II. THE CHALLENGING CALL, Mark 8: 31-38.

Next year was the fiftieth of her reign, and in June the splendid anniversary was celebrated in solemn pomp. Victoria, surrounded by the highest dignitaries of her realm, escorted by a glittering galaxy of kings and princes, drove through the crowded enthusiasm of the capital to render thanks to God in Westminster Abbey. In that triumphant hour the last remaining traces of pest antipathled and past disagreements were altogither swept away. The Queen was failed at once as the mother of her people and as the embodied symbol of their imperial greatness; and she responded assurance, to the enjoyment of an escape country settled down, with calm assurance, to the enjoyment of an escape country settled down, with calm assurance, to the enjoyment of an escape country settled down assurance, to the enjoyment of an escape country settled down.
