edward Island member. It is likely that the youthful Martin's representative, son of Hon. John Sinclair, will be made under-secretary of the Department of Fisheries.

In the Provinces

Preliminary to deciding on a wheat policy, a move which the Liberal cabinet must make in the near future, a cabinet committee has been named to control the wheat

J. N. Howard Honoured Upon Retirement From Insurance Co.

Appointed Director of Walpole Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company in 1899 and Has Served in that Capacity Since

The Directors, Officers, Agents and wives of the Walpole Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Howard at Springside last Thursday evening to honor Mr. J. N. Howard who is retiring after thirty-six years as a Director of the Company. Mr. Howard was presented with an armchair by his associates.

The following address was read by Mr. G. L. Miller, Sec.-Treas. of the Company and the presentation was made by Mr. J. W. Roulston, a fellow director:

To John Nelson Howard,
Dear Mr. Howard:

We, the officers, directors and Agents of the Walpole Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, deeply regretting the severance of the business connection that has bound us together for so many years, feel that we cannot allow the occasion to pass without expressing to you in some small way our very deep appreciation of your valuable services to our Company.

We are therefore gathered here tonight, accompanied by our wives, to tender to you and your family, as a token of our appreciation, a letter which all that one citizen can offer to another, "appreciation."

On the 19th day of January, A.D. 1899, at the annual General Meeting of the Company, it was moved by James B. Wilson and seconded by David J. Lindsay, that J. N. Howard be elected a Director of the Company to fill the unexpired term of John Craddock now resigned.

Since this time, thirty-six years ago, much has happened. We have had years of adversity and have had our corresponding years of prosperity, and we are proud to

A.Y.P.A. Notes

The A.Y.P.A. held its regular weekly meeting Monday evening, and even the rain storm failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the members, because a large number were present. After the devotional period followed by a brief business session, Mrs. Keifer gave a very interesting account of the Provincial A.Y.P.A. Conference held recently at Windsor. In her report Mrs. Keifer gave a brief summary of the various sessions, together with the main points stressed by the various speakers. It was a splendid conference, and the six hundred delegates present from all parts of the Province received a great deal of inspiration.

Mr. Robert Lynch then introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Arthur Bright. Mr. Bright took as his subject "The Great War and it's Effect Upon Youth". He dealt not only with the physical effects but more particularly with the psychological effects.

Those present thoroughly enjoyed the address, which was appropriate for Armistice Day. The hope was expressed by all that Mr. Bright would address the A.Y.P.A. again.

Loaded Trailer Takes Ditch

A trailer belonging to the Leonard Transport of Hamilton and carrying eight tons of canned goods became unhooked from the truck and ended up in the ditch in front of the home of Mr. Stanley Douglas last night. The ditch at this point is not very deep and it is not believed that the truck was travelling at a fast rate of speed, as the majority of the cases were in a good condition although sufficient cans were strewn about to stock any grocers shelves. The truck had loaded at Almyer and was on its way to Hamilton. The hook up was thought to have been defective and worked its way loose. Another truck belonging to the same company came along shortly after and the load was soon transferred and taken on to Hamilton.

Because he admired the ornament, one Manabettus tribesman pierced his lips with an ivory pin.

Impressive Service Held at Centopath

Remembrance Day was fittingly commemorated at the local Centopath on Monday when a very impressive service was conducted by J. J. Parsons, Clerk of the Township of Walpole and the Clergy of the Village.

Disagreeable weather was largely responsible for the small crowd in attendance. Heads were bowed in fervent silence as memories of the past and loved ones were once again renewed to greater reverence. Rev. M. Brett, of St. Paul's Anglican Church led in prayer and Rev. W. J. Holley, of Wesley United Church spoke very impressively, and proclaimed that our only salvation for greater world peace lies in the expansion of the Kingdom of Jesus Christ. During the ceremony a wreath was placed on the Centopath by Mrs. John Church, who gave a son in that great conflict that was believed to be a war to end war.

Observance of Remembrance Day this year seems more pronounced than in the past. The war clouds hovering over Europe at the present time appears to have stimulated a desire in the hearts of mankind to preserve peace more than ever. Let us hope that remembrance day may be maintained with everyone throughout the years that we may have a full realization of the tragedies of another conflict and thus promote more friendly relations with one another and with nation to nation.

Junior Banquet Big Success

"Bad results of Good Habits" was the subject on which Professor George P. Gilmour of McMaster University spoke to those gathered at the annual banquet of the Haldimand County Juniors held in the Parish Hall, Hagersville, on Friday evening last, November 8th. Professor Gilmour inspired his audience to create good habits and make these habits become slaves instead of masters. As examples he cited the case of those good habits "Telling yourself seriously," "Functious," "Work" and "Exercise," all of which when put to proper use can be of immense assistance to anyone but it allowed to become master, can be a great hindrance.

Mr. Wm. Creighton, Caladonia, President of the Junior Farmers' Association, presided over the gathering and associated with him were Miss Faith Birk, Fisherville, President of the County Junior Institute; Miss Ruth McConchie, Caladonia, accompanied by Mr. Douglas Scott, Caladonia.

Prizes for club work and judging competition were also awarded and the president called on the Agricultural Representative, A. Gordon Skinner, to take charge of this part of the programme. The Lalor Cup was presented by Prof. Gilmour to Gordon Routledge, winner for 1933. The Jugue Cup to the contestant standing second highest in the Judging Competition was presented by Mr. Wm. Creighton to Mr. Arthur Harvey, who has won this cup twice in succession. Mr. M. C. Wigle, presented the Royal Bank Cup for judging seed to Lewis Hussack, and Mr. Downey, presented the Canadian Bank of Commerce trophy for judging Horses to Harold Bacher. The J. Kohler Cup for judging Beef Cattle was presented by Mr. F. Laird law to Wm. Creighton and the Imperial Bank Cup for judging sheep was presented by Mrs. J. W. Richardson to Wm. R. Smith. Mr. Richardson also presented the prizes in the two Calf Clubs. Mr. Arthur Harvey, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the County Council presented the prizes to the winners of the judging competition was presented by Miss F. Birk to Bruce Whaley.

The banquet was catered to by the Hagersville Women's Institute in a most capable and satisfactory manner. The tables were beautifully decorated and each person present received a marigold as a favor. With abundance to eat and some rousing community singing the evening was rounded out and made complete.

Silence is golden. No man is a fool who has as much as he keeps his mouth shut.
