ty and Hart House; the courtesy and hospitality shown us at the Royal York; the hurdle jumping and the musical drill at the horse show; and the thrill I experienced when the man was shot out of the cannon—boy! that was queer! Well a thousand words are too few to express all one's enjoyment and appreciation, and all the ideals set up, and all the ambitions aroused, and all the lessons learned, and one has to quit, tired but happy, as was the case every night of our stay in Toronto.

MORE BEAUTIFUL CANADA. If you are tired of the old and unimproved or unplanted soil, you can make more beautiful gardens, lawns, and flower beds. The old saying that a house is not a home until it is planted is well emphasized by the necessity of having attractive home surroundings. We will have them no matter how busy we will be. Our nearest Experimental Farm or Agricultural College will gladly give you information regarding suitable varieties for your district. The cost in any event need be only trifling and the amount spent on the nursery stock investment that possibly can be made. It will pay great dividends in satisfaction and will increase the value of the home. Your individual efforts in making your home surroundings will improve your street. If your street is improved, your city or town will be improved, and if your city or town or township is made more beautiful, you have helped to make a more beautiful Canada.

Jack Frost—King of Architects. Jack Frost, nature's greatest architect, completed yet another wonderful job, at Hamilton, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, through the Rocky Mountains. This winter, when he designed and built the columns of the ice-castle of the Carnival Queen. As is easily seen by the picture, the two great pillars are the outstanding features of the place. They were built by putting into play, one month before the opening of the great event, two vertical streams of water. Then, more men got busy and built the connecting wall of gleaming translucent-ice-blocks between the two pillars, and set in front of it the great throne of ice, from which the ceremonies of the Carnival were conducted, in the presence of thousands of spectators from all parts of Canada and the United States.

Present conditions afford a splendid opportunity for a much more extensive seeding down of legume crops for hay, for pasture, and as a green manure crop to be plowed down.

Thousands of motorists have experienced the sensation of having their cars run better at night than during the day and have wondered accordingly if the car really operated better or if it was only a hallucination. This question was put recently to Oldsmobile engineers and they answered: "No, the car really runs better at night if it is a fact and they explain the reasons why this is so."
