a desire for a change. Liberals pointed out continually that the C C.F. with only 118 candidates in the field could not possibly secure control of the House and the Stevens party was not generally regarded as a serious contender for power, except by a minority control. It naturally follows that a vote for either of those parties, while a vote of protest, was not a vote for a change of government.

The Conservative party's defeat marks practically the end of Mr. Bennett's political career, it is office of opposition leader for at least two years, can hardly be expected to lead his party in another general election five years hence.

The Government Collects Of the 892 candidates whose names appeared on ballots 342 or over one-third forfeited their $200, deposits, enriching the federal treasury by $668,400. Financial problems and reform legislation passed by the Bennett government will be the main topics of discussion at the Premier's meeting. Leading Liberals here hold the opinion that constitutional difficulties block several of the statutes introduced by the Conservative government.

Among the measures which are regarded as invalid is the Employment Insurance Act. It is likely that a ruling on this point will be sought from the Supreme Court before an outsider is given an opportunity of making a test case.

Sir Lyman Duff, will promptly go to Quebec to officially receive the new Governor-General, Lord Tweedsmuir. The switch in the government resulted in a hurried change in the plans of the new vice-regal official who was to have sailed from England on October 19. His departure has been extended to October 25 arriving in Quebec on November 2 where the will be sworn in and then proceed directly here.

If working within three or four feet from your subject the hand will appear abnormally large. Better have the hands in the camera to give good perspective but her feet were perhaps thirty-six.

WHAT would your girl friend or wife say if you made your appearance with her picture after the Sunday outing, showing her with enormous feet such as those in the picture to the left?

War would probably be declared when you made the familiar statement, "Well, dear, the camera never lies." But the truth is that the camera didn't lie for it caught just what

True, this is a much exaggerated example of bad perspective, but in making portraits, or indeed, "close-ups" of any object, we should be careful to see that no part of the subject is very much nearer the camera than the rest.
