LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Editor:

In passing along the highway in the vicinity of your Village, we noticed many beautiful clumps of clover. In one case, judging from their appearance, the trees seemed to be affected by that dreaded orange blister rust which is playing such havoc with the pine forests of the Ottawa Valley. When the limbs began to show a rusty red rust, look closely and you will see bright orange blisters breaking through the bark about this time of the year. These around the smaller limbs and soon follow them to the trunk and in time the very largest trees of the forest succumb to this dreaded disease.

Group Sheds a Tear as Police Dump Beer

Hundreds of gallons of spirits were unceremoniously dumped down the drain, as spectators helplessly looked on with moist eyes and dry throats, at the Ottawa police station yesterday. Detective-Sergeant Norman McGee and Court Interpreter William Igel were cleaning up on the private stock of liquor seized by the police in raids during the past year.

FARMERS MONSTER DELEGATION TO OTTAWA

Consideration of Canadian Delegation at Empire Conference—Farmers Intend to Impress Government with this Fact—Large Delegation Going to Ottawa Saturday, July 16th, to Speak for Themselves.

There is much talk about the Empire Economic Conference which is to convene at Ottawa on July 21. However, being an event of great international importance it is worthy of our best thought and our most thorough discussion. It is quite a good thing to have talk and plenty of it. And it is going to take more than talk—more than a flood of letters with long sounding phrases more than lofty language and empty platitudes—to make a success of this conference.

Our government, possibly the cabinet alone, will be sitting in the conference. Even the press we hear will be excluded. On the members of our dominion cabinet, there must be a great responsibility. They must have facts; they must have definite constructive policy; they must have the interests of all the people at heart and they must also fully realize what interests stand first consideration from the standpoint of national welfare. Do they know this, we wonder.

Canada is an agricultural country. It has always been, and will be for years to come. To often our politicians and the policies which they have formulated have completely overlooked this fact. Prior to every election, candidates seeking the favor of the electors in telling farm audiences that agriculture is the backbone of the country, and that unless agriculture is properly cared for the nation cannot prosper. It gets votes and apparently that is all it is intended to do for the voters.

These very candidates, once they find themselves in cabinet positions, get about their "backbone" speeches and deliberately draft, support and enact legislation which is designed to encourage and develop secondary industries at the expense of agriculture.

LIVING

To think and value is to live, but the necessity to inflict our thoughts seem far smaller than the great imagination. Silence may be golden, even when you know; when you do not, it is above rubies.—Eden Philpotts.

VACATION HINTS

Life is made up of periods of work, cannot judge the safety of water by rest and recreation. The summer vacation should provide recreation. An ideal vacation is one in which the body is free from the strain of the work week, and the mind is free from the strain of the work week.

The vacation is good but it is to be taken in moderation. Beginning with small doses. Sunbath is a boon and so it is well worth while to consider the safety of the vacation along with the other points.

Each summer a number of deaths from drowning occur. Most of these would have been avoided by paying attention to a few safeguards. Never try to swim in a place where you do not know the depths and the current. Stay out of the water for two hours after meals.

One of the most recent uses of color in the automobile industry is in the field of designing, where experiments are determining the effect of putting a paint finish over the radiator shell. It has been found that in certain types of body design, the long streamlined effect is accentuated when the body color is continued to the very front instead of being interrupted by nickel finish. This is not being widely adopted for production jobs, but designers have produced some interesting combinations.

CANADA BUYS ONLY FOURTH OF IMPORTS FROM EMPIRE

Sells Much More to British Countries Than She Takes, Figures Show—Foreign Goods Up.

Ottawa, June 9.—Canada in the month of April imported more than three times the merchandise from foreign countries than she purchased from British Empire countries, according to a report issued to-day by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Imports from foreign countries were valued at $23,440,562, and from British countries $6,653,754.

The summary shows that Canadian imports in April from foreign countries were 78.34 per cent of the whole, and from British countries 21.66 per cent. The percentage of purchases from foreign countries was considerably higher than the average for the past twelve months which was 74.34 per cent.

in the exchange of goods Canada had the better of it in dealing with British countries than with foreign countries. This feature of the exchange of goods was brought about largely by the trend of the trade with the United States. Canadian purchases of United States merchandise were 66.36 per cent of the total imports whereas the export of Canadian merchandise to that country was only 45.0 of the whole.

AN IDEAL HOLIDAY SUGGESTION WHERE TO SPEND THE ANNUAL VACATION THIS YEAR

Experimental Farm Note
Most of the hardy roses that flower in June only bloom once, therefore they should not be planted in a formal rose garden. They are perhaps better classed as flowering shrubs than as roses. As these roses can be left undisturbed for years the ground should be well and deeply dug and well rotted manure mixed with the soil before planting. The plants can be put in either in spring or fall and if they are on their own roots they will spread by suckers and make fine clumps in a few years. They need very little care, except weeding, and are not susceptible to disease or insect pests. The varieties mentioned here are hardy at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa without protection.

Harriette's Yellow is the well-known rose so often seen in old gardens. Seedlings of this originated at the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, have proved equally hardy. Ottawa has one of the best and has cream-colored flowers. Scotch roses have dainty flowers and make very attractive bushes. One that blooms all summer is Stanwell's Perpetual. Two varieties originate at the Experimental Farm which belong to this class have been named Huron and Iroquois.

Betty Pink, which has reddish bark and pink flowers and very few thorns, is a seedling originated by Mr. Skinner, Morden, Manitoba. Rugosa hybrids are very useful roses for Canadian conditions. The species rubra and alba are beautiful in flower and in fruit. Many of the hybrids do not set seed, but have finer flowers than in the species. Agnes and Grace, two varieties originated by the late Mr. H. H. Saunders, have water-colored flowers. F. J. Groendendor is a perpetual bloomer. It winter-kills a little at Ottawa but blooms on new growth. It is hardy and here is a pink form. The Har-Bleu Double de Coubert and Souvenir de Philadelphie, Cochet are white and have a long blooming season.

POPULAR MARRIAGE AGE 21 FOR GIRLS, 24 FOR MEN

The popular age for an Ontario girl to marry is 21 and for men 24. So much can be gathered from this report of the registrar-general, who lets us know that girls of 18 run a close second, with 19 and 20 not far behind. From these ages up to 40 the choice of ages seems to be pretty much the same. Among men from 21 to 24 are the ages which they are most likely to tie up.

The most common age of parenthood is 24 for the mothers, with 23 and 25 the next ages most reported. Fathers of 30 are the commonest.

Men go on marrying long after women have stopped. Between the ages of 50 and 80, women figures to a much less extent than the men. Women apparently find a single life after 45 easier to bear than men.

It has been stated that people now marry later in life than formerly and that women in many cases prefer to have single careers. However, the race seems to run along in about the same old way.—Orillia News Letter.

SNAKE FIVE FEET, ONE INCH LONG DISCOVERED DEAD IN FEED BARN

A large snake was found dead in the feed barn, operated by Webb and Mitchell, last Monday. Marks behind its head showed that a blow from some source had been the cause of its death. Several endeavors to name the species, some called it a black water snake, while others called it a Bullhead blacksnake.
