WHEN DO HALF HOLIDAYS START?

The observance of the usual half holiday during the summer months by the merchants of Jarvis, does not seem to be materializing very rapidly. All of the neighboring towns and villages have reached satisfactory decisions in this regard and it is time that Jarvis did likewise.

Many of the pupils were making their first appearance but all acquitted themselves splendidly. The exercises given by dainty little beginners were received with considerable applause and pleasure by the audience. So also did the work done by the more advanced pupils and the attention maintained throughout the long programme was a tribute to its excellence. Those who fear that piano music is disappearing from our homes, would have had their fears very pleasantly dispelled had they been present to hear those thirty odd pupils render the work of our great composers so ably and intelligently. Miss MacMurdy is indeed to be congratulated on the splendid work she is doing. A word of praise is also due to the parents who so eagerly take this opportunity of cultivating in their children a love for this highest of all arts.

Other items on the programme were a solo by Eugene Hoover and readings by Miss Walters, who never fails to please her audience.

An important feature of the evening was the presentation of certificates by Rev. P. Deeth to Alma and Jack Bailey and Delmar Fayat. Immediately following this, Bruce Harrop and Clara Dellar, on behalf of Jarvis pupils, presented Miss MacMurdy with a basket of beautiful roses, while Billy McCracken and Doreen Laidlaw, on behalf of the Hagersville pupils, presented her with a silver sugar and cream set and six salad forks.

Mr. Deeth in his address, expressed a few choice phrases, expressed to the community in having one so who introduced the young people to the "Divine Art of Harmony."

Miss MacMurdy, who was completely taken by surprise, made a suitable reply.

Judging by the applause accompanying these presentations, Miss MacMurdy can feel assured that she has the appreciation and hearty co-operation of parents and friends in this work to which she is so devoted.

We wish teacher and pupils continue success.

Disseas Not Placarded Are Still to be Recorded

Even though amendments to the health act early this year dispenses with the obligation of placarding homes where certain types of communicable diseases exist, they do not obviate patients from reporting the diseases, an official of the local health department pointed out this morning.

The diseases for which posting of placards is now unnecessary are mumps, chickenpox and German measles. Where any such cases occur, it is the duty of parents to report them in the usual way, it was stated.

The W. M. S. of Knox Presbyterian Church, Jarvis, will hold a picnic and baking sale at the Manse on Saturday afternoon, May 14th, commencing at three o'clock. Every body welcome.

Watch our window for full particulars on how to get a conglomerate rug absolutely free.

JOHN BROWN, N.G.

One of the clerks at the employment agency was considered a bit of a wit.

"Where were you born?" he asked of the Scotsman.

"Glasgow!"

"Glasgow! Whatver?"

"I wanted to be near my mother."

PIANO RECITAL LARGELY ATTENDED

An event of considerable importance to the community took place last Friday, May 26th, when a Recital was given in the auditorium of Jarvis United Church, by the pupils of Miss MacMurdy.

Parents and friends from Jarvis, Hagersville and surrounding district came to enjoy and appreciate this musical event.

Many of the pupils were making their first appearance but all acquitted themselves splendidly. The exercises given by dainty little beginners were received with considerable applause and pleasure by the audience. So also did the work done by the more advanced pupils and the attention maintained throughout the long programme was a tribute to its excellence.
